

LOADED FREIGHT CARS SMASHED TO PIECES

A Cleveland and Pittsburg Train Wrecked at the Foot of Market Street Sunday Morning
and Much Damage Done.

POTTERS' SUPPLY WORKS HAD A CLOSE CALL

One of the worst freight wrecks in the history of this city occurred yesterday morning at 7 o'clock on the C. & P. road between the C. & P. depot and the foot of Washington street.

Extra freight No. 99, west bound, in charge of Conductor Willis Jordan, of Wellsville, from the Conway yards, was pulling through the city at rapid rate. The train consisted of 85 loaded cars, nearly all coke loads, but a few loaded oil and lumber cars. The coke was bound for the National Steel company at Mingo.

Just below the passenger depot a spectator who was sitting at that point noticed a broken axle on one of the coke cars, and soon the cars began leaving the tracks and piling up in shapeless masses between Union and Market streets, which by the way, affords a very narrow passage. When the cars began leaving the track, the rails spread, and 16 cars altogether were piled in the wreckage that followed.

One of the cars of the train crashed into the south end building of the Potters' Supply plant, completely demolishing the corner of the building and scattered and piled up coke in a conglomeration mass. Just opposite, where John Rinehart recently had his livery quarters, five cars are smashed to splinters and the contents of coke scattered, trucks broken, a jammed mass of wreckage having no semblance hardly of having been loaded freight cars.

Four more cars lie careened, broken and off the tracks from the Potters' Supply company to Market street, but a number of these, whose trucks, however, were all right, were gotten on the tracks again.

At this point one of the cars crashed into the home of Thomas Abrams, who resides on the north corner at the foot of Market street. Mr. Abrams says he was soundly sleeping when the crash came and his bedroom is immediately abutting the tracks. He sprang from his bed and got out of his home in short order, witnessing also the piling up of the wreckage. It is indeed fortunate that piling up of the cars did not take place at this point, or the loss of life would have been recorded, for many families live along the tracks in this vicinity, all of whom were badly frightened and awakened by the wreck and a number of whom witnessed the piling up of the cars in a confused mass. Below Market street but one car left the track. It was badly wrecked and lost its rear trucks. It was gotten on the track again by the wrecking crew.

Engineer Thomas Croft, of Wellsville, and Fireman W. H. Marshall, who were hauling the train with one of the big moguls, No. 634, of the C. & P., says he was hauling 80 loads all told. When near the foot of Union street he felt the train jerk and immediately whistled for brakes. He says he hauled eight cars out safely ahead of the wrecked ones and took them to Wellsville. The front brakeman, J. F. Roof, riding on the third car back of the engine, jumped and escaped injury. The rest of the crew were all on the rear of the train and in the caboose, No. 619, and all escaped with only a little shaking up by the sudden stopping of the rapidly moving train.

Engineer Croft and Conductor Jordan immediately pulled on to Wellsville, and at 8 o'clock the Wellsville wreck train was on the scene with a large force, and all set on hands in this immediate vicinity were ordered out for track repairs. The tracks are twisted and roadbed away for some distance.

On the arrival of the wreck train and train dispatcher, a portable telegraph service was established at the foot of Market street, the dispatcher directing the movements of trains and making his reports from this point. The Conway wreck train also came to the scene at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

After communications were established, some 50 of the uninjured cars of the train were hauled off the main track and sidetracked near the C. C. Thompson pottery allowing the Conway wreck train to work on the north end of the wreckage.

Wreck Master Aten, of Wellsville, took charge of the wreck crews, and sent also for the Alliance wreck train, making three wreck trains brought here, Conway, Wellsville and Alliance.

Both the Conway and Alliance trains carried big steam cranes, and they lifted out the big mass of wreckage to the side of the tracks on Market and Washington streets. A large force of laborers were employed in clearing away the coke. The mass of cars and coke lay near the Potters' Supply company to the height of fully 10 or 12 feet, and this required a great deal of labor to clear away the debris.

Passenger train No. 361, west bound, Sunday morning, was stopped here and passengers transferred to another train made up at Wellsville and brought to the foot of Market street. A transfer was also made on train No. 364, east bound.

The tracks were cleared by 6 o'clock last night, and the evening passenger trains passed through. It will require all day today to clear away the debris. An intoxicated tourist occupied one of the box cars on the pottery siding that were side swiped, but fortunately got out before the cars began to pile up.

The loss will aggregate fully $15,000, and the damage to pottery and other buildings $500.

But for the timely placing of three cars on the Potters' Supply company's siding by the 693 shifting crew of this city, the damage to the pottery building would have been much greater, as these cars warded off the overturned cars until they reached the lower end of the building.

The wreck crews worked all night last night to finish clearing away the debris.

Sale of Lodge Property.

Lisbon, July 7. — (Special) — Susanna Lodge, as administratrix of M. O. Lodge, late of Leetonia, has sold lot No. 295 in Leetonia to S. R. McCready for $14,200; lot 543 to Alexander McKelvie for $40 and lot 937 to Margaret Hennessey Sr. for $10.

AN INCENDIARY FIRES TIN MILL

Blaze at Lisbon Thought to Be Result of Revenge or Spite Work.

NO FIRE IN THE PLANT

For Some Days, Yet Two Serious
Blazes Started on the Inside on Saturday—Damage to Amount of
$1,700 Was Done.

Lisbon, July 7. — (Special) — What might have been a most destructive fire occurred Saturday evening at the Beaver plant of the American Tin Plate company here. The first alarm was sent in at 7:40 and before department No. 1 arrived the inside of the machine shop was burning fiercely in two places. The shop was almost a total wreck before the blaze was extinguished.

The firemen had started to leave when it was discovered that the grease house was on fire and they were sent back and company No. 2 called out.

Master Mechanic Wesley McCord estimates the damage to the building at about $700, and that to the machinery at $1,000. The loss is covered by insurance. If either of these fires had been left alone for a few minutes longer they would have gained great headway and a large part of the mill would probably have been destroyed.

The fact that in an hour's time two fires started on the inside of two separate buildings of a mill which has been shut down for a week and had no fire burning anywhere indicates incendiaryism. The firemen say that when they arrived on the scene the wrenches and nozzles belonging to the mill fire apparatus were missing, and that immediately after their arrival a nozzle was taken from their hose cart. They also missed wrenches and other pieces of apparatus. A wrench and nozzle was found on the opposite side of the mill under a freight car.

During the late liquor agitation here letters threatening the use of dynamite were sent to the mill officials. The origin of the letters was traced at the time, but no arrests were made, as the guilty parties were said to be employees of the mill. It is thought that the persons who wrote the letters set the mill on fire. The matter is being investigated and arrests will probably be made soon.

NEARLY DROWNED

A Boy While Bathing at Walker Sank Twice Before Being Rescued.

A 12-year-old East Liverpool lad, whose companions refuse to divulge his name, on account of the fact that his mother is in ill health, almost lost his life while in swimming at Walker yesterday afternoon. He got out beyond his depth, and sank twice before his companions could reach him.

When brought to shore he had to be rolled on the ground to resuscitate him. His boy companions were badly scared over the incident and therefore keep their names quiet. The mother does not yet know how close her boy came to his death.

ANOTHER ASSAULT ON THE SALOONS

Preached Prohibition Sermons Here.

WILL ORGANIZE A LEAGUE

He Praises the Local Option Laws of Ohio and New York—Says the Eastern Metropolis is Now a Wide-Open
City—His Remedy.

F. A. Victor, of New York, who is national organizer for the Young People's Prohibition League, delivered two talks Sunday in the First United Presbyterian church and First M. E. church, of this city, at 3 p. m. in the former and 8 p. m. in the latter.

Mr. Victor is a young man of sterling qualities and convictions. His talk was listened to by a good audience and was along absolute prohibition lines. Soldiers, sailors, statesmen, educators and legislators each had their reasons why this land of ours was great; soldiers and sailors accorded it to military and naval power; statesmen to civil government; educators to intelligence, and legislators to legislation, but there was a greater reason, found within the bible; righteousness exalted a nation.

Christianity made the nation great. Our forefathers had laid the foundation—the pilgrims at Plymouth Rock, the sturdy Quakers and exiled Catholics elsewhere. But notwithstanding we are a Christian nation, we were slaves of the rum traffic. The press of large cities was under the domination of the liquor element, and he cited instances in proof of his assertion. The minister, who failed to speak from the pulpit against the evils of liquor, certainly stood convicted of neglect of duty.

Referring to efforts at local option legislation in the states of Ohio and New York, the speaker said that only within the past few years had any measures beneficial been enacted, and that legislators would not grant a really desirable law. The license laws, too, had not wiped out the traffic to any satisfactory degree.

He spoke of the municipal reign of Mayor Low, of New York city. Side doors of saloons today were wide open, yet Mayor Low offered no further reason than that he could not control the sale of liquor on Sunday, owing to the many nationalities existing in that city. They were tramping out law and good government. The measures put forth by all classes of temperance workers passed unheeded at Albany.

The ballot box, therefore, was the means by which the Christian citizens could wage the only effective war against the rum traffic by electing men to enact prohibitory laws. A prohibitory law with a man behind it was most dreaded by the liquor fraternity and gave the history of a man elected sheriff in Cumberland county, Maine, who enforced the laws and wiped out 150 open saloons illegally existing.

Citizens, he argued, should vote a Prohibition ticket until sentiment was created and enough force rallied around such a standard to make it effective, since license laws had proven

in his opinion so unavailing. It was the Christian's duty to work, vote and pray for the reign of temperance.

Mr. Victor, while in the city, will try to organize a branch of the Young People's Prohibition League.

An Important Meeting of the Association to Be Held Tonight.

The contracts for the excavating and stone work of the new hospital building have been let and it was expected that work would begin today.

The hospital association will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the Misses Hazlett, of Fifth street. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to be transacted.

NEXT CONVENTION HERE

Rehabites in State Convention Elect Officers For the Ensuing Year.

Delegate John H. Martin, from Liberty tent, Rehabites, to the state tent at McLuney, O., Thursday, reports an enthusiastic session and royal reception. A banquet followed the closing session, and the reports of the state officers were most satisfactory. The following were elected state officers for the ensuing year:

L. G. Dover, Zanesville, P. G. C. R.; George Barringer, Zanesville, G. C. R.; William McPeck, McLuney, G. D. R.; George Paughn, Zanesville, G. Sec. treas.; John H. Martin, East Liverpool, G. levi; Thomas Hall, East Liverpool, G. chaplain; L. G. Dover, Zanesville, representative to high tent.

East Liverpool was chosen as the next place to hold the grand tent session on the second Tuesday in July, 1902.

Mrs. McPeck, of Zanesville, was elected state female lecturer and Mr. White, of the same city, was elected visiting lecturer for primary tents.

WANTED TO KILL HIM

Fleisch, of Sandy Bottom.

Peter Fleisch, a resident of Sandy Bottom, was held up Saturday evening, it is claimed by two Kentuckians. Fleisch was walking along Pennsylvania avenue, in company with John Brannon, and when near the new building being erected on that avenue by Henry Chambers, Fleisch and Brannon were attacked by the two men, who held stones in their hands. This is the story told by Fleisch today.

Fleisch stated these men wanted to kill him, and that Brannon caught one of the Kentuckians by the throat and made him drop the stones. Several officers from the East End fire station were summoned and examined the stones that were dropped by the Kentuckians. It is now thought that several arrests will result.

PROSTRATED BY HEAT

ing Severely From the Warm

A young barber by the name of Gordon employed at Danley's shop, Fourth and Washington streets, was prostrated on Saturday afternoon by the extreme heat and as a result is now at his home in a serious condition.

Wedding at Salineville.

At the home of William Skinner, on Main street, Salineville, Rev. Mr. Rader, of the M. E. church, married Miss Olive Skinner and Harry Eoff, of East Liverpool. The bride is the daughter of William Skinner and wife, of Salineville. The groom is a potter in East Liverpool, where he enjoys a good position. He served through the Cuban and Philippine wars and was regularly discharged last spring. A supper followed the wedding. The young couple left for New Matamoras on their honeymoon. They will reside in East Liverpool.

STREET CARS WILL BE RUN WITHIN THE YEAR

At the meeting of the committees on the Pleasant Heights street car line extension, held on Saturday night in the city hall, it is said that a conclusion was reached that is agreeable to all concerned. However, nothing could be learned of a positive nature from any of the committees this morning. They said that there had been an agreement made to withhold it from the public until it reaches the city

DISEASE CAME FROM CANTON

Chester is stirred up by a smallpox scare today, but there appears to be no great danger of the spread of the disease. Sunday afternoon, Thomas Fitzpatrick, who resides up Middle run some distance outside the Chester corporation, and in a house owned by George Shecker, was reported to have a breaking out on his face.

Dr. Lewis, of Chester, visited the home and says from his first examination he judges it is a case of smallpox. The doctor says Fitzpatrick was exposed to the disease at Canton, two weeks ago before coming to Chester, where he is employed in the mill. The doctor notified Marshal Allison, who went to the home and placed it under quarantine, posting a notice on the house. An irate woman, Mrs. Bressell, tore down the notice while the officer was standing near, and he threatened her with arrest if she persisted in such work, and she went her way. Fitzpatrick, with some boon companions, one named Blair, a Welshman, residing on Carolina avenue, and having a family, and another man, who has left since he heard of Fitzpatrick's plight, were reported to have been in the house sleeping and drinking together for a day and a night.

Marshal Allison appointed 10 deputies and established a strict quarantine. Many of the residents work in the mill and tried to evade the officials, but were overhauled and brought back. Last night George Shecker and a man named Stevens as deputies guarded the quarantined house all night.

A widow named Hart and family occupy the other end of the double house, and they are also under rigid quarantine.

Dr. Beaumont, president of the county board of health of Hancock county, was summoned from New Cumberland today. Dr. Beaumont, accompanied by Dr. Lewis, will make a rigid examination of Fitzpatrick's case today, and should it prove that he has a bad type of smallpox, stricter measures for blotting out the disease and preventing its spread, will then be put in force.

The Chester council will erect a shanty away from the other homes and Fitzpatrick and other patients, should they develop the disease, will be placed therein and held until cured and discharged. The deputies appointed will remain as long as needed.

The man Blair, who is at his home on Carolina avenue, and who was most exposed to Fitzpatrick, will probably be rigidly quarantined. He has quite a family and lives right in the heart of Chester.

Drs. Beaumont and Lewis today gave the case a rigid diagnosis and pronounce it smallpox of the virulent type. The parties are now strictly under guard, three deputies being on guard.

The families were preparing to move out last night when stopped by Officer Elliott of the Chester force.

Dr. Beaumont, the county health officer, will be kept fully informed of the situation and devise every measure and take every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

Health Officer Allison obtained the names of all the suspects this afternoon and forwarded them to Dr. Beaumont, of New Cumberland.

FIREBUGS ARE AT WORK IN WELLSVILLE ALSO

The police department is endeavoring to effect the capture of an incendiary who has been working in the neighborhood of Thirteenth, Main and Center streets, Wellsville. Three attempts were made to burn the premises occupied by F. E. Fitzpatrick. Fire caught in a shed Tuesday forenoon on the same property, the fire department being called out. On two succeeding evenings an effort was made to ignite a shed building from the rear of the place on Center street.

Miss Maude Clyde saw a man striking matches Friday night in an endeavor to kindle a blaze; later the fellow, who was in his shirt sleeves, was observed by Mrs. Dean to be making a fire. He was unsuccessful and the man returned with a tin can. Shortly after midnight Saturday morning Mrs. Haney saw a blaze coming from the rear of the Fitzpatrick restaurant and she aroused Justice Haney, who found the fire burning rapidly, but soon put it out.

The block is built solidly with business houses that front on Main street, and a blaze in that quarter would do much damage. Merchants are keeping nightly watch on their stores, three burglaries having occurred in the one square during the past two months. Strong efforts are being made to capture the firebug.

EAST END SATURDAY'S RACES WERE FINE ONES

Fully 1,500 Persons Witnessed the Sport at Columbian Park Track.

VERY GOOD TIME MADE

The Track Fast and the Weather All That Could Be Desired—The Winners in the Three Events—Last Race an Exciting One.

Fully 500 persons witnessed the races at Columbian park Saturday afternoon, which proves that good horse racing is relished by residents of this city. The larger number of those at the park Saturday afternoon were from East Liverpool. The visiting Turners were in the minority.

The races, to say the least, were very interesting, and some very good time was made in at least two of the events. The track was fast, and the weather all that could be desired. In the first race, the 2:20 pace, Robert L., owned by William Larkins, of this city, won three out of four heats. Dr. Harker, of Captain Fickes' stable at New Cumberland, won second place, while William W., owned by William Timmons, took third place. The following is the official heats:

Dr. Harker ..... 1 2 2 2
William W. .... 3 3 3 3
Time, 2:28 1-4.

Time, 2:59 1-4.

Gentleman's road race—Entries, Diamond club, Dick Meredith; J. J. Corbett, Pete Milliron; Plumber Boy, Ben Davidson.

Diamond Club ..... 1 1 2 2 1
J. J. Corbett ..... 2 2 2 1 2
Plumber Boy ..... 3 3 1 3 3
Time, half mile race, 1:13 1-2.

The last race was considered by all to be one of the best of the afternoon. It was for blood from the tap of the bell, and was as exciting a race as has been seen at Columbian park for years.

In the last race Dr. McFarland acted as starter. A purse of $100 was divided between the three races, each owner receiving $10, as no entry fee was charged.

LEFT SUDDENLY

A Street Railway Employee Suddenly Departs And His Present Abode Is Unknown.

John Porter, for several years employed as a motorman, and recently a conductor on the East Liverpool railway, has left the city and his whereabouts at the present time are not known, either to his friends or his family.

Porter left suddenly last Friday, and he left no word as to where his destination would be. He has also severed his connection with the railroad company, and for some time has been residing with his wife on Railroad street, just across the railroad tracks from the power house.

J. W. JOBLING, OF THIS CITY, DOING WELL AT MANILA.

Has Charge of Bacteriological Work And Gets Good Salary.

J. W. Jobling, formerly of this city, but now in the government service at Manila, P. I., writes to his friend, Will Lewis, of this city:

"I am pretty well fixed at present; am director of the Serum institute, an institution for preparing vaccine and serum for the treatment of diseases, at a salary now of $2,000 a year, which will soon be increased to $2,400. It is a civil service position. I have been out of the army for some time, but will never regret the experiences I passed through this last time.

"We are having considerable cholera just at present, but very few Americans have been attacked. I had charge of the first cholera hospital; we had a great many natives, but only six Americans, two of whom died, but they were addicted to drink. If the Americans obey the printed instructions which have been scattered broadcast, very few would catch the disease. I will have to leave for Japan in a few weeks, and will stay two months, the commission paying my expenses. I am going to stay with Kitasto, the great Japanese bacteriologist, to study serum work. Send me an East Liverpool New Review.

"I have charge at present of the bacteriological laboratory at one of the cholera hospitals, but will soon return to the laboratory, my regular work. Give my best to my friends in East Liverpool."

Underwater Fruits.

The most conspicuous examples of plants whose fruits ripen only under water are furnished by the species Vallisneria spiralis, plants found mostly in the south of Europe, but also cultivated elsewhere in aquariums. The male flower is short and insignificant, while the female grows on a very long stem of corkerew shape and has something of the appearance of a snowdrop. It floats on the surface of the water until the fertilization, by means of the pollen, is complete. The spiral then contracts, and the fruit is withdrawn under the water to ripen. Notable specimens of underwater ripening in England are furnished by bladderworts and a species of vallisneria known popularly as the "water soldier." Of marine plants certain varieties of seaweed, notably the red, also ripen under water.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Lazzaroni of Naples.

A century ago there were 30,000 "lazzaroni" in Naples. Neither disease nor want has diminished their number. Their children die at a fearful rate, but there are many hospitals for the survivors, and neither board nor lodging costs them much when, at a mature age, they are turned loose into the world to become lazzaroni in their turn, like their unknown fathers and mothers.

"What is a lazzarone?" It may be asked. According to Colletta, he is a being who lives how he can without working. If he puts his hand to honest labor, he is no longer a lazzarone. It may be doubted whether the lazzarone will ever become extinct. The "resanitation" scheme will not oust him nor make him change his habits. He is more than half what his climate makes him.—National Review.

"The future of the Philippines is bright," Lieutenant Lyles said. "Order has been restored from chaotic conditions which obtained in the days of the Spanish. The climate is splendid, the people for the most part are amiable and appreciative of what the United States has done for them and it is my opinion that the archipelago comprises the richest territory in the world."

THE POPE'S BLESSING

Given to Crowd at Celebration of Twenty-Fourth Anniversary of Coronation.

FETES HELD AT THE VATICAN.

Rome, July 7.—All the members of the American college at Rome, including Rev. Dr. Thomas Kennedy, rector of the college, and Fathers McCate, McCourt and Mullin, of Philadelphia, were present last evening at the fetes held at the Vatican in celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the coronation of the pope.

The entire papal court and thousands of members of all the Catholic societies represented in Rome assembled at 6 o'clock last evening in the great Belvedere court of the Vatican and paid homage to his holiness. The court was beautifully adorned with tapestries and a profusion of plants and flowers. The pope occupied an especially constructed and richly decorated gallery. His holiness entered the court by way of the Lapidary museum and the library. He was greeted with enthusiastic acclamations, and the band played the pontifical march. A chorus, composed for the occasion, was sung by a choir of several hundred pupils from all the clerical schools in Rome, who defiled before the pope, carrying banners. The Vatican officials, a number of ladies and the members of the diplomatic corps witnessed the scene from windows overlooking the court.

The fete was brought to a close by the pope pronouncing a pontifical blessing, after which he was again acclaimed. A great flock of pigeons, sent to Rome from all the chief towns of Italy, was then released. The pigeons flew off to their homes, each one bearing an announcement that the ceremonies had taken place.

The pope, who was delighted with the fete, was in excellent health, and his physicians announce that he has improved both in health and spirits in the past year.

A dinner in celebration of the anniversary was given in the Vatican at noon Sunday to 150 of the poor of Rome. Cardinal Respighi and a number of prelates and papal officials were present.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES' MEETING.

Much Interest Manifested in Coming Convention, In August, at Chicago.

Cincinnati, July 7.—Much interest is being manifested throughout the country regarding the national convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies in Chicago, Aug. 5, 6 and 7. It is estimated that a million Catholics will be represented at this convention, including all the leading societies in the United States. Distinguished churchmen and laymen have signified their presence. The opening services will be held at the Holy Name cathedral, with Archbishop Feehan, Bishops Muldoon, McFaul, Messmer and other prelates in the sanctuary. Since the inception of the movement in Cincinnati, last December, when but one state federation, that of Ohio, existed, the federation has made phenomenal advances. The following states will have permanent federations by Aug. 5: New Jersey, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Alabama, Massachusetts, and probably New York, Illinois, Kansas and Minnesota.

The executive board of the federation will meet in Chicago with supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus, Knights of St. John, Catholic Knights of America, Catholic Order of Foresters, Irish Catholic Benevolent union, Young Men's Institute, Catholic Truth society, Central Verein, Western Catholic union, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Benevolent Legion, Catholic Mutual Benefit association, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, and others.

FACTS NOT FICTION

A Plain Statement of a Bad Condition and a Cure That Never Fails.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for four or five years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' drug store, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness are almost gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

two days previous to the convention to suggest changes in the constitution. All the Catholic societies in the United States, whether affiliated or not with the federation, will be invited to send delegates. One of the cardinal principles of the federation is that in furthering its objects it does not in any way interfere with the government or disturb the autonomy of any organization affiliated with it.

VATICAN WISHES COMPROMISE.

Trying to Satisfy United States Without Being Responsible For Friars' Removal.

Rome, July 7.—The Vatican is striving to find a compromise between satisfying the desires of Washington, as set forth by Judge William H. Taft, governor of the Philippines, and relieving the holy see from direct responsibility for the withdrawal of the friars from the Philippine archipelago. Several plans to this end have been discussed by the Vatican authorities. The most acceptable of these is that the generals of the four religious orders concerned, having been informed of Washington's request, shall themselves order the withdrawal of their dependents, who now number about 500.

This plan would necessitate a letter from the general of each order to Governor Taft, pledging the writer to this action, or the insertion of a clause in the contract between Judge Taft and the Vatican that steps to this end will be taken immediately by the generals when they are aware of the wishes of the United States. The Vatican would thus be under no odium, the pope merely accepting an accomplished fact.

STUDENTS' RELIGIOUS MEETING.

East Northfield, Mass., July 7.—World's Students' conference closed Sunday with several sessions of exceptional interest. The morning gathering was addressed by Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, on "The Limitations of Christ." In the afternoon Rev. John Kolman, of Edinburgh university, spoke on "Prayer."

The subject of the twilight meeting on Round Top was "Missions," and J. M. Foreman, of India, and E. C. Carter, general secretary of the Harvard Y. M. C. A., and who is to go to India on missionary work, spoke.

The last session was in the Auditorium, and John R. Mott presided. The short addresses were by Mr. Speer, R. H. Edwards, of the Yale Y. M. C. A.; E. L. Janeway, who holds a similar position at Princeton; A. E. Fateson, of McGill university; Dr. U. Sasamori, of Nagasaki, and Cadet Titus, of West Point.

The statistics of the conference are somewhat incomplete, but it is known that 133 institutions have been represented by 614 delegates.

BIBLE CONFERENCE.

National Meeting of Young People Adjourned—Resolution Favored Annual Gatherings.

Warsaw, Ind., July 7.—The closing exercises of the first National Young People's Bible conference, at Winona, were held Sunday. The most impressive service was the hillside meeting, conducted by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, the conference director, and Rev. Arthur J. Smith, of New York. Dr. B. A. Cobin, president of DePaul university, delivered the morning sermon.

Dr. Chapman gave a strong address at the Auditorium last night. A resolution was adopted urging that the conference be made a permanent annual affair.

SONS OF BENJAMIN MET.

Independent Order Convention. Re-Elects Grand Master Levy.

Philadelphia, July 7.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Independent Order Sons of Benjamin began here Sunday, with nearly 600 delegates in attendance, representing 137 lodges, comprising a membership of 20,000 in all sections of the country. The most important business of Sunday's session was the election of a grand master, Ferdinand Levy, of New York, who has held the office since 1884, being re-elected.

Among the recommendations made by Grand Master Levy in his report was one that the present rule upon the taking out of insurance, by which a male member cannot take out less than a $1,000 policy, be changed so that it is optional with him to take either a $500 or $1,000 policy. The Mutual Guarantee Fund amounts at the present time to more than $175,000, and is being constantly increased.

Postal Takes Hold of Pennsy Wires.

Pittsburg, July 7.—Just as the clock struck 12 last night the Postal Telegraph company opened for business in the Union station of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city. The change was made according to the recent agreement between the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Postal Telegraph company for the right to operate along the line of that railroad company east of Pittsburg and Erie. According to Postal officials, that company will share the wires on the railroad property with the Western Union Telegraph company until Dec. 1, when the contract between the Western Union and the railroad finally terminates.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Joseph Swallen, of Paris, O., killed himself by taking poison and cutting his throat.

Grace Matthews, aged 16, died at Massillon from injuries sustained by the bursting of a cannon.

Margaret, the 15-month-old daughter of Matthew Kessler, was fatally scalded by the upsetting of hot tea.

Scott Robinson, a prisoner at the Ohio state penitentiary, assaulted Jack Reeves, a Columbiana prisoner, in the Hayden shop and brutally beat him.

The entries for this week's race meet at Salem Driving park have closed, and the list is one of the largest ever entered at any race meet ever held in Salem.

Thomas L. Morgan, aged 26, was drowned in Lake Cohasset, at Mill Creek park, Youngstown, while boating. Andrew Laurik, a Slav, was drowned in the Mahoning river.

Donald Cook, an old resident of Youngstown, got caught in fence palings at Mill Creek park, remaining 24 hours, struggling to get free, and died just when his plight was discovered.

The Bergholz Telephone company, Bergholz, Jefferson county, with $5,000 capital, has been incorporated to erect and maintain telephone lines in Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison counties.

Lambert Royston, aged 23 years, employed on the pile driver which has been working on the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad, went to sleep while sitting under a car at Palmyra and was killed.

Ex-Marshall Charles Johnson, of Salem, who was badly injured by a fall from a railroad train early in March, and who has since been unable to use his right leg, which was broken, has returned to Alliance hospital for further treatment.

David's Line.

When David Belasco and H. C. De Mille wrote "The Charity Ball," there was a speech in it that did not please Herbert Kecey, leading man of the company. The words Kecey objected to were quoted from one of David's psalms.

Ignorant of its origin, Kecey said to Mr. De Mille:

"I don't like that line. It's bombastic and old-fashioned."

"The line is not mine, but David's," replied De Mille, referring of course to the psalmist.

A Gentleman.

One of our readers sends a nice story about the question, "What is a gentleman?" Hearing a house carpenter spoken of as a gentleman by a furniture remover, he sought delicately for explanations. "Lor' bless yer, sir," answered the furniture remover, "we calls every man a gentleman as pays 20 shillings in the pound."—London Globe.

Hubby's Little Game.

Wife—What's the matter? Husband—Some one has been robbing the firm, and I'm afraid I'll be suspected.

Wife—Impossible!

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburg, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

LAW TO CONTROL TRUSTS.

President Invited Littlefield to Prepare Bill, Which He Will Back.

Oyster Bay, July 7.—It has been ascertained that the president's speech at Pittsburg on the Fourth of July in reference to the trust question was merely a forerunner of determined efforts by him to have congress take up that subject and enact definite legislation at the next session for the control and supervision of trusts.

Recently the president and Attorney General Knox held a conference with Representative Littlefield, of Maine, whose knowledge of constitutional law is admitted, at which Mr. Littlefield was invited to prepare a bill for the regulation and control of the trusts that will go before congress with the indorsement and influence of the president back of it. The bill will be submitted at the beginning of the next session, but before this is done the president, Attorney General Knox and Mr. Littlefield will have frequent conferences as to the details.

In addition to this proposed action the president is going to talk upon the trust question a good deal on the several trips to be made by him in the fall. He has announced to friends that the question is a vital one, and he proposes to push it vigorously until there is some action by congress.

MORGAN'S VISIT TO KAISER.

A Vienna Paper Comments Upon It In Satirical Way.

Vienna, July 7.—The Neue Freie Presse has published a satirical editorial article on the fact that J. Pierpont Morgan took luncheon with Emperor William on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Kiel, July 3. The paper remarks: "Without his check book Mr. Morgan would never have been the emperor's guest."

The article harps throughout upon the probabilities of misfortune overtaking "The Napoleon of Finance," and says that gilded by the imagination, his trusts appear to be excellent, but that the first moment public confidence is disturbed the system will undergo a severe trial.

The Neue Freie Presse concludes by saying:

"Could a thought reader have penetrated the secret recesses of the minds of Emperor William and his guest, what startling contrasts might he not have discovered. In Emperor William's mind, perhaps, a yearning for fame and splendor; in that of Mr. Morgan the hope of new trusts and rising prices. How fortunate it is that social politeness veils such opposites."

MAY BE CRIMINAL ACTION.

Nora Ferris Died of Punishment at Delaware (O.) Home.

Columbus, O., July 7.—The committee of the state board of charities, which has been investigating affairs of the State Industrial School for Girls, filed its report with the governor. The committee finds that Nora Ferris, an inmate, who was punished by being placed in a straight jacket, died as a result of the punishment inflicted.

The governor immediately sent a copy of the report to the attorney general, with the suggestion that he decide whether criminal action should be instituted.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Charles Hutton, Barville, Mich.

Notice to Republicans.

Notice is hereby given to the Republican electors of the Eighteenth Congressional District of Ohio, that a delegate convention to place in nomination a candidate for Representative to Congress will be held at

at 10 o'clock, a. m.
Delegates will be selected in the several counties composing said district on the basis of the Republican vote cast for President in 1900, viz: One delegate for each 100 votes and fraction thereof in excess of 50.
COLUMBIANA, 100 Delegates
MAHONING, 80 Delegates
STARK, 100 Delegates
By Order of Congressional Committee,
J. P. FAYCETT,
E. H. TURNER,
ED. A. KING,
Committee

Republican primaries to select a candidate for congress will be held in this county next Saturday. This is in accordance with the arrangement made by the county central committee at its recent meeting. The entry of Wallace H. Phelps, of Stark, in the race as a candidate in this county necessitates the holding of a primary. Mr. Phelps has complied with the requirements and has therefore a perfect right to have his claims considered. While he is a man of excellent character and standing, it is not to be believed that any considerable number of Columbiana county voters will aid him in preference to a home candidate equally strong and able. We greatly fear, therefore, that Mr. Phelps' campaign efforts, so far as this county is concerned, will be wasted. In Hon. Charles S. Speaker, of Lisbon, the Republicans of Columbiana have a candidate eminently deserving of their cordial and earnest support, and it is altogether unlikely that such support will be lacking. Mr. Speaker is an attorney of prominence and ability, a broad, fair-minded man, a citizen who is public spirited and proud of his county. If he should have the good fortune to secure the nomination—and his chances certainly are as good as those of any man in the race—it is safe to predict that he will work steadily, conscientiously and faithfully for his constituents and his country and make a representative who will be a credit to the Eighteenth district and to the state of Ohio. He is a Republican to the backbone and will support the principles and the policies that have made the party great and the nation prosperous. He will secure the Columbiana county delegation in the coming convention, and his friends will stand by him as long as he has a fighting chance.

Through an amendment to the naval school bill, a naval training station is to be established on the great lakes. Congress appropriates $5,000 for the expenses of a board which will investigate sites and at its next session will make an appropriation for the school. Chicago, realizing that the training station will be of great importance to the city that gets it, is making a strong bid for its location there. Its establishment will require a hundred acres of land and the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars for equipment. Ohio lake ports will not be backward in presenting their advantages, and will use every possible argument to secure a favorable recommendation from the commission. The school, wherever located, will certainly meet a want of the Middle West and will be an important adjunct of the naval system.

The western district miners, who are now working under one of the most liberal wage scales they ever had, show no disposition to strike in sympathy with their eastern brethren. They appear to have reached the conclusion that they could not help them if they did.

A Democratic newspaper asserts that President Roosevelt, in his declaration of war against the trusts, is "just fooling." Evidently the trusts don't think so. And any man who knows Roosevelt will not think so, either. He is always thoroughly in earnest.

A New York actress wants $50,000 damages because her pictures was used in a corset advertisement. Fancy an actress being damaged by any sort of free advertising.

Hot weather smells that suggest the need of activity on the part of the health authorities and the garbage collector are arising in several quarters of the city.

Mrs. Peary is getting ready to go after her husband. The name of the party who is to go after Mrs. Peary has not been made known.

Mr. Bryan might help his own case considerably by coming out and denying that he is the Kansas City platform.

The cool days that were so unpopular in June would now be gladly welcomed if they would return.

Agunaldo, like many another man just out of jail, finds his old occupation gone.

The best hot weather advice is not to avoid work, but to avoid worry.

There are sweltering thousands who wish it were their vacation time.

Mrs. Sears Shay.

Mrs. Sears Shay, one of the best known residents of the city, died at 6 o'clock this morning at her late home in McKinnon addition, after a long illness. Death was the result of a complication of troubles with which she had been troubled for some time. She is survived by a husband and four children. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, interment being at River view cemetery. The services will be in charge of Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a member.

Martha Craig.

Martha Craig, aged four years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Craig, of Nevada street, Wellsburg, died Thursday night with measles. The remains were shipped by boat Friday evening to Hartford City, Mason county, W. Va., for burial.

OUT THE CAR WINDOW

Claude Smith Thrust His Arm and a Telephone Pole Broke It.

While riding on a street car last evening, bound for the city from Wellsburg, Claude Smith, of Pennsylvania avenue, met with an accident that is causing him much pain. The street car was crossing the Jethro bridge when Mr. Smith indiscreetly ran his right arm out a window, while making a gesture.

A telephone pole standing close to the track came in violent contact with the arm, breaking it between the wrist and the elbow. The injured man was compelled to suffer intensely until the car arrived at Dr. Laughlin's office where the arm was given the necessary medical attention. The car was crowded when the accident occurred, and it is said that several women fell in a swoon as a result.

SEIZED FOR DEBT

Paraphernalia of a Show Company in a Constable's Hands.

The paraphernalia of the Exposition Carnival company which showed in Columbian park during four days of last week was attached last evening and is now in the possession of Constable Powell. The attachment was made to satisfy the claims of F. B. Rall for $35; J. L. Day for $10.50 and Herman Goldman for $33.

All claim that the money is due them for their labor. Attorneys have been employed by all parties and the cases have been set for a hearing on Thursday afternoon in Squire McCarron's court.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

[Special Correspondence.]

Wheeling, July 7.—Two new decorating kilns are being built at the Vance Pottery art plant at Tiltonville and will be completed within the next three weeks. This company recently added a new decorating shop to its plant. It measures 60x80 feet. The employees of this plant gave a pleasant dance Thursday evening, which was one of the social successes of the season.

J. P. Ross, a presser at the Tiltonville plant, formerly employed at the Standard and Laughlin, at East Liverpool, has gone to Tiltonville, where he will remain a few days visiting relatives.

Hugh Clancey, who has been pressing at the Warwick, has resigned his position and has left for East Liverpool, where he will seek a position.

All the general ware shops of this city are shut down for about two weeks. The sanitary shops closed Thursday evening and they will not resume until Monday week.

A large order has been placed with the Riverside plant for "Cuba wash-downs." There are about 3,000 pieces in the order.

All the sanitary men employed at the Riverside plant are quite elated over the knowledge that the new uniform price list for these shops becomes operative Monday.

Daniel Moody, a kilnman at the Wheeling pottery, has been nominated by the Republicans of his district for the legislature. He has received the endorsement of the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Councils and the potters' local as well. His chances for election are most favorable.

The several pottery locals of this city have completed the appointment of committees to solicit funds for the next national Brotherhood convention which will be held here next May.

[Special Correspondence.]

Lisbon, July 7.—The Thomas China company closed its plant but a few days. Operations suspended last Wednesday evening, and the shop starts this morning. A long run is expected.

The Thomas company will soon place a number of new designs on the market. There will be four shapes of jardiniere, a cracker jar and a new shape spittoon. This company is also meeting with good success with its underglaze work, and a new dinner shape of this character is soon to be placed in the trade.

William Bailey, who has been employed here as a jigerman, is working out his two weeks' notice and will leave in a few days for East Liverpool, where he will take a similar position at the Barker plant. Jack Lease is also working out his two weeks' notice.

William Rupp, who has been working at the Lisbon tin mill, has taken a position on the biscuit bench.

Mrs. Henry Allison arrived here today from East Liverpool. Herbert Bloor, a turner at the Buckeye, has sailed from New York for England. Harry Watkins, a dishwasher at Sevens, also left for a visit to his former home in England, and was accompanied by Priestly Hindle, Albert Jewell and his son. They expect to remain in England for about six weeks.

It was the intention of the Laughlin Pottery company to start its East End plants this morning, but the statement was made by an official of the company that this could not be done until about Thursday. The company anticipated that some changes that were to be made in the gas connections at the plants would have been completed by Saturday, but the gas company was late in starting this work, and will not have it completed until Wednesday evening. A number of the employees started to the plant this morning to resume work, but were told to rest a few more days and report Thursday morning.

Robert Hawkins, formerly of this city, and located at the Union, but now foreman of the clay department of the Barberton pottery, was in the city last week to visit. He stated that today the claymakers would start to work, and if it can possibly be done the clay shops will be started in a week. All the machinery is now installed, and clay has been delivered. Quite a number of East Liverpool pottery workmen will be found at this new shop after it is started.

A. G. White, formerly city engineer of Wellsburg, but now engineer for the American Sewer Pipe company, started for Grand Rapids, Mich., to look after some big improvements to the plant of the company in that place. The American Sewer Pipe company now has 36 factories in their regime, the farthest western factory being at Brazil, Ind.

The Trenton Pottery company has filed the proposed amendment to its charter, making the preferred stock non-cumulative and providing for $550,000 of refunding certificates, with which the arrears in dividends will be paid.

William Maley, who had been employed as a jigerman at the Diamond pottery, but who recently obtained a similar position at the Canonsburg plant, has left for the latter place with his family.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery will resume next Wednesday, and repairs and overhauling of machinery are going on in the meantime. Engineer Frank Rambo is spending his vacation at Fredericktown.

Frank Earl, a kilnman at Vodrey's, has left for Wisconsin, where he will remain five weeks or more for the benefit of his health and to visit friends.

Gamble & Surles will commence their brick contract this week for the big addition to the Knowles pottery or rebuilding of the end of the old pottery.

Several buyers from Dayton, O., who have been in the city during the week, placed some very large business.

Workmen are lowering the floors in the basement of the biscuit ware room at the Dresden pottery.

James Feehan, a well known dipper at the Dresden, is on the sick list.

Street Railway to Youngstown. The work on the new street railway line from Rochester, Pa., to Youngstown, begins today. J. J. Corner, who superintended a portion of the construction of the Rock Springs railway double track, will have charge of the gang at Rochester. The line will go through Beaver Falls, Homewood, Walton, New Castle, to Youngstown.

BADLY LITTERED STREETS

Relics of the Fourth of July Arouse the Ire of the Property Owners.

A spirited dispute was indulged in by the street commissioner and a lower Main street merchant, Thomas Hamilton, this morning. Commissioner Herbert wanted to know the reason for so much rubbish in the street, which was the unremoved debris remaining from the pranks of a lot of Fourth of July celebrators. This was an opening for Mr. Hamilton, who declared that some people could evidently do as they please in this town.

He informed the commissioner that he had swept the street off during the rain and that the city ought to remove the rubbish. The block from Fourteenth to Fifteenth streets is littered with broken barrels, boxes and decaying garbage that was blown around by the powder explosions and has not been cleared. Curbing and paving were torn by the explosions, and as Hamilton had two windows broken by the concussions, suffering with his neighbors, he was in a spirited mood to talk to an official.

Mr. Herbert said that the streets would be cleaned. The top of the railroad round house has scattered boards that were blown high in the air. A number of the roundhouse windows were broken by the repeated concussions made by small cannon.

BURCHARD IS BETTER

Young Man Who Was Shot Is In a Fair Way to Recovery.

The condition of Blair Burchard, who received two bullet wounds in the neck from a pistol discharged by Geo. Snowden, Thursday evening, is favorable to the young man's recovery. While one ball passed entirely through his neck just below the ears no large arteries or veins were severed. More danger may attach to the second wound. That bullet has not been definitely located.

Snowden's hearing is set for today before the mayor. The colored prisoner regrets the affray and condemns his folly for carrying a revolver. His plea is that he acted in self defense. In talking briefly of the fight he says that several men had him cornered, and that he had no chance for making his escape. In terror of his life he used the revolver.

CRUELTY TO HORSES

The Charges on Which William Horton Will Have a Hearing.

A charge against William Horton, of the West End, will be tried before a jury in Justice Haney's court this evening at 7 o'clock. The prosecution is brought by Humane Officer Golden, of East Liverpool. The defendant has asked for a jury and will confront his accusers.

It is alleged that Horton was moving a barn on Center street a few days ago. His team was unable to pull the structure. One of the horses fell down, and residents of that vicinity declare that the horses were cruelly beaten with a shovel.

Several ladies remonstrated with Horton, who did not stop beating the animals until they were unmercifully punished. The women made their statements to Officer Golden. Horton contends that he did not mistreat his team.

Enjoyable Lawn Fete.

A lawn fete was given at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Snowden on Center street under the auspices of the A. M. E. church Saturday evening. The yard was brilliantly illuminated, and music was furnished by an East Liverpool orchestra. Refreshments were served, a large crowd attended and the social was a financial success. The proceeds will be applied on the church debt, which, through the efforts of the pastor and members, has been almost entirely liquidated.

Coal Boats Tied Up.

The current in the river became very swift Saturday night, and several tows found it difficult to steer the large fleets of coal. Four steamers tied up for the night between Walker and Wellsville, among them being the Sam Brown, the Charles Cook and the Fred Wilson. Extra strong lines had to be used. At one point the river was almost bridged with coal boats.

M. E. Church Services.

Rev. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder, delivered the morning sermon at the First M. E. church, and in the evening the service was conducted by Rev. George W. Orcutt, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church, East Liverpool. Special services were observed at the Y. P. S. C. E. consecration meeting of the Christian church in the evening.

Too Hot For Services.

No services were held in the United Presbyterian church on account of the excessive heat Sunday evening. A commodated arrangement existed at the First Presbyterian, seats having been placed outside the church.

NEEDS OF CHESTER

Rev. H. M. Carnahan Thinks Better Enforcement of Law One of Them.

Rev. Herbert M. Carnahan, of the Chester M. E. church, preached a patriotic sermon to a large congregation last night, taking for his theme, "Independence Day." Freedom, he said, was a gift of God, and the more knowledge we have the greater our freedom. A nation is a group of families, and as long as they are law abiding are free and equal.

There must be a central head for every group of families. In monarchical governments the head of royal blood is either absolute or limited. Such governments jarred on the ears of Americans. So came the revolution of 1776.

The Fourth of July was founded to crown the people, and subject the king. Prophecy had been fulfilled, for "He that is least amongst you, let him be the greatest."

The people of the nation are the king, but it does not follow that every citizen under the Stars and Stripes is such. Law abiding people and not transgressors rule. Every generation must maintain the civil freedom of our forefathers. The fight today is not against any individual, but against an element that strives to take the crown from our law abiding people and outface their moral sense. It was a degrading element, even incalculating anarchy.

The law abiding element of Chester say we keep the law ourselves, and do our duty to God and humanity, and stand for a quiet peaceful Sabbath. We want peace and order and closed mercantile doors. We want to teach our children to respect the Christian Sabbath, the true teaching of independence, liberty and freedom, and that lawlessness and immorality rampant in Chester should cease. It is tyranny upon Chester homes and sons and daughters. Chester has laws with but a few men to enforce them, and needs more officers, and also more public sentiment to back up the work of the officers.

BLOOD POISONING

Developed From a Slight Scratch Inflicted by a Nail In a Basket.

While in the act of picking up a basket in his father's restaurant at Rock Springs park last week, Charles H., the son of Charles M. Smith, scratched the thumb of his right hand on a nail in the basket. Nothing was thought of the scratch at the time, but now blood poisoning has set in, and the boy's condition is considered serious.

The thumb has been cut open twice, but now the poison has gone through his system, and last night he suffered intense pain. His arm is swollen to almost twice its normal size. The family reside in the stone house just west of the car barn.

Enjoyable Concert.

Shea's "Transformation Choir" was presented for the first time at the evening concert at Rock Springs park last evening to one of the largest audiences of the season. There are 14 persons in the choir, but only a few of these could be featured last evening, owing to the smallness of the stage. Two selections were rendered, "Shining Light" and "Calvary." The numbers were rendered in a superb manner and the audience was delighted. Miss Kathryn McFadden's singing is worthy of special mention. The afternoon concert by Nowling's orchestra was most enjoyable.

NO DANCER HERE

Smallpox in Chester Caused a Flurry on This Side the River.

The news of smallpox in Chester caused something of a flurry on this side of the river. Health Officer J. H. Burgess went to the Southside and made a careful investigation. He gave the Chester officials warning that every precaution must be taken, or else their town would be quarantined against. He satisfied himself that all precautions were being taken and that there is no danger to East Liverpool.

It is learned that Fitzpatrick spent some time in this city Saturday, but it is doubtful if the disease had so far developed then as to become infectious. There are said to be six or seven persons in the house under quarantine.

ASKS FOR ALIMONY

Salem Woman Enters Suit Against Her Husband, Charging Desertion.

Lisbon, July 7.—(Special)—Mary L. Knight, of Salem, has entered suit against Charles O. Knight, of the same city, for alimony. They were married in 1900, and Mrs. Knight left her husband on June 24, 1902.

She claims that he has been guilty of extreme cruelty and has accused her of unchastity. He earns $3 per day at the machinists' trade, and owns tools worth $100. She asks the court to allow her suitable alimony.

A Gigantic Goddess of War.

In the Japanese capital there is a gigantic image of a woman made of wood, iron and plaster. The time of its erection and the name of its designer are in dispute, but it is known to have been dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures fifty-four feet, the head alone, which is reached by a winding stairway in the interior of the figure, being capable of holding a company of twenty persons. The goddess holds a sword in her right hand and a huge painted wooden ball in the left. Internally the statue is the finest anatomical model in existence, every bone, joint and ligament being represented on a gigantic scale in proportion to the height and general size of the huge figure itself. The large eyes are magnifying glasses, through which a fine view of the surrounding country may be had.

Uninjured Lions Seldom Charge.

Like every other animal, the lion tries to avoid man until wounded, and it is only in exceptional cases of there being young ones to guard or from astonishment at seeing the hunters so close to them that they charge when being tracked.

They charge with the same coughing roar that a tiger does and come at great speed close to the ground, not bounding in the air, as they are represented in pictures. Their ears are pressed close to the head, giving them the comical appearance of being without ears.—London Times.

The Most Exalted.

"Let me now," said the chairman of the reception committee, "introduce to you the man who occupies the highest station in our community."

"Ah, pleased to meet you, sir," said the distinguished foreigner. "May I ask what your business is?"

Date on Silver Coins.

Most people have an old silver coin of some kind which they are keeping as a relic either for sentimental reasons or because they think it worth more than its face value. In some instances the date or the inscription has been worn away and it is impossible to read it even with a strong glass.

The following method, originally practiced at the mint to discover the genuine coins when silver was called in, will enable any one to read an obliterated inscription:

Make the poker redhot in the fire and then place the silver coin on it. The inscription will be plainly visible in a greenish hue, which will fade as the coin cools.—London Chronicle.

Fight on a Shanty Boat.

A big fight occurred in a shanty boat located above the pump house at the Knowles pottery, Saturday night, in which the "Dirty Dozen" and the shanty boat men were hotly engaged. It is stated that the former crowd was given a severe beating not long ago by the latter, and in a spirit of revenge visited the boat. Fists were used with telling effect. Charles Potts says he will swear out warrants today.

Guilty on Three Charges.

Harry Mathers was arrested yesterday by Officer Elliott, and pleaded guilty to charges before Justice Johnston of drunkenness, disorderly conduct and the use of profane language, also threatening to kill the officer, but received no fine on this charge. He was fined $12.15 all told, and Mrs. Mathers appeared and settled the fine which was reduced to $11. Mathers was released.

At Work in the New Town.

William Severs left today for Mahan, W. Va., the new town building below Steubenville, where his son, Arch Severs, has a big grading contract for the big steel mill to be located there. ## CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

REV. EDWIN WEARY DOES NOT BELIEVE ITS DOCTRINES.

Declares Mrs. Eddy an Impostor Who Does Not Practice What She Preaches.

St. Stephen's church was well filled last evening when Rev. Edwin Weary, the rector, delivered a special sermon on the subject, "Christian Science." Owing to the head Rev. Mr. Weary shortened his address very much, giving simply an outline of the topic, and promising to be more explicit at another time.

Mrs. Eddy, the famous exponent and leader of the science in the world today, received marked attention from the rector. "She advocates, and all of her followers believe," said he, "that God is mind, and we believe that He is a person. They believe in idealism. She teaches that nothing is matter; that all ailments of the body can be cured by the great science. These are only a few of the points which she dwells upon."

"In the first place she is an impostor. This can be proven in numerous ways. She does not bear out her sentiments by her own life, and a preacher that does not live as he preaches should get down and out and never appear before the people. Although she teaches that there is a power other than medical power to relieve and make well all afflictions, she does not apply to that great power herself. Having a decayed tooth not long ago she was seen to apply to a dentist for aid. Why did she do so if the power upon which she preaches will suffice? If nothing is matter and all is mind why does she wear thicker clothing in winter than in the summer? If all her arguments are true why is it that she partakes of medicine when sick?"

"All of these questions I give to you that you may think of them and be prepared, when the argument, which I have prepared, but have eliminated on account of the prevailing warmth, shall be presented."

Display of Wealth Unwise.

"There is nothing more unwise," said the friend, "than a needless and ostentatious display of wealth."

"That's right," answered Mr. Grippe Sorghum; "there are enough people trying to get it away from you without issuing any challenges."—Washington Star.

THE BEST GAME OF THE SEASON

That Played With the Fairbanks on Saturday Past and Exciting.

EAST LIVERPOOL AHEAD

Though Chances Were Even Up to the Beginning of the Seventh Inning. The Lineup for the Locals Was a Very Strong One.

The third game of the series played in the West End park Saturday afternoon by the locals and the Fairbanks, of Allegheny, was without doubt the best witnessed on local grounds this season. For six long innings the immense crowd that had gathered to see what had been stated to be the last game of the season was on the verge of a collapse, the excitement being so intense.

The visitors were playing an excellent game and the locals were not far behind. That famous seventh inning came to the rescue of the home team. At its beginning the score stood 3 to 1 with the chances even. At the end the score stood 5 to 3 with the chances all in favor of the locals. Kommer, pitcher for the visitors, was all in. He had pitched 29 innings and the over-exertion began to show its effects. After two men had hit the dust he became excited and gave the next two men their base on balls.

The crowd then began to howl and for a few minutes pandemonium reigned supreme. Every ball that was touched by the visitors seemed to be greased or on fire. They could not even grapple with them. In consequence four runs were scored; two errors were made; two wild throws were delivered and two men walked.

The next inning was almost a repetition, the only difference being that the locals succeeded in pounding out four hits. The visitors found it impossible to get another lead and lost the game, but not without a hard and brave struggle. Every man on the team played to win. They are up to all the tricks and tried to work them at every opportunity. Had their pitcher not been up against more than other pitchers ever allow, the result might have been different. It is hardly probable, however, as they were contesting with the strongest local team that could be placed on the diamond.

The entire team was the cream of all teams in and close around the city. That they played such a game when they never had worked together is remarkable. Maag and Berry, the two from Canton, strengthened the team very much. Maag is certainly the smoothest latter in this section. When he fails to get his base on balls it is only because he would rather get a hit. In the three games he walked eight times—a record unprecedented.

Godwin played a pretty game at second. He cut his usual number of errors out and assisted quite materially in winning the game. Three hits at opportune times were more than any one else accomplished.

Wellsburg was proudly represented in the game by Farrell, who played behind the bat. He was a little weak at the bat, but he was there at all other stages.

Maag has now a boy of his years as a strong rival. Barker, who has been playing with the third and fourth class teams all summer, was given a chance, and he certainly proved a marvel. No man in the country has a prettier delivery. He does it all with

A NOVEL ENTERPRISE

Water Circus in Preparation Here Which Will Tour the South.

There has been in preparation at the foot of Babb's island, on the Ohio side, an amusement which is to be known as the "Great American Water Circus." It is to be a novel entertainment to say the least. The work of preparing the circus has been done in this city and the town will have the name of sending out an amusement enterprise, the like of which has never been seen. The bottoms of two coal boats were first brought to the city, and since then carpenters, electricians and other mechanics have been busily engaged in building seats, sides, selling apartments and stables. Then the company has a regular steamboat, the J. C. Reynolds, which is the property of the amusement company. This boat will tow the circus as far south as New Orleans, expecting to reach that point about December.

The company carries including all performers and workmen and steamboatmen, 54 persons, besides trained sheep, dogs, ponies and pigs. There are several acrobats and all will open their season in this city next Thursday. A large tent is spread over the seats, supported by three center poles. W. H. Hatch, who was one of the main witnesses in Peter Sells divorce case at Columbus several years ago, is the general manager and director of the enterprise.

RECHABITES' ELECTION

New Officers Chosen for Favorite Tent No. 175, Saturday Evening.

Favorite tent No. 175, Rechabites, elected officers Saturday night as follows:

Chief Ruler—Isaac Schamp.
Past Chief Ruler—Thomas Hall.
Deputy Ruler—Mr. Voden.
Levite—William Craig.
Inside Guardian—C. C. Menough.

Trustees—Isaac Schamp, Frank Robinson and F. P. Williams, all re-elected.

The tent will install officers and initiate three candidates next Saturday evening.

Butter in the West Indies.

Every pound of butter that goes to the West Indies is colored a brilliant red. The dorkies over there won't have any other color. They like red butter, just as they adore red shirts and red ties or the red label on a tomato tin. Grocers say that if a black and white label should be placed on tinned tomatoes, there would be no sale at all.—London Chronicle.

AGUINALDO IS FREE

SEEMED AFRAID TO VENTURE OUT

Manila, July 7.—As a result of the proclamation of amnesty, July 4, the board of American soldiers has been withdrawn from the house where Aguinaldo lived in Manila and Lieutenant Johnson, Aguinaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino yesterday to see General Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Filipino revolution. Lieutenant William E. McKinley, of the Ninth cavalry, acted as interpreter.

Aguinaldo was told he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and General Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discipline or harshness. Aguinaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told General Chaffee that he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite Viejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. General Chaffee replied that Aguinaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

The former Filipino leader then asked General Chaffee to prevent the courts from requiring him to testify in civil suits. General Chaffee replied that he had no authority to grant this request, and advised Aguinaldo to make a social call upon Acting Civil Governor Wright. This Aguinaldo said he would do, but that he would go at night, as he was timid about appearing on the streets in daylight. The release of the former Filipino leader has renewed speculation as to possible vengeance upon him by friends of Luna and his other enemies.

CHARGES OF MAJOR GARDENER

Promised to Answer Demand For Evidence Today.

Manila, July 7.—The cross-examination of Major Cornelius Gardener, governor of Tayabas province, Luzon by the board which has been investigating the charges of cruelty, etc., brought by the major against American officers and soldiers, has been completed. The board had again finally demanded the production by Major Gardener of testimony as to the alleged hostility of the military authorities in the Philippines to the civil government.

Major Gardener promised to answer this demand today. He testified that he had not intended to reflect upon the fairness of the court and that the recorder had not, to his knowledge, interfered with his witnesses.

THIRTEEN WERE KILLED.

One More Likely to Die, From Gloversville, N. Y., Wreck.

Gloversville, N. Y., July 7.—Motor man William Dodge, of the runaway car on the Mountain Lake railroad, died at Littauer hospital last night, making the thirteenth victim of the wreck of Friday night. It is probable that George Fisher, whose skull was fractured, will die, and Edward Schell is in a very serious state. Coroner Palmer has commenced an investigation.

It has developed that the frame of the truck of the runaway car was broken and may have caused the accident, but the motor man's death will make it hard to determine the exact cause.

STORM IN NEW YORK.

Swept Over Western Section—One Person Drowned.

Buffalo, July 7.—A terrific rain and wind storm swept over Western New York at an early hour yesterday. Rivers and creeks rose rapidly, overflowing their banks and sweeping away houses and barns and live stock. The loss will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Telegraph and telephone wires were down last night and communication with small towns in Wyoming, Niagara and Cattaraugus counties was difficult to establish. This city was not in the path of the storm. At Arcade, Minnie Loper was drowned.

Three of Yachting Party Drowned.

New York, July 7.—The wife of Captain Tiemann N. Horn, of the Ninety-fifth company, sea coast artillery; his daughter, Frances, aged 7, and Miss Alice McMahon, of Nyack, N. Y., were drowned in Sandy Hook bay Sunday. Five others, including the captain, were rescued. The captain's yacht, in which they were sailing, was turned over by a puff of wind, causing the sail to gybe.

HER ESCAPE

Surely if ever a man deserved punishment at the hands of woman that man was Ashby Eldon. He had behaved unforgettably.

She had met him for the first time at Nice in the early part of the winter. She was there with an enervated aunt. He was there on mere pleasure and had given her to understand that he had fled from a household atmosphere of tiresome adulation in London to bathe his soul in pure sunshine. He had talked culture and personalities in perfect proportion. He had been charming, had worn striped linen, a pointed beard and a smile of fascinating fatigue. He had deluged her with expensive flowers. At first these flowers had come with a mere card. A little later the card was often included in a sealed envelope and covered with some suggestive little quotation from the French or German poets.

Still later the flowers had come without a word, bearing their own message, and when he noted a spray or two in her dress he would perhaps steady his eyes on hers for a moment, hold her hand the fraction of a second too long for mere convention or tell her in a thousand wordless ways that she was a charming woman in his eyes and that he knew she knew it. And never a hint or sign of his engagement to that Miss Trevor! It was incomprehensible, unspeakable!

If he had not mentioned by chance that Mrs. Haverton was his aunt, if on her return from Nice she had not taken enormous trouble to cultivate Mrs. Haverton and lead her talk on to Ashby Eldon, she might have dangled in her foot's paradise to the day of his wedding announcement.

How she would tear him with her weapons of scorn and disgust! She would make him feel like a cur.

The hottest words seemed insufficient punishment when she thought what suffering he might have caused her. It was the merest chance that she had not lost her heart to him—the merest chance. Why did the face in the glass twitch as she said that? She would say it again and say it out loud. It was the purest piece of luck that she had not fallen in love with Ashby Eldon. He had done his best. He was a brute. Yes, he was. She didn't care. He was.

How hideous red eyelids could make one look! They took all the poetry out of white cheeks. Why had she been the fool to choose her pink silk for tonight? And what would it matter if she wore green baize? Hateful world! It was packed at the Havertons'. Eleven o'clock, and he was not there. She danced a great deal.

Half past 11, and he was not there. She sat out a great deal.

Half past 12, and he was not there. She was getting too tired to smile.

She must go home now.

"Good night, Mrs. Haverton—a delightful evening." Yes, she was feeling a little tired. Good night once more and out on to the staircase.

Merciful powers! There he came—slowly, possessedly—in the old way! Quick! What was she going to say at the very first—oh, what?

A wave seemed to wash over her brain. She took his proffered hand, and her eyes fell for one second. Then she looked up with a brilliant smile.

Her old resolutions lay about her in ruins. A completely different set of emotions had taken possession of her—unconsciously, unquestioningly.

"Ah, you are back in the vortex, Mr. Eldon—the dear old vortex?"

"Yes!" A faint suspicion of awkwardness spoiled his usually perfect manner. "Yes, I am just de retour. How kind of people to give these little soirées at this time of the year, when there is positively no other way of getting warm!"

"And I am ungrateful enough to be running away now. There is so much going on, isn't there?"

"But you will give me a few words before you go. Come downstairs and let us drink to the memory of dear old Nice! And—I have news."

"Your engagement, and I was forgetting my congratulations!" He took breath. "How unpardonable of me, but really so many of my friends have taken the fatal step just lately I'm getting quite confused. Is your fiancée here?"

"No, unfortunately."

"Ah, my misfortune, I am sure. Well, it leaves me something to look forward to. Good night, Mr. Eldon, and my wishes for your future happiness. There's my chaparron. I must fly."

She waved a frivolous hand. There was a look of surprised disappointment on his charming face. And yet he gave another deep sigh of relief as he turned into the ballroom.

"Wonderful luck! But somehow I thought she'd take it differently," said he to himself.

And she drove home. Only when she got to her own room and remembered just what she had meant to say and just what she had said did she see the humor of it, and thereupon she cried.

Thackeray's Reply.

Thackeray was not a humorist in the sense that Dickens was nor a wit in the sense that Jerrold was, but he now and then said a good thing in a quiet way. He was pestered on one occasion while in America by a young gentleman of an inquiring mind as to what was thought of this person and that person in England. "Mr. Thackeray," he asked, "what do they think of Tupper?" "They don't think of Tupper," was the reply.

PRESIDENT AT CHURCH

Accompanied by a Rough Rider Friend, Family, and Sister-in-Law.

WON'T RECEIVE DELEGATIONS.

Hopes Matters, Except of Most Pressing Importance, Will Be Submitted by Mail—Meagre Hotel Accommodations May Keep Many Away.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 7.—In discussing the president's stay at Oyster Bay, Secretary Cortelyou yesterday said that there seemed to be considerable misapprehension as to some features of it. He stated that there would be no elaborate office establishment and that the only clerical force maintained would consist of two stenographers. Arrangements have about been concluded for its use of two rooms in the bank building for office purposes and it will be there that the president will transact most of his business when he comes into town.

Restful Holiday Planned.

Both the president and his secretary have planned to make their brief holiday as restful as possible and to that end will transact in Oyster Bay only the most immediate public business. Everything else will be transmitted to Washington for attention there either by the regular White House force, or, in cases where action is required, by the various departments. This is in accordance with the practice which has been followed successfully during previous summers. The president will not receive delegations and hopes to have all matters intended for him, not of the most pressing importance, submitted by correspondence.

The meagre hotel accommodations here will go far toward giving the president that rest and freedom from unnecessary official cares which he has made it plain to everyone he desires. What scant accommodations there are have been already pre-empted, and persons arriving here from this time on during the president's stay will probably find themselves without a place to sleep.

President Went to Church.

The president spent a restful night at Sagamore Hill. Even the howling of the family dog, which was kept up continuously, did not disturb his slumbers. He rose early and attended services at Christ Episcopal church. In his carriage were Miss Carow, his son Archie and Lieutenant Ferguson, of the Rough Riders, who is his guest. While waiting for Mrs. Roosevelt and the rest of the family the president stood outside the church and greeted his friends. To a newspaper man he laughingly remarked that Mrs. Roosevelt and the children were coming along in an express wagon.

DESPERATE CONVICT ESCAPED.

Tracy Forced Family to Give Food, Bound Them and Made Him Row Man Row Him Away in Boat.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—Harry Tracy, the Oregon convict, again has eluded his pursuers, after a display of great daring.

According to information received at the sheriff's office Sunday, Tracy slept in a cemetery on the outskirts of Seattle, after his battle Thursday night with Seattle officers. On Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food and slept and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point and compelled a Japanese fisher boy to row him to Madison Point. Tracy watched the house of Fancher Johnson for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding but two, he entered and announced that he intended to kill every one on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added: "Put after seeing your pretty little girl, I will kill no one of you if you all mind me. I will be here all day."

Made Them Furnish Breakfast.

The family prepared breakfast for Tracy. Tracy then read Friday evening's papers, and after learning how Mrs. Van Horn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy, said he had been careless in not keeping every one in that house constantly under his eye.

"My carelessness in this respect made it necessary to kill two officers,"

VICTOR HUGO STREET, ST. PIERRE, AFTER THE ERUPTION.
Rue Victor Hugo was the principal street of St. Pierre and the above picture, made from a photograph, shows how it looked after Mont Pelée had wrecked its buildings and killed all its people.

he said.

He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food, clothing and blankets made into bundles.

At 8 o'clock he bound and tightly gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars, and started down the sound.

Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later, and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. McKay secured a boat and sent word to Seattle yesterday morning. Sheriff Cuddehe was summoned from Bothell, and at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, with several men, started down the sound in the Sea Lion, an electric tugboat, looking for the desperado and the farm hand. However, as Tracy had 15 hours start, it was believed he will make good his escape.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Value of a Single Plant.

The value of a single plant is well illustrated by the Concord grape. It may seem an extravagant statement to say the original Concord vine was worth $1,000,000. In one year in a single district the value of the product of Concord grape vineyards amounted to $2,000,000. That one vine was the foundation of an interest that represents more than $100,000,000.

Supposing the original Ben Davis apple had been destroyed before it had been propagated, what would be a reasonable sum to represent its loss? Thousands of people have made large sums growing the Ben Davis who would have made but little had they not had this variety.

There are single berries that, had they been lost, would have held back hundreds of farmers from paying off mortgages on their homes. Take the Kansas raspberry, the Early Harvest blackberry, the Warfield, Gandy, Aroma and other strawberries and estimate the money these plants have put into the pockets of growers.

And then but for the art of grafting in its many forms there never would have been but one Concord grapevine and but one Ben Davis apple tree, and the same with all the popular varieties of fruits, whether growing on trees, shrubs, canes or vines.

Progress in Agriculture.

There is a great deal of noise made, and it is justified by the facts, about our wonderful progress in manufactures. In fact, the civilized world is astounded because our manufacturers are invading countries from which we took our first lessons and surpassing them in the quality of products and in economy of manufacture, even with higher priced labor. In agriculture there has been as much progress, but much less has been said about it. Some years ago corn, wheat, oats, cotton and potatoes constituted about 90 per cent of our farm products. Now, with the exception of a few subtropical products, we are producing all the products of all the nations of the earth and are shipping large quantities over every sea. As an example of agricultural progress we can mention the fact that we can by our advanced methods grow rice at less cost than any other country and pay eight times as much for labor. In bread, grains, fruits and live stock of every kind we now lead every other country. So true is this that an embargo on American products would inaugurate a famine over half the earth. And yet we have not reached one-half the capacity of our soil.—Farm and Ranch.

"Father of Arbor Day."

J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture during President Cleveland's second administration, whose death was announced on April 7, has left to the farmer a few innovations which will perpetually remain as monuments to his memory, says an exchange. He was known as the "Father of Arbor Day," a day when trees are planted in all portions of the United States not only by agriculturists, but also largely participated in by school children. Secretary Morton also believed that congress when appropriating money for flower and vegetable seeds should spend an equal sum in publishing bulletins which might be useful to the farmer. Out of this idea grew the inauguration of the publication of farmers' bulletins.

Angleworms Are All Right.

Angleworms are in your garden because they find plenty of food there and the soil conditions suited to them.

YOUR FAITH will be as strong as Shiloh's Consumption Cure

and ours is so strong we guarantee a cure or refund money, and we send you a free trial bottle if you write for it. Karl's Clover Root Tea corrects the Stomach

Boys who go fishing know where to go and get worms with the least work. They pick out cool, moist places where the soil is dark colored and full of rotting vegetable matter. This rotting humus is what the angleworm feeds on, swallowing chunks or masses of the soil, digesting the organic matter and expelling the undigested soil. These worms will do no harm to your garden. They are among the useful friends of the farmer, for they work over the soil and open it to air and water.

Farm Laborers in Kansas.

T. B. Grow, state employment agent, authorizes the statement that Kansas can get through the harvest without extra help. Statements of an exaggerated character have been published to the effect that there was great need of harvest hands in that state, and this as resulted in a flood of inquiries on the subject. Mr. Grow's announcement is contradictory of the estimates that have been made of a materially reduced yield of wheat from Kansas fields.

Rape For Swine.

The value of rape as a pasture for swine is a matter of controversy among farmers who have tried it. Some say that hogs do not like it and will only eat it when especially hungry for green feed. Professor Shaw urges farmers not to give it up; that hogs will become fonder of it as time rolls round; that it is the same with sheep. Those fresh from the ranges do not like rape at first, but gradually overcome this dislike and afterward are very fond of it.

Let the Man Do the Milking.

While it may be rather hard to say yet it is the fact that one of the advantages in making the farmer himself do the milking and take care of the milk and cream is that in a short time he will supply himself with all the necessary conveniences for doing the work with as little labor as possible. It may be difficult to induce him to do this as long as his wife does the work, but the necessity will become readily apparent if he is obliged to do the work.

Showing the Tyrannous Effect of Habit Upon a Wild Animal.

A vague figure appeared out of the clouds, traveling against the wind toward the spire and looking more like a ragged piece of newspaper whirled about the heavens than any living thing. It was a white owl, and after watching him for some time I came to the conclusion that he was trying to get to the vane of the spire. A very idle ambition it seemed, for, although he succeeded again and again in getting to within a few yards of the point aimed at, he was on each occasion struck by a fresh violent gust and driven back to a great distance, often quite out of sight in the gloom. But presently he would reappear, still struggling to reach the vane. A crazy bird!

But I could not help admiring his pluck and greatly wondered what his secret motive in aiming at that windy perch could be. And at last, after so many defeats, he succeeded and grasped the metal crossbar with his crooked talons. The wind with all its fury could not tear him from it, and after a little flapping he was able to pull himself up, and then, bending down, he deliberately wiped his beak on the bar and flew away!

This, then, had been his powerful, mysterious motive—just to wipe his beak, which he could very well have wiped on any branch or barn roof or fence and saved himself that tremendous labor. This was an extreme instance of that tyrannous effect of habit on a wild animal. Doubtless this bird had been accustomed after devouring his first mouse to fly to the vane, where he could rest for a few minutes, taking a general view of the place, and wipe his beak at the same time, and the habit had become so strong that he could not forego his vice, it even on so tempestuous an evening.

FEEHAN'S BODY

FOUND AFLOAT AT WHEELING AND IDENTIFIED.

The body of Thomas Feehan, the kilnman at Laughlin No. 2 who was drowned while bathing in the Ohio river last Tuesday, was recovered at Wheeling Saturday morning by A. W. Cramer, residing at 143 Virginia street, who was rowing across the river in a skiff to his work at Wheeling. When near the steel bridge Cramer saw the body floating down the river, and later towed it to the Wheeling plant, where he and Harry Dean notified the Wheeling authorities. Reports from Wheeling say that the body had the appearance of having been in the water for from eight to 10 days.

Charles Gallagher, of this city, who was in Wheeling Saturday, upon hearing that a "floater" had been found went to the undertaking rooms of C. H. Watkins and identified the body. An inquest was held by "Squire Allen and a verdict of "found drowned" rendered. Later a message was sent to the dead man's relatives at Trenton, notifying them that the body had been recovered. An answer was received to prepare the body for burial, using a metallic casket and forward it to Trenton. These instructions were followed. Additional information received from Trenton is to the effect that Feehan was 32 years old, and that his father is Patrick Feehan, who with six sons and a daughter reside at No. 818 Spruce street. Feehan was well known in pottery circles at Trenton, where he had been employed and was when a resident of Trenton a member of the Brotherhood.

HIT BY A POLE

An Italian on Street Car Steps Got a Terrible Blow.

An Italian laborer whose name is known only as Mike lies at his home near Walker with a badly crushed head, the result of standing on the lower step of a street car while it was crossing the Jethro bridge yesterday. In company with several friends he was in the midst of a heated argument when he suddenly bent backward trying to make his point more explicit.

His action might have resulted fatally, as a telephone came in contact with him, giving him a terrible blow on the side and front of his head. He reeled from the car and when picked up was bleeding profusely. No physician was called and he was removed to his home, where he now suffers.

On the following Thursday a game is scheduled to be played in West End park with the Kent, O., team.

Those taken as the team are: D. Emmerting and Farrell, catchers; Mailey, Winters, McShane and Patterson, pitchers; Maag, ss; Berry, 1b; Osborne, 2b; Davis, 3b; John Becka, thorn, Reark, Webb and Trainer, the field.

SPORTS WERE CHASED

One Interested in a Cocking Main Ran From Beaver to Vanport.

Sports from this city who visited the cock fights about seven miles out from Beaver Falls Friday had an experience that they will not soon forget. While men who claimed to be Pittsburgh detectives were after two East Liverpool men, who were claimed to be some of the promoters of the fights, they escaped, one of them running all the way from Beaver to Vanport, where he got on the midnight train and came to this city. As it was several arrests were made, but strange to say it is stated that no person from Beaver Falls was arrested, although they were interested in the fight.

One man from Toronto who won $50 on the fights was arrested and paid a fine of $19.60, while various other

A SHOW DOWN

IS NOW NECESSARY IN COLUMBIANA COUNTY.

Mr. Phelps Enters the Contest There, Owing to the Endorsement of Organized Labor — What He Says to His Friends.

A showdown will now be necessary in the matter of votes in Columbiana county, as Hon. Wallace H. Phelps, of Alliance, has entered the contest there by paying in the assessment of $200 to Chairman McNutt, of the Columbiana committee, which he did under date of July 3. Hence a primary must be held, the date of which has been fixed as Saturday, July 12, from 12:30 to 6:30 p. m., Central Standard time. In speaking of the matter to a reporter Mr. Phelps said:

"The action taken by organized labor in endorsing my candidacy made this step necessary and it was also requested by a number of friends of Columbiana county lying near to my home town of Alliance. In fact, parts of our town, to all practical intents and purposes, lie across the line, in Columbiana and Mahoning counties, and those two counties have a common interest in the splendid city of Alliance, with Stark.

"I have but a few days in which to canvass both Columbiana and Stark counties. I shall not be able to see all my friends in these counties in that length of time, but I appeal to them everywhere to give me their cordial support, even though I should be unable to see them, assuring one and all that the same will be heartily appreciated."

LOADED FREIGHT CARS SMASHED TO PIECES

A Cleveland and Pittsburg Train Wrecked at the Foot of Market Street Sunday Morning
and Much Damage Done.

POTTERS' SUPPLY WORKS HAD A CLOSE CALL

One of the worst freight wrecks in the history of this city occurred yesterday morning at 7 o'clock on the C. & P. road between the C. & P. depot and the foot of Washington street.

Extra freight No. 99, west bound, in charge of Conductor Willis Jordan, of Wellsville, from the Conway yards, was pulling through the city at rapid rate. The train consisted of 85 loaded cars, nearly all coke loads, but a few loaded oil and lumber cars. The coke was bound for the National Steel company at Mingo.

Just below the passenger depot a spectator who was sitting at that point noticed a broken axle on one of the coke cars, and soon the cars began leaving the tracks and piling up in shapeless masses between Union and Market streets, which by the way, affords a very narrow passage. When the cars began leaving the track, the rails spread, and 16 cars altogether were piled in the wreckage that followed.

One of the cars of the train crashed into the south end building of the Potters' Supply plant, completely demolishing the corner of the building and scattered and piled up coke in a conglomerated mass. Just opposite, where John Rinehart recently had his livery quarters, five cars are smashed to splinters and the contents of coke scattered, trucks broken, a jammed mass of wreckage having no semblance hardly of having been loaded freight cars.

Four more cars lie careened, broken and off the tracks from the Potters' Supply company to Market street, but a number of these, whose trucks, however, were all right, were gotten on the tracks again.

At this point one of the cars crashed into the home of Thomas Abrams, who resides on the north corner at the foot of Market street. Mr. Abrams says he was soundly sleeping when the crash came and his bedroom is immediately abutting the tracks. He sprang from his bed and got out of his home in short order, witnessing also the piling up of the wreckage. It is indeed fortunate that piling up of the cars did not take place at this point, or the loss of life would have been recorded, for many families live along the tracks in this vicinity, all of whom were badly frightened and awakened by the wreck and a number of whom witnessed the piling up of the cars in a confused mass. Below Market street but one car left the track. It was badly wrecked and lost its rear trucks. It was gotten on the track again by the wrecking crew.

Engineer Thomas Croft, of Wellsville, and Fireman W. H. Marshall, who were hauling the train with one of the big moguls, No. 634, of the C. & P., says he was hauling 80 loads all told. When near the foot of Union street he felt the train jerk and immediately whistled for brakes. He says he hauled eight cars out safely ahead of the wrecked ones and took them to Wellsville. The front brakeman, J. F. Roof, riding on the third car back of the engine, jumped and escaped injury. The rest of the crew were all on the rear of the train and in the caboose, No. 619, and all escaped with only a little shaking up by the sudden stopping of the rapidly moving train.

Engineer Croft and Conductor Jordan immediately pulled on to Wellsville, and at 8 o'clock the Wellsville wreck train was on the scene with a large force, and all set on hands in this immediate vicinity were ordered out for track repairs. The tracks are twisted and roadbed away for some distance.

On the arrival of the wreck train and train dispatcher, a portable telegraph service was established at the foot of Market street, the dispatcher directing the movements of trains and making his reports from this point. The Conway wreck train also came to the scene at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

After communications were established, some 50 of the uninjured cars of the train were hauled off the main track and sidetracked near the C. C. Thompson pottery allowing the Conway wreck train to work on the north end of the wreckage.

Wreck Master Aten, of Wellsville, took charge of the wreck crews, and sent also for the Alliance wreck train, making three wreck trains brought here, Conway, Wellsville and Alliance.

Both the Conway and Alliance trains carried big steam cranes, and they lifted out the big mass of wreckage to the side of the tracks on Market and Washington streets. A large force of laborers were employed in clearing away the coke. The mass of cars and coke lay near the Potters' Supply company to the height of fully 10 or 12 feet, and this required a great deal of labor to clear away the debris.

Passenger train No. 361, west bound, Sunday morning, was stopped here and passengers transferred to another train made up at Wellsville and brought to the foot of Market street. A transfer was also made on train No. 364, east bound.

The tracks were cleared by 6 o'clock last night, and the evening passenger trains passed through. It will require all day today to clear away the debris.

An intoxicated tourist occupied one of the box cars on the pottery siding that were side swiped, but fortunately got out before the cars began to pile up.

The loss will aggregate fully $15,000, and the damage to pottery and other buildings $500.

But for the timely placing of three cars on the Potters' Supply company's siding by the 633 shifting crew of this city, the damage to the pottery building would have been much greater, as these cars warded off the overturned cars until they reached the lower end of the building.

The wreck crews worked all night last night to finish clearing away the debris.

Sale of Lodge Property.

Lisbon, July 7. — (Special) — Susanna Lodge, as administratrix of M. O. Lodge, late of Leetonia, has sold lot No. 235 in Leetonia to S. R. McCready for $14,250; lot 543 to Alexander McNickle for $49 and lot 937 to Margaret Hennessey Sr. for $10.

FIREBUGS ARE AT WORK IN WELLSVILLE ALSO

The police department is endeavoring to effect the capture of an incendiary who has been working in the neighborhood of Thirteenth, Main and Center streets, Wellsville. Three attempts were made to burn the premises occupied by F. E. Fitzpatrick. Fire caught in a shed Tuesday forenoon on the same property, the fire department being called out. On two succeeding evenings an effort was made to ignite a shed building from the rear of the place on Center street.

Miss Maude Clyde saw a man striking matches Friday night in an endeavor to kindle a blaze; later the fellow, who was in his shirt sleeves, was observed by Mrs. Dean to be making a fire. He was unsuccessful and the man returned with a tin can. Shortly after midnight Saturday morning Mrs. Haney saw a blaze coming from the rear of the Fitzpatrick restaurant and she aroused Justice Haney, who found the fire burning rapidly, but soon put it out.

The block is built solidly with business houses that front on Main street, and a blaze in that quarter would do much damage. Merchants are keeping nightly watch on their stores, three burglaries having occurred in the one square during the past two months. Strong efforts are being made to capture the firebug.

AN INCENDIARY FIRES TIN MILL

Blaze at Lisbon Thought to Be Result of Revenge or Spite Work.

NO FIRE IN THE PLANT

For Some Days, Yet Two Serious
Blazes Started on the Inside on Saturday—Damage to Amount of

Lisbon, July 7. — (Special) — What might have been a most destructive fire occurred Saturday evening at the Beaver plant of the American Tin Plate company here. The first alarm was sent in at 7:40 and before department No. 1 arrived the inside of the machine shop was burning fiercely in two places. The shop was almost a total wreck before the blaze was extinguished.

The firemen had started to leave when it was discovered that the grease house was on fire and they were sent back and company No. 2 called out.

Master Mechanic Wesley McCord estimates the damage to the building at about $700, and that to the machinery at $1,000. The loss is covered by insurance. If either of these fires had been left alone for a few minutes longer they would have gained great headway and a large part of the mill would probably have been destroyed.

The fact that in an hour's time two fires started on the inside of two separate buildings of a mill which has been shut down for a week and had no fire burning anywhere indicates incendiaryism. The firemen say that when they arrived on the scene the wrenches and nozzles belonging to the mill fire apparatus were missing, and that immediately after their arrival a nozzle was taken from their hose cart. They also missed wrenches and other pieces of apparatus. A wrench and nozzle was found on the opposite side of the mill under a freight car.

During the late liquor agitation here letters threatening the use of dynamite were sent to the mill officials. The origin of the letters was traced at the time, but no arrests were made, as the guilty parties were said to be employees of the mill. It is thought that the persons who wrote the letters set the mill on fire. The matter is being investigated and arrests will probably be made soon.

A 12-year-old East Liverpool lad, whose companions refuse to divulge his name, on account of the fact that his mother is in ill health, almost lost his life while in swimming at Walker yesterday afternoon. He got out beyond his depth, and sank twice before his companions could reach him.

When brought to shore he had to be rolled on the ground to resuscitate him. His boy companions were badly scared over the incident and therefore keep their names quiet. The mother does not yet know how close her boy came to his death.

ANOTHER ASSAULT ON THE SALOONS

mons Here.

WILL ORGANIZE A LEAGUE

He Praises the Local Option Laws of Ohio and New York—Says the Eastern Metropolis Is Now a Wide-Open
City—His Remedy.

F. A. Victor, of New York, who is national organizer for the Young People's Prohibition League, delivered two talks Sunday in the First United Presbyterian church and First M. E. church, of this city, at 3 p. m. in the former and 8 p. m. in the latter.

Mr. Victor is a young man of sterling qualities and convictions. His talk was listened to by a good audience and was along absolute prohibition lines. Soldiers, sailors, statesmen, educators and legislators each had their reasons why this land of ours was great; soldiers and sailors accorded it to military and naval power; statesmen to civil government; educators to intelligence, and legislators to legislation, but there was a greater reason, found within the bible; righteousness exalted a nation.

Christianity made the nation great. Our forefathers had laid the foundation—the pilgrims at Plymouth Rock, the sturdy Quakers and exiled Catholics elsewhere. But notwithstanding we are a Christian nation, we were slaves of the rum traffic. The press of large cities was under the domination of the liquor element, and he cited instances in proof of his assertion. The minister, who failed to speak from the pulpit against the evils of liquor, certainly stood convicted of neglect of duty.

Referring to efforts at local option legislation in the states of Ohio and New York, the speaker said that only within the past few years had any measures beneficial been enacted, and that legislators would not grant a really desirable law. The license laws, too, had not wiped out the traffic to any satisfactory degree.

He spoke of the municipal reign of Mayor Low, of New York city. Side doors of saloons today were wide open, yet Mayor Low offered no further reason than that he could not control the sale of liquor on Sunday, owing to the many nationalities existing in that city. They were trampling out law and good government. The measures put forth by all classes of temperance workers passed unheeded at Albany.

The ballot box, therefore, was the means by which the Christian citizens could wage the only effective war against the rum traffic by electing men to enact prohibitory laws. A prohibitory law with a man behind it was most dreaded by the liquor fraternity and gave the history of a man elected sheriff in Cumberland county, Maine, who enforced the laws and wiped out 150 open saloons illegally existing.

Citizens, he argued, should vote a Prohibition ticket until sentiment was created and enough force rallied around such a standard to make it effective, since license laws had proven

in his opinion so unavailing. It was the Christian's duty to work, vote and pray for the reign of temperance.

Mr. Victor, while in the city, will try to organize a branch of the Young People's Prohibition League.

Delegate John H. Martin, from Liberty tent, Rechabites, to the state tent at McLurey, O., Thursday, reports an enthusiastic session and royal reception. A banquet followed the closing session, and the reports of the state officers were most satisfactory. The following were elected state officers for the ensuing year:

L. G. Dover, Zanesville, P. G. C. R.; George Barringer, Zanesville, G. C. R.; William McPeck, McLurey, G. D. R.; George Paugh, Zanesville, G. Sec. treas.; John H. Martin, East Liverpool, G. Levite; Thomas Hall, East Liverpool, G. chaplain; L. G. Dover, Zanesville, representative to high tent.

East Liverpool was chosen as the next place to hold the grand tent session on the second Tuesday in July, 1902.

Mrs. McPeck, of Zanesville, was elected state female lecturer and Mr. White, of the same city, was elected visiting lecturer for primary tents.

WANTED TO KILL HIM

Bottom.

Peter Fleisch, a resident of Sandy Bottom, was held up Saturday evening, it is claimed by two Kentuckians. Fleisch was walking along Pennsylvania avenue, in company with John Brannon, and when near the new building being erected on that avenue by Henry Chambers, Fleisch and Brannon were attacked by the two men, who held stones in their hands. This is the story told by Fleisch today.

Fleisch stated these men wanted to kill him, and that Brannon caught one of the Kentuckians by the throat and made him drop the stones. Several officers from the East End fire station were summoned and examined the stones that were dropped by the Kentuckians. It is now thought that several arrests will result.

DISEASE CAME FROM CANTON

Chester is stirred up by a smallpox scare today, but there appears to be no great danger of the spread of the disease. Sunday afternoon, Thomas Fitzpatrick, who resides up Middle run some distance outside the Chester corporation, and in a house owned by George Shecker, was reported to have a breaking out on his face.

Dr. Lewis, of Chester, visited the home and says from his first examination he judges it is a case of smallpox. The doctor says Fitzpatrick was exposed to the disease at Canton, two weeks ago before coming to Chester, where he is employed in the mill. The doctor notified Marshal Allison, who went to the home and placed it under quarantine, posting a notice on the house. An irate woman, Mrs. Bressell, tore down the notice while the officer was standing near, and he threatened her with arrest if she persisted in such work, and she went her way.

Fitzpatrick, with some boon companions, one named Blair, a Welshman, residing on Carolina avenue, and having a family, and another man, who has left since he heard of Fitzpatrick's plight, were reported to have been in the house sleeping and drinking together for a day and a night.

Marshal Allison appointed 10 deputies and established a strict quarantine. Many of the residents work in the mill and tried to evade the officials, but were overhauled and brought back. Last night George Shecker and a man named Stevens as deputies guarded the quarantined house all night.

A widow named Hart and family occupy the other end of the double house, and they are also under rigid quarantine.

Dr. Beaumont, president of the county board of health of Hancock county, was summoned from New Cumberland today. Dr. Beaumont, accompanied by Dr. Lewis, will make a rigid examination of Fitzpatrick's case today, and should it prove that he has a bad type of smallpox, stricter measures for blotting out the disease and preventing its spread, will then be put in force.

The Chester council will erect a shanty away from the other homes and Fitzpatrick and other patients, should they develop the disease, will be placed therein and held until cured and discharged. The deputies appointed will remain as long as needed.

The man Blair, who is at his home on Carolina avenue, and who was most exposed to Fitzpatrick, will probably be rigidly quarantined. He has quite a family and lives right in the heart of Chester.

Drs. Beaumont and Lewis today gave the case a rigid diagnosis and pronounce it smallpox of the virulent type. The parties are now strictly under guard, three deputies being on guard.

The families were preparing to move out last night when stopped by Officer Elliott of the Chester force.

Dr. Beaumont, the county health officer, will be kept fully informed of the situation and devise every measure and take every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

STREET CARS WILL BE RUN WITHIN THE YEAR

At the meeting of the committees on the Pleasant Heights street car line extension, held on Saturday night in the city hall, it is said that a conclusion was reached that is agreeable to all concerned. However, nothing could be learned of a positive nature from any of the committees this morning.

They said that there had been an agreement made to withhold it from the public until it reaches the city council which meets in regular session tomorrow evening.

One of the committee when asked in regard to the meeting said: "I can't say what was done, but people will be riding up Pleasant Heights within the year."

From this the supposition is entertained that the railway company made the concession which has been the bone of contention for so long.

VERY GOOD TIME MADE

The Track Fast and the Weather All That Could Be Desired—The Winners in the Three Events—Last Race an Exciting One.

Fully 500 persons witnessed the races at Columbian park Saturday afternoon, which proves that good horse racing is relished by residents of this city. The larger number of those at the park Saturday afternoon were from East Liverpool. The visiting Turners were in the minority.

The races, to say the least, were very interesting, and some very good time was made in at least two of the events. The track was fast, and the weather all that could be desired. In the first race, the 2:20 pace, Robert L., owned by William Larkins, of this city, won three out of four heats. Dr. Harker, of Captain Fickes' stable at New Cumberland, won second place, while William W., owned by William Timmons, took third place. The following is the official heats:

The last race was considered by all to be one of the best of the afternoon. It was for blood from the tap of the bell, and was as exciting a race as has been seen at Columbian park for years.

In the last race Dr. McFarland acted as starter. A purse of $100 was divided between the three races, each owner receiving $10, as no entry fee was charged.

John Porter, for several years employed as a motorman, and recently a conductor on the East Liverpool railway, has left the city and his whereabouts at the present time are not known, either to his friends or his family.

Porter left suddenly last Friday, and he left no word as to where his destination would be. He has also severed his connection with the railroad company, and for some time has been residing with his wife on Railroad street, just across the railroad tracks from the power house.

J. W. Jobling, formerly of this city, but now in the government service at Manila, P. I., writes to his friend, Will Lewis, of this city:

"I am pretty well fixed at present; am director of the Serum institute, an institution for preparing vaccine and serum for the treatment of diseases, at a salary now of $2,000 a year, which will soon be increased to $2,400. It is a civil service position. I have been out of the army for some time, but will never regret the experiences I passed through this last time.

"We are having considerable cholera just at present, but very few Americans have been attacked. I had charge of the first cholera hospital; we had a great many natives, but only six Americans, two of whom died, but they were addicted to drink. If the Americans obey the printed instructions which have been scattered broadcast, very few would catch the disease. I will have to leave for Japan in a few weeks, and will stay two months, the commission paying my expenses. I am going to stay with Kitasto, the great Japanese bacteriologist, to study serum work. Send me an East Liverpool New Review.

Underwater Fruits.

The most conspicuous examples of plants whose fruits ripen only under water are furnished by the species Vallisneria spiralis, plants found mostly in the south of Europe, but also cultivated elsewhere in aquariums. The male flower is short and insignificant, while the female grows on a very long stem of corkscrew shape and has something of the appearance of a snowdrop. It floats on the surface of the water until the fertilization, by means of the pollen, is complete. The spiral then contracts, and the fruit is withdrawn under the water to ripen. Notable specimens of underwater ripening in England are furnished by bladderworts and a species of vallisneria known popularly as the "water soldier." Of marine plants certain varieties of seaweed, notably the red, also ripen under water.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Lazzaroni of Naples.

A century ago there were 30,000 "lazzaroni" in Naples. Neither disease nor want had diminished their number. Their children die at a fearful rate, but there are many hospitals for the survivors, and neither board nor lodging costs them much when, at a mature age, they are turned loose into the world to become lazzaroni in their turn, like their unknown fathers and mothers.

"What is a lazzarone?" It may be asked. According to Colletta, he is a being who lives how he can without working. If he puts his hand to honest labor, he is no longer a lazzarone. It may be doubted whether the lazzarone will ever become extinct. The "resuscitation" scheme will not oust him nor make him change his habits. He is more than half what his climate makes him.—National Review.

Baltimore, July 7.—Lieutenant D. C. Engineer, artilleryman, scout, gunboat commander and map maker by turns, he had considerable opportunity of seeing the archipelago, which, he states, possesses untold resources.

"The future of the Philippines is bright," Lieutenant Lyles said. Order has been restored from chaotic conditions which obtained in the days of the Spanish. The climate is splendid, the people for the most part are amiable and appreciative of what the United States has done for them and it is my opinion that the archipelago comprises the richest territory in the world."

THE POPE'S BLESSING

Given to Crowd at Celebration of Twenty-Fourth Anniversary of Coronation.

FETES HELD AT THE VATICAN.

Rome, July 7.—All the members of the American college at Rome, including Rev. Dr. Thomas Kennedy, rector of the college, and Fathers McCate, McCourt and Mullin, of Philadelphia, were present last evening at the fetes held at the Vatican in celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the coronation of the pope.

The entire papal court and thousands of members of all the Catholic societies represented in Rome assembled at 6 o'clock last evening in the great Belvedere court of the Vatican and paid homage to his holiness. The court was beautifully adorned with tapestries and a profusion of plants and flowers. The pope occupied an especially constructed and richly decorated gallery. His holiness entered the court by way of the Lapidary museum and the library. He was greeted with enthusiastic acclamations, and the band played the pontifical march. A chorus, composed for the occasion, was sung by a choir of several hundred pupils from all the clerical schools in Rome, who defiled before the pope, carrying banners. The Vatican officials, a number of ladies and the members of the diplomatic corps witnessed the scene from windows overlooking the court.

The fete was brought to a close by the pope pronouncing a pontifical blessing, after which he was again acclaimed. A great flock of pigeons, sent to Rome from all the chief towns of Italy, was then released. The pigeons flew off to their homes, each one bearing an announcement that the ceremonies had taken place.

The pope, who was delighted with the fete, was in excellent health, and his physicians announce that he has improved both in health and spirits in the past year.

A dinner in celebration of the anniversary was given in the Vatican at noon Sunday to 150 of the poor of Rome. Cardinal Respighi and a number of prelates and papal officials were present.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES' MEETING.

Much Interest Manifested in Coming Convention, in August, at Chicago.

Cincinnati, July 7.—Much interest is being manifested throughout the country regarding the national convention of Catholic Societies in Chicago, Aug. 5, 6 and 7. It is estimated that a million Catholics will be represented at this convention, including all the leading societies in the United States. Distinguished churchmen and laymen have signified their presence. The opening services will be held at the Holy Name cathedral, with Archbishop Feehan, Bishops Muldoon, McFaul, Messmer and other prelates in the sanctuary. Since the inception of the movement in Cincinnati, last December, when but one state federation, that of Ohio, existed, the federation has made phenomenal advances. The following states will have permanent federations by Aug. 5: New Jersey, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Alabama, Massachusetts, and probably New York, Illinois, Kansas and Minnesota.

The executive board of the federation will meet in Chicago with supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus, Knights of St. John, Catholic Knights of America, Catholic Order of Foresters, Irish Catholic Benevolent union, Young Men's Institute, Catholic Truth society, Central Verein, Western Catholic union, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Benevolent Legion, Catholic Mutual Benefit association, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, and others.

FACTS NOT FICTION

A Plain Statement of a Bad Condition and a Cure That Never Fails.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for four or five years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' drug store, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness are almost gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. I won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

two days previous to the convention to suggest changes in the constitution. All the Catholic societies in the United States, whether affiliated or not with the federation, will be invited to send delegates. One of the cardinal principles of the federation is that in furthering its objects it does not in any way interfere with the government or disturb the autonomy of any organization affiliated with it.

VATICAN WISHES COMPROMISE.

Rome, July 7.—The Vatican is striving to find a compromise between satisfying the desires of Washington, as set forth by Judge William H. Taft, governor of the Philippines, and relieving the holy see from direct responsibility for the withdrawal of the friars from the Philippine archipelago. Several plans to this end have been discussed by the Vatican authorities. The most acceptable of these is that the generals of the four religious orders concerned, having been informed of Washington's request, shall themselves order the withdrawal of their dependents, who now number about 500.

This plan would necessitate a letter from the general of each order to Governor Taft, pledging the writer to this action, or the insertion of a clause in the contract between Judge Taft and the Vatican that steps to this end will be taken immediately by the generals when they are aware of the wishes of the United States. The Vatican would thus be under no obligation, the pope merely accepting an accomplished fact.

STUDENTS' RELICIOUS MEETING.

East Northfield, Mass., July 7.—World's Students' conference closed Sunday with several sessions of exceptional interest. The morning gathering was addressed by Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, on "The Limitations of Christ." In the afternoon Rev. John Kolman, of Edinburgh university, spoke on "Prayer."

The subject of the twilight meeting on Round Top was "Missions," and J. M. Foreman, of India, and E. C. Carter, general secretary of the Harvard Y. M. C. A., and who is to go to India on missionary work, spoke.

The last session was in the Auditorium, and John R. Mott presided. The short addresses were by Mr. Speer, R. H. Edwards, of the Yale Y. M. C. A.; E. L. Janeway, who holds a similar position at Princeton; A. E. Fateson, of McGill university; Dr. U. Sasamori, of Nagasaki, and Cadet Titus, of West Point.

The statistics of the conference are somewhat incomplete, but it is known that 133 institutions have been represented by 614 delegates.

BIBLE CONFERENCE.

National Meeting of Young People Adjourned—Resolution Favored Annual Gatherings.

Warsaw, Ind., July 7.—The closing exercises of the first National Young People's Bible conference, at Winona, were held Sunday. The most impressive service was the hillside meeting, conducted by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, the conference director, and Rev. Arthur J. Smith, of New York. Dr. B. A. Cobin, president of DePaul university, delivered the morning sermon.

Dr. Chapman gave a strong address at the Auditorium last night. A resolution was adopted urging that the conference be made a permanent annual affair.

SONS OF BENJAMIN MET.

Independent Order Convention Re-Elects Grand Master Levy.

Philadelphia, July 7.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Independent Order Sons of Benjamin began here Sunday, with nearly 600 delegates in attendance, representing 157 lodges, comprising a membership of 20,000 in all sections of the country. The most important business of Sunday's session was the election of a grand master, Ferdinand Levy, of New York, who has held the office since 1884, being re-elected.

Among the recommendations made by Grand Master Levy in his report was one that the present rule upon the taking out of insurance, by which a male member cannot take out less than a $1,000 policy, be changed so that it is optional with him to take either a $500 or $1,000 policy. The Mutual Guarantee Fund amounts at the present time to more than $175,000, and is being constantly increased.

Postal Takes Hold of Penns Wires.

Pittsburg, July 7.—Just as the clock struck 12 last night the Postal Telegraph company opened for business in the Union station of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city. The change was made according to the recent agreement between the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Postal Telegraph company for the right to operate along the line of that railroad company east of Pittsburg and Erie. According to Postal officials, that company will share the wires on the railroad property with the Western Union Telegraph company until Dec. 1, when the contract between the Western Union and the railroad finally terminates.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Joseph Swallen, of Paris, O., killed himself by taking poison and cutting his throat.

Grace Matthews, aged 16, died at Massillon from injuries sustained by the bursting of a cannon.

Margaret, the 15-months-old daughter of Matthew Kessler, was fatally scalded by the upsetting of hot tea.

Scott Robinson, a prisoner at the Ohio state penitentiary, assaulted Jack Reeves, a Columbian prisoner, in the Hayden shop and brutally beat him.

The entries for this week's race meet at Salem Driving park have closed, and the list is one of the largest ever entered at any race meet ever held in Salem.

Thomas L. Morgan, aged 26, was drowned in Lake Cohasset, at Mill Creek park, Youngstown, while boating. Andrew Laurik, a Slav, was drowned in the Mahoning river.

Donald Cook, an old resident of Youngstown, got caught in fence palings at Mill Creek park, remaining 24 hours, struggling to get free, and died just when his plight was discovered.

The Bergholz Telephone company, Bergholz, Jefferson county, with $5,000 capital, has been incorporated to erect and maintain telephone lines in Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison counties.

Lambert Royston, aged 23 years, employed on the pile driver which has been working on the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad, went to sleep while sitting under a car at Palmyra and was killed.

Ex-Marshall Charles Johnson, of Salem, who was badly injured by a fall from a railroad train early in March, and who has since been unable to use his right leg, which was broken, has returned to Alliance hospital for further treatment.

David's Line.

When David Belasco and H. C. De Mille wrote "The Charity Ball," there was a speech in it that did not please Herbert Kecey, leading man of the company. The words Kecey objected to were quoted from one of David's psalms.

Ignorant of its origin, Kecey said to Mr. De Mille:

"I don't like that line. It's bombastic and old fashioned."

"The line is not mine, but David's," replied De Mille, referring of course to the psalmist.

A Gentleman.

One of our readers sends a nice story about the question, "What is a gentleman?" Hearing a house carpenter spoken of as a gentleman by a furniture remover, he sought delicately for explanations. "Lor' bless yer, sir," answered the furniture remover, "we calls every man a gentleman as pays 20 shillings in the pound."—London Globe.

Hubby's Little Game.

Wife—What's the matter?
Husband—Some one has been robbing the firm, and I'm afraid I'll be suspected.

Wife—Impossible!

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

LAW TO CONTROL TRUSTS.

President Invited Littlefield to Prepare Bill, Which He Will Back.

Oyster Bay, July 7.—It has been ascertained that the president's speech at Pittsburg on the Fourth of July in reference to the trust question was merely a forerunner of determined efforts by him to have congress take up that subject and enact definite legislation at the next session for the control and supervision of trusts.

Recently the president and Attorney General Knox held a conference with Representative Littlefield, of Maine, whose knowledge of constitutional law is admitted, at which Mr. Littlefield was invited to prepare a bill for the regulation and control of the trusts that will go before congress with the indorsement and influence of the president back of it. The bill will be submitted at the beginning of the next session, but before this is done the president, Attorney General Knox and Mr. Littlefield will have frequent conferences as to the details.

In addition to this proposed action the president is going to talk upon the trust question a good deal on the several trips to be made by him in the fall. He has announced to friends that the question is a vital one, and he proposes to push it vigorously until there is some action by congress.

MORGAN'S VISIT TO KAISER.

A Vienna Paper Comments Upon It In Satirical Way.

Vienna, July 7.—The Neue Freie Presse has published a satirical editorial article on the fact that J. Pierpont Morgan took luncheon with Emperor William on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Kiel, July 3. The paper remarks: "Without his check book Mr. Morgan would never have been the emperor's guest."

The article harps throughout upon the probabilities of misfortune overtaking "The Napoleon of Finance," and says that gilded by the imagination, his trusts appear to be excellent, but that the first moment public confidence is disturbed the system will undergo a severe trial.

The Neue Freie Presse concludes by saying:

"Could a thought reader have penetrated the secret recesses of the minds of Emperor William and his guest, what startling contrasts might he not have discovered. In Emperor William's mind, perhaps, a yearning for fame and splendor; in that of Mr. Morgan the hope of new trusts and rising prices. How fortunate it is that social politeness veils such opposites."

MAY BE CRIMINAL ACTION.

Nora Ferris Died of Punishment at Delaware (O.) Home.

Columbus, O., July 7.—The committee of the state board of charities which has been investigating affairs of the State Industrial School for Girls, filed its report with the governor. The committee finds that Nora Ferris, an inmate, who was punished by being placed in a straight jacket, died as a result of the punishment inflicted.

The governor immediately sent a copy of the report to the attorney general, with the suggestion that he decide whether criminal action should be instituted.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Charles Hutton, Burville, Mich.

Notice to Republicans.

Notice is hereby given to the Republican electors of the Eighteenth Congressional District of Ohio, that a delegate convention to place in nomination a Candidate for Representative to Congress will be held at Salem, July 23, 1902.

At 11 o'clock, a. m.
Delegates will be selected in the several counties composing said district on the basis of the Republican vote cast for President in 1900, viz: One delegate for each 50
votes and fraction thereof in excess of 50.
COLUMBIANA, 168 Delegates
MAHONING, 89 Delegates
STARKE, 132 Delegates
By Order of Congressional Committee,
J. D. FAWCETT,
E. H. TURNER,
ED. A. KING,
Committee

Republican primaries to select a candidiate for congress will be held in this county next Saturday. This is in accordance with the arrangement made by the county central committee at its recent meeting. The entry of Wallace
H. Phelps, of Stark, in the race as a candidate in this county necessitates
the holding of a primary. Mr. Phelps has complied with the requirements and has therefore a perfect right to have his claims considered. While he is a man of excellent character and standing, it is not to be believed that any considerable number of Columbiana county voters will aid him in preference to a home candidate equally strong and able. We greatly fear, therefore, that Mr. Phelps' campaign efforts, so far as this county is concerned, will be wasted. In Hon.
Charles S. Speaker, of Lisbon, the Republicans of Columbiana have a candidate eminently deserving of their cordial and earnest support, and it is altogether unlikely that such support will be lacking. Mr. Speaker is an attorney of prominence and ability, a broad, fair-minded man, a citizen who
is public spirited and proud of his county. If he should have the good fortune to secure the nomination—and
his chances certainly are as good as those of any man in the race—it is safe to predict that he will work steadily, conscientiously and faithfully for his constituents and his country and make a representative who will be a credit to the Eighteenth district and to the state of Ohio. He is a Republican to the backbone and will support the principles and the policies that have made the party great and the nation
prosperous. He will secure the Columbiana county delegation in the coming convention, and his friends will stand by him as long as he has a fighting chance.

Through an amendment to the naval school bill, a naval training station is
to be established on the great lakes.
Congress appropriates $5,000 for the expenses of a board which will investigate sites and at its next session will make an appropriation for the school.
Chicago, realizing that the training station will be of great importance to the city that gets it, is making a strong bid for its location there. Its establishment will require a hundred acres of land and the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars for equipment. Ohio lake ports will not be backward in presenting their advantages, and will use every possible

argument to secure a favorable recommendation from the commission. The school, wherever located, will certainly meet a want of the Middle west
and will be an important adjunct of
the naval system.

The western district miners, who are now working under one of the most liberal wage scales they ever had,
show no disposition to strike in sympathy with their eastern brethren.
They appear to have reached the conclusion that they could not help them
if they did.

A Democratic newspaper asserts
that President Roosevelt, in his declaration of war against the trusts, is
"just fooling." Evidently the trusts don't think so. And any man who knows Roosevelt will not think so, either. He is always thoroughly in earnest.

A New York actress wants $50,000 damages because her pictures were used in a corset advertisement. Fancy an actress being damaged by any sort
of free advertising.

Hot weather smells that suggest the need of activity on the part of the health authorities and the garbage collector are arising in several quarters
of the city.

Mrs. Peary is getting ready to go after her husband. The name of the party who is to go after Mrs. Peary
has not been made known.

Mr. Bryan might help his own case considerably by coming out and denying that he is the Kansas City platform.

The cool days that were so unpopular in June would now be gladly welcomed if they would return.

Agumaldo, like many another man just out of jail, finds his old occupation gone.

The best hot weather advice is not
to avoid work, but to avoid worry.

There are sweltering thousands who wish it were their vacation time.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sears Shay.

Mrs. Sears Shay, one of the best known residents of the city, died at 6 o'clock this morning at her late home
in McKinnon addition, after a long illness. Death was the result of a complication of troubles with which she had been troubled for some time. She is survived by a husband and four children. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock
at the home, interment being at Riverview cemetery. The services will be in charge of Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, of which
she was a member.

Martha Craig.

Martha Craig, aged four years,
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Craig, of Nevada street, Wellsburg, died Thursday night with measles. The remains were shipped by boat Friday evening to Hartford City, Mason county, W. Va., for burial.

OUT THE CAR WINDOW

Claude Smith Thrust His Arm and a Telephone Pole
Broke It.

While riding on a street car last evening, bound for the city from Wells-burg, Claude Smith of Pennsylvania avenue, met with an accident that is causing him much pain. The street car was crossing the Jethro bridge
when Mr. Smith indiscreetly ran his right arm out a window, while making
a gesture.

A telephone pole standing close to the track came in violent contact with the arm, breaking it between the wrist
and the elbow. The injured man was compelled to suffer intensely until the car arrived at Dr. Laughlin's office
where the arm was given the necessary medical attention. The car was crowded when the accident occurred,
and it is said that several women fell
in a swoon as a result.

Paraphernalia of a Show Company in a Constable's Hands.

The paraphernalia of the Exposition
Carnival company which showed in Columbian park during four days or
last week was attached last evening
and is now in the possession of Constable Powell. The attachment was made to satisfy the claims of F. B.
Rall for $35; J. L. Day for $10.50 and
Herman Goldman for $33.

All claim that the money is due them for their labor. Attorneys have been employed by all parties and
the cases have been set for a hearing on Thursday afternoon in Squire Mc-
Carron's court.

[Special Correspondence.]

Wheeling, July 7.—Two new decorating kilns are being built at the Vance Faience art plant at Tiltonville and will be completed within the next three weeks. This company recently added a new decorating shop to its plant. It measures 60x80 feet. The employees of this plant gave a pleasant dance Thursday evening, which
was one of the social successes of the season.

J. P. Ross, a presser at the Tilton-ville plant, formerly employed at the Standard and Laughlin, at East Liverpool, has gone to Tiltonville, where he will remain a few days visiting relatives.

Hugh Clancey, who has been pressing at the Warwick, has resigned his position and has left for East Liverpool, where he will seek a position.

All the general ware shops of this city are shut down for about two weeks. The sanitary shops closed Thursday evening and they will not resume until Monday week.

A large order has been placed with
the Riverside plant for "Cuba wash-downs." There are about 3,000 pieces in the order.

All the sanitary men employed at the Riverside plant are quite elated
over the knowledge that the new uniform price list for these shops becomes operative Monday.

Daniel Moody, a kilnman at the Wheeling pottery, has been nominated by the Republicans of his district for the legislature. He has received the endorsement of the Ohio Valley Trades
and Labor Councils and the potters' local as well. His chances for election are most favorable.

The several pottery locals of this city have completed the appointment
of committees to solicit funds for the next national Brotherhood convention
which will be held here next May.

[Special Correspondence.]

Lisbon, July 7.—The Thomas China
company closed its plant but a few days. Operations suspended last Wednesday evening, and the shop starts this morning. A long run is expected.

The Thomas company will soon place a number of new designs on the market. There will be four shapes of jardiniere, a cracker jar and a new shape spittoon. This company is also meeting with good success with its underglaze work, and a new dinner
shape of this character is soon to be placed in the trade.

William Bailey, who has been employed here as a jiggerman, is working out his two weeks' notice and will leave in a few days for East Liverpool,
where he will take a similar position at the Harker plant. Jack Lease is also working out his two weeks' notice.

William Rupp, who has been working at the Lisbon tin mill, has taken a position on the biscuit bench.
Mrs. Henry Allison arrived here today from East Liverpool.

Herbert Bloor, a turner at the Buckeye, has sailed from New York
for England. Harry Watkin, a dish-maker at Seyres, also left for a visit to his former home in England, and
was accompanied by Priestly Hindle, Albert Jewell and his son. They expect to remain in England for about six weeks.

It was the intention of the Laughlin
Pottery company to start its East End plants this morning, but the statement
was made by an official of the company

that this could not be done until about Thursday. The company anticipated that some changes that were to be made in the gas connections at the plants would have been completed by Saturday, but the gas company was late in starting this work, and will not have it completed until Wednesday evening. A number of the employees started to the plant this morning to resume work, but were told to rest a few more days and report Thursday morning.

Robert Hawkins, formerly of this city, and located at the Union, but now foreman of the clay department of the Barberton pottery, was in the city last week to visit. He stated that today
the claymakers would start to work,
and if it can possibly be done the clay shops will be started in a week. All the machinery is now installed, and clay has been delivered. Quite a number of East Liverpool pottery workmen will be found at this new shop
after it is started.

A. G. White, formerly city engineer of Wellsburg, but now engineer for the American Sewer Pipe company, started for Grand Springs, Mich., to look after some big improvements to the
The American Sewer Pipe company
now has 36 factories in their regime,
the farthest western factory being at Brazil, Ind.

The Trenton Pottery company has filed the proposed amendment to its charter, making the preferred stock
non-cumulative and providing for $550,000 of refunding certificates, with which the arrearages in dividends will
be paid.

William Maley, who had been employed as a jiggerman at the Diamond pottery, but who recently obtained a similar position at the Canonsburg plant, has left for the latter place with his family.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery
will resume next Wednesday, and repairs and overhauling of machinery
are going on in the meantime. Engineer Frank Rambo is spending his vacation at Frederickstown.

Frank Earl, a kilnman at Vodrey's, has left for Wisconsin, where he will remain five weeks or more for the benefit of his health and to visit friends.

Gamble & Surles will commence their brick contract this week for the big addition to the Knowles pottery or rebuilding of the end of the old pottery.

Several buyers from Dayton, O., who have been in the city during the week,
placed some very large business.

Workmen are lowering the floors in the basement of the biscuit ware room
at the Dresden pottery.

James Feehan, a well known dipper
at the Dresden, is on the sick list.

BUT TWO OFFENDERS

One Turned Over to Infirmary Directors and One Ordered to Travel.

But two violators of the law faced
Mayor Davidson this morning. Willis
Smith, over 70 years of age, was found
very drunk on Second street by Officer
McDermott early Saturday evening.
He is helpless and the mayor issued orders that he be placed in charge of
the infirmary directors.

Dan Lyons, of Wellsburg, was arrested by Officer Rose for attempting to make an assault on an unknown person. He is a vagrant and was given ten minutes in which to leave the city.

BADLY LITTERED STREETS

Relics of the Fourth of July Arouse the Ire of the Property Owners.

A spirited dispute was indulged in by the street commissioner and a lower Main street merchant, Thomas Hamilton, this morning. Commissioner Herbert wanted to know the reason for so much rubbish in the street, which was the unremoved debris remaining from the pranks of a lot of Fourth of July celebrators. This was an opening for Mr. Hamilton, who declared that some people could evidently do as they please in this town.

He informed the commissioner that he had swept the street off during the rain and that the city ought to remove the rubbish. The block from Fourteenth to Fifteenth streets is littered with broken barrels, boxes and decaying garbage that was blown around by the powder explosions and has not been cleared. Curbing and paving were torn by the explosions, and as Hamilton had two windows broken by the concussions, suffering with his neighbors, he was in a spirited mood to talk to an official.

Mr. Herbert said that the streets would be cleaned. The top of the railroad round house has scattered boards that were blown high in the air. A number of the roundhouse windows were broken by the repeated concussions made by small cannon.

BURCHARD IS BETTER

Young Man Who Was Shot Is In a Fair Way to Recovery.

The condition of Blair Burchard, who received two bullet wounds in the neck from a pistol discharged by Geo. Snowden, Thursday evening, is favorable to the young man's recovery. While one ball passed entirely through his neck just below the ears no large arteries or veins were severed. More danger may attach to the second wound. That bullet has not been definitely located.

Snowden's hearing is set for today before the mayor. The colored prisoner regrets the affray and condemns his folly for carrying a revolver. His plea is that he acted in self defense. In talking briefly of the fight he says that several men had him cornered, and that he had no chance for making his escape. In terror of his life he used the revolver.

CRUELTY TO HORSES

The Charges on Which William Horton Will Have a Hearing.

A charge against William Horton, of the West End, will be tried before a jury in Justice Haney's court this evening at 7 o'clock. The prosecution is brought by Humane Officer Golden, of East Liverpool. The defendant has asked for a jury and will confront his accusers.

It is alleged that Horton was moving a barn on Center street a few days ago. His team was unable to pull the structure. One of the horses fell down, and residents of that vicinity declare that the horses were cruelly beaten with a shovel.

Several ladies remonstrated with Horton, who did not stop beating the animals until they were unmercifully punished. The women made their statements to Officer Golden. Horton contends that he did not mistreat his team.

Enjoyable Lawn Fete.

A lawn fete was given at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Snowden on Center street under the auspices of the A. M. E. church Saturday evening. The yard was brilliantly illuminated and music was furnished by an East Liverpool orchestra. Refreshments were served, a large crowd attended and the social was a financial success. The proceeds will be applied on the church debt, which, through the efforts of the pastor and members, has been almost entirely liquidated.

Coal Boats Tied Up.

The current in the river became very swift Saturday night, and several towns found it difficult to steer the large fleets of coal. Four steamers tied up for the night between Walker and Wellsville, among them being the Sam Brown, the Charles Cook and the Fred Wilson. Extra strong lines had to be used. At one point the river was almost bridged with coal boats.

M. E. Church Services.

Rev. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder, delivered the morning sermon at the First M. E. church, and in the evening the service was conducted by Rev. George W. Orcutt, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church, East Liverpool. Special services were observed at the Y. P. S. C. E. consecration meeting of the Christian church in the evening.

Too Hot For Services.

No services were held in the United Presbyterian church on account of the excessive heat Sunday evening. A commodable arrangement existed at the First Presbyterian, seats having been placed outside the church.

NEEDS OF CHESTER

Rev. H. M. Carnahan Thinks Better Enforcement of Law One of Them.

Rev. Herbert M. Carnahan, of the Chester M. E. church, preached a patriotic sermon to a large congregation last night, taking for his theme, "Independence Day." Freedom, he said, was a gift of God, and the more knowledge we have the greater our freedom. A nation is a group of families, and as long as they are law abiding are free and equal.

There must be a central head for every group of families. In monarchical governments the head of royal blood is either absolute or limited. Such governments jarred on the ears of Americans. So came the revolution of 1776.

The Fourth of July was founded to crown the people, and subject the king. Prophecy had been fulfilled, for "He that is least amongst you, let him be the greatest."

The people of the nation are the king, but it does not follow that every citizen under the Stars and Stripes is such. Law abiding people and not transgressors rule. Every generation must maintain the civil freedom of our forefathers. The fight today is not against any individual, but against an element that strives to take the crown from our law abiding people and outrage their moral sense. It was a degrading element, even incalculating anarchy.

The law abiding element of Chester say we keep the law ourselves, and do our duty to God and humanity, and stand for a quiet peaceful Sabbath. We want peace and order and closed mercantile doors. We want to teach our children to respect the Christian Sabbath, the true teaching of independence, liberty and freedom, and that lawlessness and immorality rampant in Chester should cease. It is tyranny upon Chester homes and sons and daughters. Chester has laws with but a few men to enforce them, and needs more officers, and also more public sentiment to back up the work of the officers.

BLOOD POISONING

Developed From a Slight Scratch Inflicted by a Nail in a Basket.

While in the act of picking up a basket in his father's restaurant at Rock Springs park last week, Charles H., the son of Charles M. Smith, scratched the thumb of his right hand on a nail in the basket. Nothing was thought of the scratch at the time, but now blood poisoning has set in, and the boy's condition is considered serious.

The thumb has been cut open twice, but now the poison has gone through his system, and last night he suffered intense pain. His arm is swollen to almost twice its normal size. The family reside in the stone house just west of the car barn.

Enjoyable Concert.

Shea's "Transformation Choir," was presented for the first time at the evening concert at Rock Springs park last evening to one of the largest audiences of the season. There are 14 persons in the choir, but only a few of these could be featured last evening, owing to the smallness of the stage. Two selections were rendered, "Shining Light," and "Calvary." The numbers were rendered in a superb manner and the audience was delighted. Miss Kathryn McPadden's singing is worthy of especial mention. The afternoon concert by Nowling's orchestra was most enjoyable.

Fight on a Shanty Boat.

A big fight occurred in a shanty boat located above the pump house at the Knowles pottery, Saturday night, in which the "Dirty Dozen" and the shanty boat men were hotly engaged. It is stated that the former crowd was given a severe beating not long ago by the latter, and in a spirit of revenge visited the boat. Fists were used with telling effect. Charles Potts says he will swear out warrants today.

Guilty on Three Charges.

Harry Mathers was arrested yesterday by Officer Elliott, and pleaded guilty to charges before Justice Johnston of drunkenness, disorderly conduct and the use of profane language, also threatening to kill the officer, but received no fine on this charge. He was fined $12.15 all told, and Mrs. Mathers appeared and settled the fine which was reduced to $11. Mathers was released.

At Work in the New Town.

William Severs left today for Mahan, W. Va., the new town building below Steubenville, where his son, Arch Severs, has a big grading contract for the big steel mill to be located there. The latter will probably remain all summer engaged in the grading business, at that point, as a new town is to be builded.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

REV. EDWIN WEARY DOES NOT BELIEVE ITS DOCTRINES.

Declares Mrs. Eddy an Impostor Who Does Not Practice What She Preaches.

St. Stephen's church was well filled last evening when Rev. Edwin Weary, the rector, delivered a special sermon on the subject, "Christian Science." Owing to the head Rev. Mr. Weary shortened his address very much, giving simply an outline of the topic, and promising to be more explicit at another time.

Mrs. Eddy, the famous exponent and leader of the science in the world today, received marked attention from the rector. "She advocates, and all of her followers believe," said he, "that God is mind, and we believe that He is a person. They believe in idealism. She teaches that nothing is matter; that all ailments of the body can be cured by the great science. These are only a few of the points which she dwells upon."

"In the first place she is an impostor. This can be proven in numerous ways. She does not bear out her sentiments by her own life, and a preacher that does not live as he preaches should get down and out and never appear before the people. Although she teaches that there is a power other than medical power to relieve and make well all afflictions, she does not apply to that great power herself. Having a decayed tooth not long ago she was seen to apply to a dentist for aid. Why did she do so if the power upon which she preaches will suffice? If nothing is matter and all is mind why does she wear thicker clothing in winter than in the summer? If all her arguments are true, why is it that she partakes of medicine when sick?"

"All of these questions I give to you that you may think of them and be prepared, when the argument, which I have prepared, but have eliminated on account of the prevailing warmth, shall be presented."

Display of Wealth Unwise.

"There is nothing more unwise," said the friend, "than a needless and ostentatious display of wealth."

"That's right," answered Mr. Gripper Sorghum; "there are enough people trying to get it away from you without issuing any challenges."—Washington Star.

If a man makes a prediction, people forget it if it does not come true, but he will not let them forget it if it comes true.—Atchison Globe.

with in Canton had a death from the disease and Fitzpatrick being an inmate, undoubtedly carried the germs from that city.

NO DANCER HERE

Smallpox in Chester Caused a Flurry on This Side the River.

The news of smallpox in Chester caused something of a flurry on this side of the river. Health Officer J. H. Burgess went to the Southside and made a careful investigation. He gave the Chester officials warning that every precaution must be taken, or else their town would be quarantined against. He satisfied himself that all precautions were being taken and that there is no danger to East Liverpool.

It is learned that Fitzpatrick spent some time in this city Saturday, but it is doubtful if the disease had so far developed then as to become infectious. There are said to be six or seven persons in the house under quarantine.

ASKS FOR ALIMONY

Salem Woman Enters Suit Against Her Husband, Charging Desertion.

Lisbon, July 7.—(Special)—Mary L. Knight, of Salem, has entered suit against Charles O. Knight, of the same city, for alimony. They were married in 1900, and Mrs. Knight left her husband on June 24, 1902.

She claims that he has been guilty of extreme cruelty and has accused her of unchastity. He earns $3 per day at the machinists' trade, and owns tools worth $100. She asks the court to allow her suitable alimony.

A Gigantic Goddess of War.

In the Japanese capital there is a gigantic image of a woman made of wood, iron and plaster. The time of its erection and the name of its designer are in dispute, but it is known to have been dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures fifty-four feet, the head alone, which is reached by a winding stairway in the interior of the figure, being capable of holding a company of twenty persons. The goddess holds a sword in her right hand and a huge painted wooden ball in the left. Internally the statue is the finest anatomical model in existence, every bone, joint and ligament being represented on a gigantic scale in proportion to the height and general size of the huge figure itself. The large eyes are magnifying glasses, through which a fine view of the surrounding country may be had.

Uninjured Lions Seldom Charge.

Like every other animal, the lion tries to avoid man until wounded, and it is only in exceptional cases of there being young ones to guard or from astonishment at seeing the hunters so close to them that they charge when being tracked.

They charge with the same coughing roar that a tiger does and come at great speed close to the ground, not bounding in the air, as they are represented in pictures. Their ears are pressed close to the head, giving them the comical appearance of being without ears.—London Times.

The Most Exalted.

"Ah, pleased to meet you, sir," said the distinguished foreigner. "May I ask what your business is?" "I am the weather observer."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Date on Silver Coins.

Most people have an old silver coin of some kind which they are keeping as a relic either for sentimental reasons or because they think it worth more than its face value. In some instances the date or the inscription has been worn away and it is impossible to read it even with a strong glass.

The following method, originally practiced at the mint when silver was called in, will enable any one to read an obliterated inscription:

THE BEST GAME OF THE SEASON

That Played With the Fairbanks on Saturday Fast and Exciting.

EAST LIVERPOOL AHEAD

Though Chances Were Even Up to the Beginning of the Seventh Inning.
The Lineup for the Locals Was a Very Strong One.

The third game of the series played in the West End park Saturday afternoon by the locals and the Fairbanks, of Allegheny, was without doubt the best witnessed on local grounds this season. For six long innings the immense crowd that had gathered to see what had been stated to be the last game of the season was on the verge of a collapse, the excitement being so intense.

The visitors were playing an excellent game and the locals were not far behind. That famous seventh inning came to the rescue of the home team. At its beginning the score stood 3 to 1 with the chances even. At the end the score stood 5 to 3 with the chances all in favor of the locals. Kommer, pitcher for the visitors, was all in. He had pitched 29 innings and the over-exertion began to show its effects. After two men had hit the dust he became excited and gave the next two men their base on balls.

The crowd then began to howl and for a few minutes pandemonium reigned supreme. Every ball that was touched by the visitors seemed to be greased or on fire. They could not even grapple with them. In consequence four runs were scored; two errors were made; two wild throws were delivered and two men walked.

The next inning was almost a repetition, the only difference being that the locals succeeded in pounding out four hits. The visitors found it impossible to get another lead and lost the game, but not without a hard and brave struggle. Every man on the team played to win. They are up to all the tricks and tried to work them at every opportunity. Had their pitcher not been up against more than other pitchers ever allow, the result might have been different. It is hardly probable, however, as they were contesting with the strongest local team that could be placed on the diamond.

The entire team was the cream of all teams in and close around the city. That they played such a game when they never had worked together is remarkable. Maag and Berry, the two from Canton, strengthened the team very much. Maag is certainly the smoothest latter in this section. When he fails to get his base on balls it is only because he would rather get a hit. In the three games he walked eight times—a record unprecedented.

Godwin played a pretty game at second. He cut his usual number of errors out and assisted quite materially in winning the game. Three hits at opportune times were more than any one else accomplished.

Maley has now a boy of his years as a strong rival. Barker, who has been playing with the third and fourth class teams all summer, was given a chance, and he certainly proved a marvel. No man in the country has a prettier delivery. He does it all with

Water Circus in Preparation Here Which Will Tour the South.

There has been in preparation at the foot of Bab's island, on the Ohio side, an amusement which is to be known as the "Great American Water Circus." It is to be a novel entertainment to say the least. The work of preparing the circus has been done in this city and the town will have the name of sending out an amusement enterprise, the like of which has never been seen. The bottoms of two coal boats were first brought to the city, and since then carpenters, electricians and other mechanics have been busily engaged in building seats, sides, selling apartments and stables. Then the company has a regular steamboat, the J. C. Reynolds, which is the property of the amusement company. This boat will tow the circus as far south as New Orleans, expecting to reach that point about December.

The company carries including all performers and workmen and steamboatmen, 54 persons, besides trained sheep, dogs, ponies and pigs. There are several acrobats and all will open their season in this city next Thursday. A large tent is spread over the seats, supported by three center poles. W. H. Hatch, who was one of the main witnesses in Peter Sells divorce case at Columbus several years ago, is the general manager and director of the enterprise.

RECHABITES' ELECTION

AGUINALDO IS FREE

SEEMED AFRAID TO VENTURE OUT

Manila, July 7.—As a result of the proclamation of amnesty, July 4, the guard of American soldiers has been withdrawn from the house where Aguinaldo lived in Manila and Lieutenant Johnson, Aguinaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino yesterday to see General Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Filipino revolution. Lieutenant William E. McKinley, of the Ninth cavalry, acted as interpreter.

Aguinaldo was told he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and General Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discourtesy or harshness. Aguinaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told General Chaffee that he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite Viejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. General Chaffee replied that Aguinaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

The former Filipino leader then asked General Chaffee to prevent the courts from requiring him to testify in civil suits. General Chaffee replied that he had no authority to grant this request, and advised Aguinaldo to make a social call upon Acting Civil Governor Wright. This Aguinaldo said he would do, but that he would go at night, as he was timid about appearing on the streets in daylight.

The release of the former Filipino leader has renewed speculation as to possible vengeance upon him by friends of Luna and his other enemies.

CHARGES OF MAJOR GARDENER

Promised to Answer Demand For Evidence Today.

Manila, July 7.—The cross-examination of Major Cornelius Gardener governor of Mayabes province, Luzon by the board which has been investigating the charges of cruelty, etc., brought by the major against American officers and soldiers, has been completed. The board had again formally demanded the production by Major Gardener of testimony as to the alleged hostility of the military authorities in the Philippines to the civil government.

Major Gardener promised to answer this demand today. He testified that he had not intended to reflect upon the fairness of the court and that the recorder had not, to his knowledge, interfered with his witnesses.

THIRTEEN WERE KILLED.

One More Likely to Die, From Gloversville, N. Y., Wreck.

Gloversville, N. Y., July 7.—Motor man William Dodge, of the runaway car on the Mountain Lake railroad, died at Littauer hospital last night, making the thirteenth victim of the wreck of Friday night. It is probable that George Fisher, whose skull was fractured, will die, and Edward Schell is in a very serious state. Coroner Palmer has commenced an investigation.

It has developed that the frame of the truck of the runaway car was broken and may have caused the accident, but the motorman's death will make it hard to determine the exact cause.

STORM IN NEW YORK.

Swept Over Western Section—One Person Drowned.

Buffalo, July 7.—A terrific rain and wind storm swept over Western New York at an early hour yesterday. Rivers and creeks rose rapidly, overflowing their banks and sweeping away houses and barns and live stock. The loss will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Telegraph and telephone wires were down last night and communication with small towns in Wyoming, Niagara and Cattaraugus counties was difficult to establish. This city was not in the path of the storm. At Arcade, Minnie Loper was drowned.

Three of Yachting Party Drowned.

New York, July 7.—The wife of Captain Tiemann N. Horn, of the Ninety-fifth company, sea coast artillery; his daughter, Frances, aged 7, and Miss Alice McMahon, of Nyack, N. Y., were drowned in Sandy Hook bay Sunday. Five others, including the captain, were rescued. The captain's yacht, in which they were sailing, was turned over by a puff of wind, causing the sail to gybe.

For forty years Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been curing summer complaint: dysentery, diarrhoea, bloody flux, pain in the stomach, and it has never yet failed to do everything claimed for it.

HER ESCAPE

Surely if ever a man deserved punishment at the hands of woman that man was Ashby Eldon. He had behaved unforgettably.

She had met him for the first time at Nice in the early part of the winter. She was there with an enervated aunt. He was there on more pleasure and had given her to understand that he had fled from a bohemian atmosphere of thimble adulation in London to bathe his soul in pure sunshine. He had talked culture and personalities in perfect proportion. He had been charming, had worn striped linen, a pointed beard and a smile of fascinating fatigue. He had deluged her with expensive flowers. At first these flowers had come with a mere card. A little later the card was often inclosed in a sealed envelope and covered with some suggestive little quotation from the French or German poets.

Still later the flowers had come without a word, bearing their own message, and when he noted a spray or two in her dress he would perhaps steady his eyes on hers for a moment, hold her hand the fraction of a second too long for mere convention or tell her in a thousand wordless ways that she was a charming woman in his eyes and that he knew she knew it. And never a hint or sign of his engagement to that Miss Trevelyan! It was incomprehensible, unspeakable!

If he had not mentioned by chance that Mrs. Haverton was his aunt, if on her return from Nice she had not taken enormous trouble to cultivate Mrs. Haverton and lead her talk on to Ashby Eldon, she might have dawdled in her fool's paradise to the day of his wedding announcement.

How she would tear him with her weapons of scorn and disgust! She would make him feel like a cur.

The hottest words seemed insufficient punishment when she thought what suffering he might have caused her. It was the merest chance that she had not lost her heart to him—the merest chance. Why did the face in the glass twitch as she said that? She would say it again and say it out loud. It was the purest piece of luck that she had not fallen in love with Ashby Eldon. He had done his best. He was a brute. Yes, he was. She didn't care. He was.

How hideous red eyelids could make one look! They took all the poetry out of white cheeks. Why had she been the fool to choose her pink silk for tonight? And what would it matter if she wore green baize? Hateful world!

It was packed at the Havertons'. Eleven o'clock, and he was not there.

She danced a great deal.

Half past 11, and he was not there.

She sat out a great deal.

Half past 12, and he was not there.

She was getting too tired to smile.

She must go home now.

"Good night, Mrs. Haverton—a delightful evening." Yes, she was feeling a little tired. Good night once more and out on to the staircase.

Merciful powers! There he came—slowly, possessedly—in the old way. Quick! What was she going to say at the very first—oh, what?

"Miss Peardon, an unexpected pleasure!"

A wave seemed to wash over her brain. She took his proffered hand, and her eyes fell for one second. Then she looked up with a brilliant society smile. Her old resolutions lay about her in ruins. A completely different set of emotions had taken possession of her—unconsciously, unquestioningly.

"Ah, you are back in the vortex, Mr. Eldon—the dear old vortex!"

"Yes!" A faint suspicion of awkwardness spoiled his usually perfect manner. "Yes, I am just de retour. How kind of people to give these little soirees at this time of the year, when there is positively no other way of getting warm!"

"But you will give me a few words before you go. Come downstairs and let us drink to the memory of dear old Nice! And—I have news."

"Your engagement, and I was forgetting my congratulations!" He took breath. "How unpardonable of me, but really so many of my friends have taken the fatal step just lately I'm getting quite confused. Is your fiancée here?"

"No, unfortunately."

"Ah, my misfortune, I am sure. Well, it leaves me something to look forward to. Good night, Mr. Eldon, and my wishes for your future happiness. There's my chaparron. I must fly."

She waved a frivolous hand. There was a look of surprised disappointment on his charming face. And yet he gave another deep sigh of relief as he turned into the ballroom.

"Wonderful luck! But somehow I thought she'd take it differently," said he to himself.

And she drove home. Only when she got to her own room and remembered just what she had meant to say and just what she had said did she see the humor of it, and thereupon she cried.

Thackeray's Reply.

Thackeray was not a humorist in the sense that Dickens was nor a wit in the sense that Jerrold was, but he now and then said a good thing in a quiet way. He was pestered on one occasion while in America by a young gentleman of an inquiring mind as to what was thought of this person and that person in England. "Mr. Thackeray," he asked, "what do they think of Tupper?" "They don't think of Tupper," was the reply.

PRESIDENT AT CHURCH

WON'T RECEIVE DELEGATIONS.

Hopes Matters, Except of Most Pressing Importance, Will Be Submitted by Mail—Meagre Hotel Accommodations May Keep Many Away.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 7.—In discussing the president's stay at Oyster Bay, Secretary Cortelyou yesterday said that there seemed to be considerable misapprehension as to some features of it. He stated that there would be no elaborate official establishment and that the only clerical force maintained would consist of two stenographers. Arrangements have about been concluded for its use of two rooms in the bank building for office purposes and it will be there that the president will transact most of his business when he comes into town.

Restful Holiday Planned.

Both the president and his secretary have planned to make their brief holiday as restful as possible and to that end will transact in Oyster Bay only the most immediate public business. Everything else will be transmitted to Washington for attention there either by the regular White House force, or, in cases where other action is required, by the various departments. This is in accordance with the practice which has been followed successfully during previous summers. The president will not receive delegations and hopes to have all matters intended for him, not of the most pressing importance, submitted by correspondence.

The meagre hotel accommodations here will go far toward giving the president that rest and freedom from unnecessary official cares which he has made it plain to everyone he desires. What scant accommodations there are have been already pre-empted, and persons arriving here from this time on during the president's stay will probably find themselves without a place to sleep.

President Went to Church.

The president spent a restful night at Sagamore Hill. Even the howling of the family dog, which was kept up continuously, did not disturb his slumbers. He rose early and attended services at Christ Episcopal church. In his carriage were Miss Carow, his son Archie and Lieutenant Ferguson, of the Rough Riders, who is his guest. While waiting for Mrs. Roosevelt and the rest of the family the president stood outside the church and greeted his friends. To a newspaper man he laughingly remarked that Mrs. Roosevelt and the children were coming along in an express wagon.

DESPERATE CONVICT ESCAPED.

Tracy Forced Family to Give Food, Bound Them and Made Him Man Row Him Away in Boat.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—Harry Tracy, the Oregon convict, again has eluded his pursuers, after a display of great daring.

According to information received at the sheriff's office Sunday, Tracy slept in a cemetery on the outskirts of Seattle, after his battle Thursday night with Seattle officers. On Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food and slept and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point and compelled a Japanese fisher boy to row him to Madison Point. Tracy watched the house of Rancher Johnson for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding but two, he entered and announced that he intended to kill every one on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added: "Put after seeing your pretty little girl, I will kill no one of you if you all mind me. I will be here all day."

Made Them Furnish Breakfast.

The family prepared breakfast for Tracy. Tracy then read Friday evening's papers, and after learning how Mrs. Van Horn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy, said he had been careless in not keeping every one in that house constantly under his eye.

He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food, clothing and blankets made into bundles.

At 8 o'clock he bound and tightly gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man, Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars, and started down the sound.

Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later, and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. McKay secured a boat and sent word to Seattle yesterday morning. Sheriff Cuddehe was summoned from Bothell, and at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, with several men, started down the sound in the Sea Lion, an electric tugboat, looking for the desperado and the farm hand. However, as Tracey had 15 hours start, it was believed he will make good his escape.

Value of a Single Plant.

The value of a single plant is well illustrated by the Concord grape. It may seem an extravagant statement to say the original Concord vine was worth $1,000,000, in one year in a single district the value of the product of Concord grape vineyards amounted to $2,000,000. That one vine was the foundation of an interest that represents more than $100,000,000.

Supposing the original Ben Davis apple had been destroyed before it had been propagated, what would be a reasonable sum to represent its loss? Thousands of people have made large sums growing the Ben Davis who would have made but little had they not had this variety.

There are single berries that, had they been lost, would have held back hundreds of farmers from paying off mortgages on their homes. Take the Kansas raspberry, the Early Harvest blackberry, the Warfield, Gandy, Aroma and other strawberries and estimate the money these plants have put into the pockets of growers.

And then but for the art of grafting in its many forms there never would have been but one Concord grapevine and but one Ben Davis apple tree, and the same with all the popular varieties of fruits, whether growing on trees, shrubs, canes or vines.

Progress in Agriculture.

There is a great deal of noise made, and it is justified by the facts, about our wonderful progress in manufactures. In fact, the civilized world is astounded because our manufacturers are invading countries from which we took our first lessons and surpassing them in the quality of products and in economy of manufacture, even with higher priced labor. In agriculture there has been as much progress, but much less has been said about it. Some years ago corn, wheat, oats, cotton and potatoes constituted about 90 per cent of our farm products. Now, with the exception of a few superlative products, we are producing all the products of all the nations of the earth and are shipping large quantities over every sea. As an example of agricultural progress we can mention the fact that we can by our advanced methods grow rice at less cost than any other country and pay eight times as much for labor. In bread, grains, fruits and live stock of every kind we now lead every other country. So true is this that an embargo on American products would inaugurate a famine over half the earth. And yet we have not reached one-half the capacity of our soil.—Farm and Ranch.

"Father of Arbor Day."

J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture during President Cleveland's second administration, whose death was announced on April 27, has left to the farmer a few innovations which will perpetually remain as monuments to his memory, says an exchange. He was known as the "Father of Arbor Day," a day when trees are planted in all portions of the United States not only by agriculturists, but also largely participated in by school children. Secretary Morton also believed that congress when appropriating money for flower and vegetable seeds should spend an equal sum in publishing bulletins which might be useful to the farmer. Out of this idea grew the inauguration of the publication of farmers' bulletins.

Boys who go fishing know where to go and get worms with the least work. They pick out cool, moist places where the soil is dark colored and full of rotting vegetable matter. This rotting humus is what the anglerworm feeds on, swallowing chunks or masses of the soil, digesting the organic matter and expelling the undigested soil. These worms will do no harm to your garden. They are among the useful friends of the farmer, for they work over the soil and open it to air and water.

Farm Laborers in Kansas.

T. B. Grow, state employment agent, authorizes the statement that Kansas can get through the harvest without extra help. Statements of an exaggerated character have been published to the effect that there was great need of harvest hands in that state, and this as resulted in a flood of inquiries on the subject. Mr. Grow's announcement is confirmatory of the estimates that have been made of a materially reduced yield of wheat from Kansas fields.

Rape For Swine.

The value of rape as a pasture for swine is a matter of controversy among farmers who have tried it. Some say that hogs do not like it and will only eat it when especially hungry for green feed. Professor Shaw urges farmers not to give it up; that hogs will become fonder of it as time rolls round; that it is the same with sheep. Those fresh from the ranges do not like rape at first, but gradually overcome this dislike and afterward are very fond of it.

Let the Man Do the Milking.

While it may be rather hard to say yet it is the fact that one of the advantages in making the farmer himself do the milking and take care of the milk and cream is that in a short time he will supply himself with all the necessary conveniences for doing the work with as little labor as possible. It may be difficult to induce him to do this as long as his wife does the work, but the necessity will become readily apparent if he is obliged to do the work.

Showing the Tyrannous Effect of Habit Upon a Wild Animal.

A vague figure appeared out of the clouds, traveling against the wind toward the spire and looking more like a ragged piece of newspaper whirled about the heavens than any living thing. It was a white owl, and after watching him for some time I came to the conclusion that he was trying to get to the vane of the spire. A very idle ambition it seemed, for, although he succeeded again and again in getting to within a few yards of the point aimed at, he was on each occasion struck by a fresh violent gust and driven back to a great distance, often quite out of sight in the gloom. But presently he would reappear, still struggling to reach the vane. A crazy bird!

But I could not help admiring his pluck and greatly wondered what his secret motive in aiming at that windy perch could be. And at last, after so many defeats, he succeeded and grasped the metal crossbar with his crooked talons. The wind with all its fury could not tear him from it, and after a little flapping he was able to pull himself up, and then, tending down, he deliberately wiped his beak on the bar and flew away!

This, then, had been his powerful, mysterious motive—just to wipe his beak, which he could very well have wiped on any branch or barn roof or fence and saved himself that tremendous labor. This was an extreme instance of that tyrannous effect of habit on a wild animal. Doubtless this bird had been accustomed after devouring his first mouse to fly to the vane, where he could rest for a few minutes, taking a general view of the place, and wipe his beak at the same time, and the habit had become so strong that he could not forego his wish even on so tempestuous an evening.

FEELHAN'S BODY

FOUND AFLOAT AT WHEELING AND IDENTIFIED.

The body of Thomas Feehan, the kilnman at Laughlin No. 2 who was drowned while bathing in the Ohio river last Tuesday, was recovered at Wheeling Saturday morning by A. W. Cramer, residing at 143 Virginia street, who was rowing across the river in a skiff to his work at Wheeling. When near the steel bridge Cramer saw the body floating down the river, and later towed it to the Wheeling plant, where he and Harry Dean notified the Wheeling authorities. Reports from Wheeling say that the body had the appearance of having been in the water for from eight to 10 days.

Charles Gallagher, of this city, who was in Wheeling Saturday, upon hearing that a "floater" had been found went to the undertaking rooms of C. H. Watkins and identified the body. An inquest was held by "Squire Allen and a verdict of "found drowned" rendered. Later a message was sent to the dead man's relatives at Trenton notifying them that the body had been recovered. An answer was received to prepare the body for burial, using a metallic casket and forward it to Trenton. These instructions were followed.

Additional information received from Trenton is to the effect that Feehan was 32 years old, and that his father is Patrick Feehan, who with six sons and a daughter reside at No. 818 Spruce street. Feehan was well known in pottery circles at Trenton, where he had been employed and was when a resident of Trenton a member of the Brotherhood.

HIT BY A POLE

An Italian on Street Car Steps Got a Terrible Blow.

An Italian laborer whose name is known only as Mike lies at his home near Walker with a badly crushed head, the result of standing on the lower step of a street car while it was crossing the Jethro bridge yesterday. In company with several friends he was in the midst of a heated argument when he suddenly bent backward trying to make his point more explicit.

His action might have resulted fatally, as a telephone came in contact with him, giving him a terrible blow on the side and front of his head. He recoiled from the car and when picked up was bleeding profusely. No physician was called and he was removed to his home, where he now suffers.

SPORTS WERE CHASED

One Interested in a Cocking Main Ran From Beaver to Vanport.

Sports from this city who visited the cock fights about seven miles out from Beaver Falls Friday had an experience that they will not soon forget. While men who claimed to be Pittsburgh detectives were after two East Liverpool men, who were claimed to be some of the promoters of the fights, they escaped, one of them running all the way from Beaver to Vanport, where he got on the midnight train and came to this city. As it was several arrests were made, but strange to say it is stated that no person from Beaver Falls was arrested, although they were interested in the fight.

One man from Toronto who won $50 on the fights was arrested and paid a fine of $19.00, while various other

A SHOW DOWN

IS NOW NECESSARY IN COLUMBIANY COUNTY.

Mr. Phelps Enters the Contest There, Owing to the Endorsement of Organized Labor — What He Says to His Friends.

A showdown will now be necessary in the matter of votes in Columbiana county, as Hon. Wallace H. Phelps, of Alliance, has entered the contest there by paying in the assessment of $200 to Chairman McNutt, of the Columbiana committee, which he did under date of July 3. Hence a primary must be held, the date of which has been fixed as Saturday, July 12, from 12:30 to 6:30 p. m., Central Standard time. In speaking of the matter to a reporter Mr. Phelps said:

"The action taken by organized labor in endorsing my candidacy made this step necessary and it was also requested by a number of friends of Columbiana county lying near to my home town of Alliance. In fact, parts of our town, to all practical intents and purposes, lie across the line, in Columbiana and Mahoning counties, and those two counties have a common interest in the splendid city of Alliance, with Stark.

"I have but a few days in which to canvass both Columbiana and Stark counties. I shall not be able to see all my friends in these counties in that length of time, but I appeal to them everywhere to give me their cordial support, even though I should be unable to see them, assuring one and all that the same will be heartily appreciated."

LOADED FREIGHT CARS SMASHED TO PIECES

A Cleveland and Pittsburg Train Wrecked at the Foot of Market Street Sunday Morning
and Much Damage Done.

POTTERS' SUPPLY WORKS HAD A CLOSE CALL

One of the worst freight wrecks in the history of this city occurred yesterday morning at 7 o'clock on the C. & P. road between the C. & P. depot and the foot of Washington street.

Extra freight No. 99, west bound, in charge of Conductor Willis Jordan, of Wellsville, from the Conway yards, was pulling through the city at rapid rate. The train consisted of 85 loaded cars, nearly all coke loads, but a few loaded with oil and lumber cars. The coke was bound for the National Steel company at Mingo.

Just below the passenger depot a spectator who was sitting at that point noticed a broken axle on one of the coke cars, and soon the cars began leaving the tracks and piling up in shapeless masses between Union and Market streets, which by the way, affords a very narrow passage. When the cars began leaving the track, the rails spread, and 16 cars altogether were piled in the wreckage that followed.

One of the cars of the train crashed into the south end building of the Potters' Supply plant, completely demolishing the corner of the building and scattered and piled up coke in a conglomerated mass. Just opposite, where John Rinehart recently had his livery quarters, five cars are smashed to flinders and the contents of coke scattered, trucks broken, a jammed mass of wreckage having no semblance hardly of having been loaded freight cars.

Four more cars lie careened, broken and off the tracks from the Potters' Supply company to Market street, but a number of these, whose trucks, however, were all right, were gotten on the tracks again.

At this point one of the cars crashed into the home of Thomas Abrams, who resides on the north corner at the foot of Market street. Mr. Abrams says he was soundly sleeping when the crash came and his bedroom is immediately abutting the tracks. He sprang from his bed and got out of his home in short order, witnessing also the piling up of the wreckage. It is indeed fortunate that piling up of the cars did not take place at this point, or the loss of life would have been recorded, for many families live along the tracks in this vicinity, all of whom were badly frightened and awakened by the wreck and a number of whom witnessed the piling up of the cars in a confused mass. Below Market street but one car left the track. It was badly wrecked and lost its rear trucks. It was gotten on the track again by the wrecking crew.

Engineer Thomas Croft, of Wellsville, and Fireman W. H. Marshall, who were hauling the train with one of the big moguls, No. 624, of the C. & P., says he was hauling 80 loads all told. When near the foot of Union street he felt the train jerk and immediately whistled for brakes. He says he hauled eight cars out safely ahead of the wrecked ones and took them to Wellsville. The front brakeman, J. F. Roof, riding on the third car back of the engine, jumped and escaped injury. The rest of the crew were all on the rear of the train and in the caboose, No. 619, and all escaped with only a little shaking up by the sudden stopping of the rapidly moving train.

Engineer Croft and Conductor Jordan immediately pulled on to Wellsville, and at 8 o'clock the Wellsville wreck train was on the scene with a large force, and all set on hands in this immediate vicinity were ordered out for track repairs. The tracks are twisted and roadbed awry for some distance.

On the arrival of the wreck train and train dispatcher, a portable telegraph service was established at the foot of Market street, the dispatcher directing the movements of trains and making his reports from this point. The Conway wreck train also came to the scene at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

After communications were established, some 50 of the uninjured cars of the train were hauled off the main track and sidetracked near the C. C. Thompson pottery allowing the Conway wreck train to work on the north end of the wreckage.

Wreck Master Aten, of Wellsville, took charge of the wreck crews, and sent also for the Alliance wreck train, making three wreck trains brought here, Conway, Wellsville and Alliance.

Both the Conway and Alliance trains carried big steam cranes, and they lifted out the big mass of wreckage to the side of the tracks on Market and Washington streets. A large force of laborers were employed in clearing away the coke. The mass of cars and coke lay near the Potters' Supply company to the height of fully 10 or 12 feet, and this required a great deal of labor to clear away the debris.

Passenger train No. 361, west bound, Sunday morning, was stopped here and passengers transferred to another train made up at Wellsville and brought to the foot of Market street. A transfer was also made on train No. 364, east bound.

The tracks were cleared by 6 o'clock last night, and the evening passenger trains passed through. It will require all day today to clear away the debris. An intoxicated tourist occupied one of the box cars on the pottery siding that were side swiped, but fortunately got out before the cars began to pile up.

The loss will aggregate fully $15,000, and the damage to pottery and other buildings $500.

But for the timely placing of three cars on the Potters' Supply company's siding by the 693 shifting crew of this city, the damage to the pottery building would have been much greater, as these cars warded off the overturned cars until they reached the lower end of the building.

The wreck crews worked all night last night to finish clearing away the debris.

Sale of Lodge Property.

Lisbon, July 7. — (Special) — Susanna Lodge, as administratrix of M. O. Lodge, late of Leetonia, has sold lot No. 295 in Leetonia to S. R. McCready for $14.20; lot 543 to Alexander McKiefor $40 and lot 937 to Margaret Hennessey Sr. for $10.

FIREBUGS ARE AT WORK IN WELLSVILLE ALSO

The police department is endeavoring to effect the capture of an incendiary who has been working in the neighborhood of Thirteenth, Main and Center streets, Wellsville. Three attempts were made to burn the premises occupied by F. E. Fitzpatrick. Fire caught in a shed Tuesday forenoon on the same property, the fire department being called out. On two succeeding evenings an effort was made to ignite a shed building from the rear of the place on Center street.

Miss Maude Clyde saw a man striking matches Friday night in an endeavor to kindle a blaze; later the fellow, who was in his shirt sleeves, was observed by Mrs. Dean to be making a fire. He was unsuccessful and the man returned with a tin can. Shortly after midnight Saturday morning Mrs. Haney saw a blaze coming from the rear of the Fitzpatrick restaurant and she aroused Justice Haney, who found the fire burning rapidly, but soon put it out.

The block is built solidly with business houses that front on Main street, and a blaze in that quarter would do much damage. Merchants are keeping nightly watch on their stores, three burglaries having occurred in the one square during the past two months. Strong efforts are being made to capture the firebug.

AN INCENDIARY FIRES TIN MILL

Blaze at Lisbon Thought to Be Result of Revenge or Spite Work.

NO FIRE IN THE PLANT

For Some Days, Yet Two Serious
Blazes Started on the Inside on Saturday—Damage to Amount of
$1,700 Was Done.

Lisbon, July 7. — (Special) — What might have been a most destructive fire occurred Saturday evening at the Beaver plant of the American Tin Plate company here. The first alarm was sent in at 7:40 and before department No. 1 arrived the inside of the machine shop was burning fiercely in two places. The shop was almost a total wreck before the blaze was extinguished.

The firemen had started to leave when it was discovered that the grease house was on fire and they were sent back and company No. 2 called out.

The whole inside of the building was found to be ablaze, but the fire was extinguished without serious difficulty. Master Mechanic Wesley McCord estimates the damage to the building at about $700, and that to the machinery at $1,000. The loss is covered by insurance. If either of these fires had been left alone for a few minutes longer they would have gained great headway and a large part of the mill would probably have been destroyed.

The fact that in an hour's time two fires started on the inside of two separate buildings of a mill which has been shut down for a week and had no fire burning anywhere indicates incendiaryism. The firemen say that when they arrived on the scene the wrenches and nozzles belonging to the mill fire apparatus were missing, and that immediately after their arrival a nozzle was taken from their hose cart. They also missed wrenches and other pieces of apparatus. A wrench and nozzle was found on the opposite side of the mill under a freight car.

During the late liquor agitation here letters threatening the use of dynamite were sent to the mill officials. The origin of the letters was traced at the time, but no arrests were made, as the guilty parties were said to be employees of the mill. It is thought that the persons who wrote the letters set the mill on fire. The matter is being investigated and arrests will probably be made soon.

NEARLY DROWNED

A Boy While Bathing at Walker Sank
Twice Before Being Rescued.

A 12-year-old East Liverpool lad, whose companions refuse to divulge his name, on account of the fact that his mother is in ill health, almost lost his life while in swimming at Walker yesterday afternoon. He got out beyond his depth, and sank twice before his companions could reach him.

When brought to shore he had to be rolled on the ground to resuscitate him. His boy companions were badly scared over the incident and therefore keep their names quiet. The mother does not yet know how close her boy came to his death.

ANOTHER ASSAULT ON THE SALOONS

F. A. Victor, of New York,
Preached Prohibition Sermons Here.

WILL ORGANIZE A LEAGUE

He Praises the Local Option Laws of Ohio and New York—Says the Eastern Metropolis Is Now a Wide-Open
City—His Remedy.

F. A. Victor, of New York, who is national organizer for the Young People's Prohibition League, delivered two talks Sunday in the First United Presbyterian church and First M. E. church, of this city, at 3 p. m. in the former and 8 p. m. in the latter.

Mr. Victor is a young man of sterling qualities and convictions. His talk was listened to by a good audience and was along absolute prohibition lines. Soldiers, sailors, statesmen, educators and legislators each had their reasons why this land of ours was great; soldiers and sailors accorded it to military and naval power; statesmen to civil government; educators to intelligence, and legislators to legislation, but there was a greater reason, found within the bible; righteousness exalted a nation.

Christianity made the nation great. Our forefathers had laid the foundation—the pilgrims at Plymouth Rock, the sturdy Quakers and exiled Catholics elsewhere. But notwithstanding we are a Christian nation, we were slaves of the rum traffic. The press of large cities was under the domination of the liquor element, and he cited instances in proof of his assertion. The minister, who failed to speak from the pulpit against the evils of liquor, certainly stood convicted of neglect of duty.

Referring to efforts at local option legislation in the states of Ohio and New York, the speaker said that only within the past few years had any measures beneficial been enacted, and that legislators would not grant a really desirable law. The license laws, too, had not wiped out the traffic to any satisfactory degree.

He spoke of the municipal reign of Mayor Low, of New York city. Side doors of saloons today were wide open, yet Mayor Low offered no further reason than that he could not control the sale of liquor on Sunday, owing to the many nationalities existing in that city. They were trampling on law and good government. The measures put forth by all classes of temperance workers passed unheeded at Albany.

The ballot box, therefore, was the means by which the Christian citizens could wage the only effective war against the rum traffic by electing men to enact prohibitory laws. A prohibitory law with a man behind it was most dreaded by the liquor fraternity and gave the history of a man elected sheriff in Cumberland county, Maine, who enforced the laws and wiped out 150 open saloons illegally existing.

Citizens, he argued, should vote a Prohibition ticket until sentiment was created and enough force rallied around such a standard to make it effective, since license laws had proven

in his opinion so unavailing. It was the Christian's duty to work, vote and pray for the reign of temperance.

Mr. Victor, while in the city, will try to organize a branch of the Young People's Prohibition League.

CONTRACTS LET

AND WORK ON THE NEW HOSPI-

Tonight.

The contracts for the excavating and stone work of the new hospital building have been let and it was expected that work would begin today.

The hospital association will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the Misses Hazlett, of Fifth street. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to be transacted.

NEXT CONVENTION HERE

Rehabites in State Convention Elect
Officers For the En-

Delegate John H. Martin, from Liberty tent, Rehabites, to the state tent at McLuney, O., Thursday, reports an enthusiastic session and royal reception. A banquet followed the closing session, and the reports of the state officers were most satisfactory. The following were elected state officers for the ensuing year:

L. G. Dover, Zanesville, P. G. C. R.; George Barringer, Zanesville, G. C. R.; William McPeck, McLuney, G. D. R.; George Paugh, Zanesville, G. Sec. treas.; John H. Martin, East Liverpool, G. levice; Thomas Hall, East Liverpool, G. chaplain; L. G. Dover, Zanesville, representative to high tent.

East Liverpool was chosen as the next place to hold the grand tent session on the second Tuesday in July, 1903.

Mrs. McPeck, of Zanesville, was elected state female lecturer and Mr. White, of the same city, was elected visiting lecturer for primary tents.

WANTED TO KILL HIM

Two Men With Stones Attacked Peter
Bottom.

Peter Fleisch, a resident of Sandy Bottom, was held up Saturday evening. It is claimed by two Kentuckians. Fleisch was walking along Pennsylvania avenue, in company with John Brannon, and when near the new building being erected on that avenue by Henry Chambers, Fleisch and Brannon were attacked by the two men, who held stones in their hands. This is the story told by Fleisch today.

Fleisch stated these men wanted to kill him, and that Brannon caught one of the Kentuckians by the throat and made him drop the stones. Several officers from the East End fire station were summoned and examined the stones that were dropped by the Kentuckians. It is now thought that several arrests will result.

PROSTRATED BY HEAT

ing Severely From the Warm Weather.

A young barber by the name of Gordon employed at Danley's shop, Fourth and Washington streets, was prostrated on Saturday afternoon by the extreme heat and as a result is now at his home in a serious condition.

Wedding at Salineville.

At the home of William Skinner, on Main street, Salineville, Rev. Mr. Rader, of the M. E. church, married Miss Olive Skinner and Harry Eoff, of East Liverpool. The bride is the daughter of William Skinner and wife, of Salineville. The groom is a potter in East Liverpool, where he enjoys a good position. He served through the Cuban and Philippine wars and was regularly discharged last spring. A supper followed the wedding. The young couple left for New Matamoras on their honeymoon. They will reside in East Liverpool.

STREET CARS WILL BE RUN WITHIN THE YEAR

At the meeting of the committees on the Pleasant Heights street car line extension, held on Saturday night in the city hall, it is said that a conclusion was reached that is agreeable to all concerned. However, nothing could be learned of a positive nature from any of the committees this morning. They said that there had been an agreement made to withhold it from the public until it reaches the city

DISEASE CAME FROM CANTON

Chester is stirred up by a smallpox scare today, but there appears to be no great danger of the spread of the disease. Sunday afternoon, Thomas Fitzpatrick, who resides up Middle run some distance outside the Chester corporation, and in a house owned by George Shecker, was reported to have a breaking out on his face.

Dr. Lewis, of Chester, visited the home and says from his first examination he judges it is a case of smallpox. The doctor says Fitzpatrick was exposed to the disease at Canton, two weeks ago before coming to Chester, where he is employed in the mill. The doctor notified Marshal Allison, who went to the home and placed it under quarantine, posting a notice on the house. An irate woman, Mrs. Bressell, tore down the notice while the officer was standing near, and he threatened her with arrest if she persisted in such work, and she went her way.

Fitzpatrick, with some boon companions, one named Blair, a Welshman, residing on Carolina avenue, and having a family, and another man, who has left since he heard of Fitzpatrick's plight, were reported to have been in the house sleeping and drinking together for a day and a night.

Marshal Allison appointed 10 deputies and established a strict quarantine. Many of the residents work in the mill and tried to evade the officials, but were overhauled and brought back. Last night George Shecker and a man named Stevens as deputies guarded the quarantined house all night.

A widow named Hart and family occupy the other end of the double house, and they are also under rigid quarantine.

Dr. Beaumont, president of the county board of health of Hancock county, was summoned from New Cumberland today. Dr. Beaumont, accompanied by Dr. Lewis, will make a rigid examination of Fitzpatrick's case today, and should it prove that he has a bad type of smallpox, stricter measures for blotting out the disease and preventing its spread, will then be put in force.

The Chester council will erect a shanty away from the other homes and Fitzpatrick and other patients, should they develop the disease, will be placed therein and held until cured and discharged. The deputies appointed will remain as long as needed.

The man Blair, who is at his home on Carolina avenue, and who was most exposed to Fitzpatrick, will probably be rigidly quarantined. He has quite a family and lives right in the heart of Chester.

Drs. Beaumont and Lewis today gave the case a rigid diagnosis and pronounce it smallpox of the virulent type. The parties are now strictly under guard, three deputies being on guard.

The families were preparing to move out last night when stopped by Officer Elliott of the Chester force.

Dr. Beaumont, the county health officer, will be kept fully informed of the situation and devise every measure and take every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

Health Officer Allison obtained the names of all the suspects this afternoon and forwarded them to Dr. Beaumont of New Cumberland.

EAST END SATURDAY'S RACES WERE FINE ONES

Fully 1,500 Persons Witnessed the Sport at Columbian Park Track.

The Track Fast and the Weather All That Could Be Desired—The Winners in the Three Events—Last Race an Exciting One.

Fully 500 persons witnessed the races at Columbian park Saturday afternoon, which proves that good horse racing is relished by residents of this city. The larger number of those at the park Saturday afternoon were from East Liverpool. The visiting Turners were in the minority.

The races, to say the least, were very interesting, and some very good time was made in at least two of the events. The track was fast, and the weather all that could be desired. In the first race, the 2:20 pace, Robert L., owned by William Larkins, of this city, won three out of four heats. Dr. Harker, of Captain Fickes' stable at New Cumberland, won second place, while William W., owned by William Timmons, took third place. The following is the official heats:

William W.....3 3 3 3
Time 2:28 1-4.

Time, half mile race, 1:13 1-2.

The last race was considered by all to be one of the best of the afternoon. It was for blood from the tap of the bell, and was as exciting a race as has been seen at Columbian park for years.

The following were the officials of the race: Starter—William C. Davidson; associate judges, George Rowe, Daniel McNicol, Jr., James Smith.

In the last race Dr. McFarland acted as starter. A purse of $100 was divided between the three races, each owner receiving $10, as no entry fee was charged.

A Street Railway Employee Suddenly Departs And His Present Abode Is Unknown.

John Porter, for several years employed as a motorman, and recently a conductor on the East Liverpool railway, has left the city and his whereabouts at the present time are not known, either to his friends or his family.

Porter left suddenly last Friday, and he left no word as to where his destination would be. He has also severed his connection with the railroad company, and for some time has been residing with his wife on Railroad street, just across the railroad tracks from the power house.

Much Needed Improvement to Be Made at Mulberry Street Crossing.

It is stated that the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company has at last granted gates for the Mulberry street crossing at the East End, and the work of the construction of the improvement may commence at quite an early date. This statement was made by a resident of the East End who knew whereof he spoke. He also said that the company were at present considering other changes to be

PRETTY WELL FIXED

J. W. JOBLING, OF THIS CITY, DOING WELL AT MANILA.

Has Charge of Bacteriological Work And Gets Good Salary.

J. W. Jobling, formerly of this city, but now in the government service at Manila, P. I., writes to his friend, Will Lewis, of this city:

"I am pretty well fixed at present; am director of the Serum Institute, an institution for preparing vaccine and serum for the treatment of diseases, at a salary now of $2,000 a year, which will soon be increased to $2,400. It is a civil service position. I have been out of the army for some time, but will never regret the experiences I passed through this last time.

"We are having considerable cholera just at present, but very few Americans have been attacked. I had charge of the first cholera hospital; we had a great many natives, but only six Americans, two of whom died, but they were addicted to drink. If the Americans obey the printed instructions which have been scattered broadcast, very few would catch the disease. I will have to leave for Japan in a few weeks, and will stay two months, the commission paying my expenses. I am going to stay with Kitasto, the great Japanese bacteriologist, to study serum work. Send me an East Liverpool New Review.

"I have charge at present of the bacteriological laboratory at one of the cholera hospitals, but will soon return to the laboratory, my regular work. Give my best to my friends in East Liverpool."

Underwater Fruits.

The most conspicuous examples of plants whose fruits ripen only under water are furnished by the species Vallisneria spiralis, plants found mostly in the south of Europe, but also cultivated elsewhere in aquariums. The male flower is short and insignificant, while the female grows on a very long stem of corkscrew shape and has something of the appearance of a snowdrop. It floats on the surface of the water until the fertilization, by means of the pollen, is complete. The spiral then contracts, and the fruit is withdrawn under the water to ripen. Notable specimens of underwater ripening in England are furnished by bladderworts and a species of Vallisneria known popularly as the "water soldier." Of marine plants certain varieties of seaweed, notably the red, also ripen under water.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Lazzaroni of Naples.

A century ago there were 30,000 "lazzaroni" in Naples. Neither disease nor want has diminished their number. Their children die at a fearful rate, but there are many hospitals for the survivors, and neither board nor lodging costs them much when, at a mature age, they are turned loose into the world to become lazzaroni in their turn, like their unknown fathers and mothers.

"What is a lazzarone?" It may be asked. According to Colletta, he is a being who lives how he can without working. If he puts his hand to honest labor, he is no longer a lazzarone. It may be doubted whether the lazzarone will ever become extinct. The "resurrection" scheme will not oust him nor make him change his habits. He is more than half what his climate makes him.—National Review.

Army Officer Speaks Well of Resources, People and Climate.

Baltimore, July 7.—Lieutenant D. C. Lyles, United States army, who served on the staffs of Generals Lawton, Funston and Smith in various capacities in the Philippines whence he recently returned, is visiting friends in this city. Engineer, artilleryman, scout, gunboat commander and map maker by turns, he had considerable opportunity of seeing the archipelago, which, he states, possesses untold resources.

"The future of the Philippines is bright," Lieutenant Lyles said. Order has been restored from chaotic conditions which obtained in the days of the Spanish. The climate is splendid, the people for the most part are amiable and appreciative of what the United States has done for them and it is my opinion that the archipelago comprises the richest territory in the world."

THE POPE'S BLESSING

Given to Crowd at Celebration of Twenty-Fourth Anniversary of Coronation.

FETES HELD AT THE VATICAN.

Pontiff Received With, and on Departure, Given Acclamations—Carriers Pigeons Conveyed News of Event to Chief Towns in Italy.

Rome, July 7.—All the members of the American college at Rome, including Rev. Dr. Thomas Kennedy, rector of the college, and Fathers McCate, McCourt and Mullin, of Philadelphia, were present last evening at the fetes held at the vatican in celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the coronation of the pope.

The entire papal court and thousands of members of all the Catholic societies represented in Rome assembled at 6 o'clock last evening in the great Belvedere court of the vatican and paid homage to his holiness. The court was beautifully adorned with tapestries and a profusion of plants and flowers. The pope occupied an especially constructed and richly decorated gallery. His holiness entered the court by way of the Lapidary museum and the library. He was greeted with enthusiastic acclamations, and the band played the pontifical march. A chorus, composed of the occasion, was sung by a choir of several hundred pupils from all the clerical schools in Rome, who defiled before the pope, carrying banners. The vatican officials, a number of ladies and the members of the diplomatic corps witnessed the scene from windows overlooking the court.

The fete was brought to a close by the pope pronouncing a pontifical blessing, after which he was again acclaimed. A great flock of pigeons, sent to Rome from all the chief towns of Italy, was then released. The pigeons flew off to their homes, each one bearing an announcement that the ceremonies had taken place.

The pope, who was delighted with the fete, was in excellent health, and his physicians announce that he has improved both in health and spirits in the past year.

A dinner in celebration of the anniversary was given in the vatican at noon Sunday to 150 of the poor of Rome. Cardinal Respighi and a number of prelates and papal officials were present.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES' MEETING.

Much Interest Manifested in Coming Convention, In August, at Chicago.

Cincinnati, July 7.—Much interest is being manifested throughout the country regarding the national convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies in Chicago, Aug. 5, 6 and 7. It is estimated that a million Catholics will be represented at this convention, including all the leading societies in the United States. Distinguished churchmen and laymen have signified their presence. The opening services will be held at the Holy Name cathedral, with Archbishop Feehan, Bishops Muldoon, McFall, Messmer and other prelates in the sanctuary. Since the inception of the movement in Cincinnati, last December, when but one state federation, that of Ohio, existed, the federation has made phenomenal advances. The following states will have permanent federations by Aug. 5: New Jersey, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Alabama, Massachusetts, and probably New York, Illinois, Kansas and Minnesota.

The executive board of the federation will meet in Chicago with supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus, Knights of St. John, Catholic Knights of America, Catholic Order of Foresters, Irish Catholic Benevolent union, Young Men's Institute, Catholic Truth society, Central Verein, Western Catholic union, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Benevolent Legion, Catholic Mutual Benefit association, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, and others.

FACTS NOT FICTION

A Plain Statement of a Bad Condition and a Cure That Never Fails.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for four or five years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' drug store, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness are almost gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

two days previous to the convention to suggest changes in the constitution. All the Catholic societies in the United States, whether affiliated or not with the federation, will be invited to send delegates. One of the cardinal principles of the federation is that in furthering its objects it does not in any way interfere with the government or disturb the autonomy of any organization affiliated with it.

VATICAN WISHES COMPROMISE.

Rome, July 7.—The vatican is striving to find a compromise between satisfying the desires of Washington, as set forth by Judge William H. Taft, governor of the Philippines, and relieving the holy see from direct responsibility for the withdrawal of the friars from the Philippine archipelago. Several plans to this end have been discussed by the vatican authorities. The most acceptable of these is that the generals of the four religious orders concerned, having been informed of Washington's request, shall themselves order the withdrawal of their dependents, who now number about 500.

This plan would necessitate a letter from the general of each order to Governor Taft, pledging the writer to this action, or the insertion of a clause in the contract between Judge Taft and the vatican that steps to this end will be taken immediately by the generals when they are aware of the wishes of the United States. The vatican would thus be under no odium, the pope merely accepting an accomplished fact.

STUDENTS' RELIGIOUS MEETING.

Secretary Speer, Rev. Kolman and Others Spoke—Caret Titus One of Speakers.

East Northfield, Mass., July 7.—World's Students' conference closed Sunday with several sessions of exceptional interest. The morning gathering was addressed by Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, on "The Limitations of Christ." In the afternoon Rev. John Kolman, of Edinburgh university, spoke on "Prayer."

The subject of the twilight meeting on Round Top was "Missions," and J. M. Foreman, of India, and E. C. Carter, general secretary of the Harvard Y. M. C. A., and who is to go to India on missionary work, spoke.

The last session was in the Auditorium, and John R. Mott presided. The short addresses were by Mr. Speer, R. H. Edwards, of the Yale Y. M. C. A.; E. L. Janeway, who holds a similar position at Princeton; A. E. Fateson, of McGill university; Dr. U. Sasamori, of Nagasaki, and Cared Titus, of West Point.

The statistics of the conference are somewhat incomplete, but it is known that 133 institutions have been represented by 614 delegates.

BIBLE CONFERENCE.

National Meeting of Young People Adjourned—Resolution Favored Annual Gatherings.

Warsaw, Ind., July 7.—The closing exercises of the first National Young People's Bible conference, at Winona, were held Sunday. The most impressive service was the hillside meeting, conducted by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, the conference director, and Rev. Arthur J. Smith, of New York. Dr. B. A. Cobin, president of Depauw university, delivered the morning sermon.

Dr. Chapman gave a strong address at the Auditorium last night. A resolution was adopted urging that the conference be made a permanent annual affair.

SONS OF BENJAMIN MET.

Independent Order Convention Re-Elects Grand Master Levy.

Philadelphia, July 7.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Independent Order Sons of Benjamin began here Sunday, with nearly 600 delegates in attendance, representing 155 lodges, comprising a membership of 20,000 in all sections of the country. The most important business of Sunday's session was the election of a grand master, Ferdinand Levy, of New York, who has held the office since 1883, being re-elected.

Among the recommendations made by Grand Master Levy in his report was one that the present rule upon the taking out of insurance, by which a male member cannot take out less than a $1,000 policy, be changed so that it is optional with him to take either a $500 or $1,000 policy. The Mutual Guarantee Fund amounts at the present time to more than $175,000, and is being constantly increased.

Postal Takes Hold of Pennsy Wires.

Pittsburg, July 7.—Just as the clock struck 12 last night the Postal Telegraph company opened for business in the Union station of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city. The change was made according to the recent agreement between the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Postal Telegraph company for the right to operate along the line of that railroad company east of Pittsburg and Erie. According to Postal officials, that company will share the wires on the railroad property with the Western Union Telegraph company until Dec. 1, when the contract between the Western Union and the railroad finally terminates.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Joseph Swallen, of Paris, O., killed himself by taking poison and cutting his throat.

Grace Matthews, aged 16, died at Massillon from injuries sustained by the bursting of a cannon.

Margaret, the 15-months-old daughter of Matthew Kessler, was fatally scalded by the upsetting of hot tea.

Scott Robinson, a prisoner at the Ohio state penitentiary, assaulted Jack Reeves, a Columbian prisoner, in the Hayden shop and brutally beat him.

The entries for this week's race meet at Salem Driving park have closed, and the list is one of the largest ever entered at any race meet ever held in Salem.

Thomas L. Morgan, aged 26, was drowned in Lake Cohasset, at Mill Creek park, Youngstown, while boating. Andrew Laurik, a Slav, was drowned in the Mahoning river.

Donald Cook, an old resident of Youngstown, got caught in fence palings at Mill Creek park, remaining 24 hours, struggling to get free, and died just when his plight was discovered.

The Bergholz Telephone company, Bergholz, Jefferson county, with $5,000 capital, has been incorporated to erect and maintain telephone lines in Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison counties.

Lambert Royston, aged 23 years, employed on the pile driver which has been working on the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad, went to sleep while sitting under a car at Palmyra and was killed.

Ex-Marshall Charles Johnson, of Salem, who was badly injured by a fall from a railroad train early in March, and who has since been unable to use his right leg, which was broken, has returned to Alliance hospital for further treatment.

David's Line.

When David Belasco and H. C. De Mille wrote "The Charity Ball," there was a speech in it that did not please Herbert Kecey, leading man of the company. The words Kecey objected to were quoted from one of David's psalms.

Ignorant of its origin, Kecey said to Mr. De Mille: "I don't like that line. It's bombastic and old fashioned."

"The line is not mine, but David's," replied De Mille, referring of course to the psalmist.

A Gentleman.

One of our readers sends a nice story about the question, "What is a gentleman?" Hearing a house carpenter spoken of as a gentleman by a furniture remover, he sought delicately for explanations. "Lor' bless yer, sir," answered the furniture remover, "we calls every man a gentleman as pays 20 shillings in the pound."—London Globe.

Hobby's Little Game.

Wife—What's the matter? Husband—Some one has been robbing the firm, and I'm afraid I'll be suspected. Wife—Impossible! Husband—Well, it's best to be on the safe side. Better not buy that new dress you've been worrying me about.—New York Weekly.

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

LAW TO CONTROL TRUSTS.

President Invited Littlefield to Prepare Bill, Which He Will Back.

Oyster Bay, July 7.—It has been ascertained that the president's speech at Pittsburg on the Fourth of July in reference to the trust question was merely a forerunner of determined efforts by him to have congress take up that subject and enact definite legislation at the next session for the control and supervision of trusts.

Recently the president and Attorney General Knox held a conference with Representative Littlefield, of Maine, whose knowledge of constitutional law is admitted, at which Mr. Littlefield was invited to prepare a bill for the regulation and control of the trusts that will go before congress with the indorsement and influence of the president back of it. The bill will be submitted at the beginning of the next session, but before this is done the president, Attorney General Knox and Mr. Littlefield will have frequent conferences as to the details.

In addition to this proposed action the president is going to talk upon the trust question a good deal on the several trips to be made by him in the fall. He has announced to friends that the question is a vital one, and he proposes to push it vigorously until there is some action by congress.

MORGAN'S VISIT TO KAISER.

A Vienna Paper Comments Upon It In Satirical Way.

Vienna, July 7.—The Neue Freie Presse has published a satirical editorial article on the fact that J. Pierpont Morgan took luncheon with Emperor William on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Kiel, July 3. The paper remarks: "Without his check book Mr. Morgan would never have been the emperor's guest."

The article harps throughout upon the probabilities of misfortune overtaking "The Napoleon of Finance," and says that gilded by the imagination, his trusts appear to be excellent, but that the first moment public confidence is disturbed the system will undergo a severe trial.

The Neue Freie Presse concludes by saying:

"Could a thought reader have penetrated the secret recesses of the minds of Emperor William and his guest, what startling contrasts might he not have discovered. In Emperor William's mind, perhaps, a yearning for fame and splendor; in that of Mr. Morgan the hope of new trusts and rising prices. How fortunate it is that social politeness veils such opposites."

MAY BE CRIMINAL ACTION.

Nora Ferris Died of Punishment at Delaware (O.) Home.

Columbus, O., July 7.—The committee of the state board of charities which has been investigating affairs of the State Industrial School for Girls, filed its report with the governor. The committee finds that Nora Ferris, an inmate, who was punished by being placed in a straight jacket, died as a result of the punishment inflicted.

The governor immediately sent a copy of the report to the attorney general, with the suggestion that he decide whether criminal action should be instituted.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Charles Hutton, Burville, Mich.

Notice to Republicans.

Notice is hereby given to the Republican electors of the Eighteenth Congressional District of Ohio, that a delegate convention
to place in nomination a candidate for Representative to Congress will be held at Salem, July 23, 1902.

at 11 o'clock, a. m.
Delegates will be selected in the several counties composing said district on the basis of the Republican vote cast for President in 1900, viz: One delegate for each 100
votes and fraction thereof in excess of 50.
COLUMBIANA, 103 Delegates
MAHONING, 89 Delegates
STARK, 102 Delegates
By Order of Congressional Committee,
J. P. FAWCETT,
E. H. TURNER,
ED. A. KING,
Committee

Republican primaries to select a candidate for congress will be held in this county next Saturday. This is in accordance with the arrangement made
by the county central committee at its recent meeting. The entry of Wallace
H. Phelps, of Stark, in the race as a candidate in this county necessitates
the holding of a primary. Mr. Phelps
has complied with the requirements
and has therefore a perfect right to have his claims considered. While he is a man of excellent character and standing, it is not to be believed that
any considerable number of Columbiana county voters will aid him in preference to a home candidate equally strong and able. We greatly fear,
therefore, that Mr. Phelps' campaign
efforts, so far as this county is concerned, will be wasted. In Hon.
Charles S. Speaker, of Lisbon, the Republicans of Columbiana have a candidate eminently deserving of their cordial and earnest support, and it is altogether unlikely that such support
will be lacking. Mr. Speaker is an attorney of prominence and ability, a broad, fair-minded man, a citizen who
is public spirited and proud of his county. If he should have the good fortune to secure the nomination—and
his chances certainly are as good as
those of any man in the race—it is safe to predict that he will work steadily, conscientiously and faithfully for
his constituents and his country and
make a representative who will be a credit to the Eighteenth district and to the state of Ohio. He is a Republican to the backbone and will support the
principles and the policies that have
made the party great and the nation
prosperous. He will secure the Columbiana county delegation in the coming convention, and his friends will stand by him as long as he has a fighting chance.

Through an amendment to the naval school bill, a naval training station is
to be established on the great lakes.
Congress appropriates $5,000 for the expenses of a board which will investigate sites and at its next session will make an appropriation for the school.
Chicago, realizing that the training station will be of great importance to the city that gets it, is making a strong bid for its location there. Its establishment will require a hundred acres of land and the expenditure of
several hundred thousand dollars for equipment. Ohio lake ports will not
be backward in presenting their advantages, and will use every possible

argument to secure a favorable recommendation from the commission. The school, wherever located, will certainly
meet a want of the Middle west
and will be an important adjunct of
the naval system.

The western district miners, who are
now working under one of the most liberal wage scales they ever had,
show no disposition to strike in sympathy with their eastern brethren.
They appear to have reached the conclusion that they could not help them
if they did.

A Democratic newspaper asserts
that President Roosevelt, in his declaration of war against the trusts, is
"just fooling." Evidently the trusts
don't think so. And any man who knows Roosevelt will not think so,
either. He is always thoroughly in earnest.

A New York actress wants $50,000
damages because her pictures were used in a corset advertisement. Fancy
an actress being damaged by any sort
of free advertising.

Hot weather smells that suggest the
need of activity on the part of the health authorities and the garbage collector are arising in several quarters
of the city.

Mrs. Peary is getting ready to go after her husband. The name of the party who is to go after Mrs. Peary
has not been made known.

Mr. Bryan might help his own case considerably by coming out and denying that he is the Kansas City platform.

The cool days that were so unpopular in June would now be gladly welcomed if they would return.

Aguinado, like many another man
just out of jail, finds his old occupation gone.

The best hot weather advice is not
to avoid work, but to avoid worry.

There are sweltering thousands who wish it were their vacation time.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sears Shay.

Mrs. Sears Shay, one of the best known residents of the city, died at 6 o'clock this morning at her late home
in McKinnon addition, after a long illness. Death was the result of a complication of troubles with which she had been troubled for some time. She
is survived by a husband and four children. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock
at the home, interment being at Riverview cemetery. The services will be in charge of Rev. C. G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, of which
she was a member.

Martha Craig.

Martha Craig, aged four years,
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Craig, of Nevada street, Wellsville, died Thursday night with measles. The remains were shipped by boat Friday
evening to Hartford City, Mason county, W. Va., for burial.

OUT THE CAR WINDOW

Claude Smith Thrust His Arm and a Telephone Pole
Broke It.

While riding on a street car last evening, bound for the city from Wells-ville, Claude Smith, of Pennsylvania avenue, met with an accident that is causing him much pain. The street car was crossing the Jethro bridge
when Mr. Smith indiscreetly ran his right arm out a window, while making
a gesture.

A telephone pole standing close to the track came in violent contact with
the arm, breaking it between the wrist
and the elbow. The injured man was compelled to suffer intensely until the car arrived at Dr. Laughlin's office
where the arm was given the necessary medical attention. The car was crowded when the accident occurred,
and it is said that several women fell
in a swoon as a result.

The paraphernalia of the Exposition
Carnival company which showed in Columbian park during four days or
last week was attached last evening
and is now in the possession of Constable Powell. The attachment was made to satisfy the claims of F. B.
Rall for $35; J. L. Day for $10.50 and
Herman Goldman for $33.

All claim that the money is due
them for their labor. Attorneys have been employed by all parties and
the cases have been set for a hearing
on Thursday afternoon in Squire Mc-
Carron's court.

[Special Correspondence.]

Wheeling, July 7.—Two new decorating kilns are being built at the Vance Faience art plant at Tiltonville and
will be completed within the next three weeks. This company recently added a new decorating shop to its plant. It measures 60x80 feet. The employees of this plant gave a pleasant dance Thursday evening, which
was one of the social successes of the season.

J. P. Ross, a presser at the Tilton-ville plant, formerly employed at the Standard and Laughlin, at East Liverpool, has gone to Tiltonville, where he will remain a few days visiting relatives.

Hugh Clancey, who has been pressing at the Warwick, has resigned his position and has left for East Liverpool, where he will seek a position.

All the general ware shops of this
city are shut down for about two weeks. The sanitary shops closed Thursday evening and they will not resume until Monday week.

A large order has been placed with
the Riverside plant for "Cuba" wash-
downs. There are about 3,000 pieces
in the order.

All the sanitary men employed at
the Riverside plant are quite elated
over the knowledge that the new uniform price list for these shops becomes operative Monday.

Daniel Moody, a kilnman at the Wheeling pottery, has been nominated
by the Republicans of his district for the legislature. He has received the endorsement of the Ohio Valley Trades
and Labor Councils and the potters' local as well. His chances for election
are most favorable.

The several pottery locals of this
city have completed the appointment
of committees to solicit funds for the next national Brotherhood convention
which will be held here next May.

[Special Correspondence.]

Lisbon, July 7.—The Thomas China
company closed its plant but a few days. Operations suspended last Wednesday evening, and the shop starts
this morning. A long run is expected.

The Thomas company will soon
place a number of new designs on the
jardiniere, a cracker jar and a new shape spittoon. This company is also meeting with good success with its underglaze work, and a new dinner
shape of this character is soon to be placed in the trade.

William Bailey, who has been employed here as a jiggerman, is working out his two weeks' notice and will leave in a few days for East Liverpool,
where he will take a similar position
at the Harker plant. Jack Lease is also working out his two weeks' notice.

William Rupp, who has been working at the Lisbon tin mill, has taken
a position on the biscuit bench.

Mrs. Henry Allison arrived here today from East Liverpool.

Herbert Bloor, a turner at the Buckeye, has sailed from New York
for England. Harry Watkin, a dish-maker at Severs, also left for a visit to his former home in England, and
was accompanied by Priestly Hindle,
Albert Jewell and his son. They expect to remain in England for about six weeks.

It was the intention of the Laughlin
Pottery company to start its East End
plants this morning, but the statement
was made by an official of the company

that this could not be done until about Thursday. The company anticipated that some changes that were to be made in the gas connections at the plants would have been completed by Saturday, but the gas company was late in starting this work, and will not have it completed until Wednesday evening. A number of the employes started to the plant this morning to resume work, but were told to rest a few more days and report Thursday
morning.

Robert Hawkins, formerly of this city, and located at the Union, but now
foreman of the clay department of the Barberton pottery, was in the city last
week to visit. He stated that today
the claymakers would start to work,
and if it can possibly be done the clay
shops will be started in a week. All
the machinery is now installed, and
clay has been delivered. Quite a number of East Liverpool pottery workmen will be found at this new shop
after it is started.

A. G. White, formerly city engineer of Wellsville, but now engineer for the American Sewer Pipe company, started
for Grand Springs, Mich., to look after some big improvements to the
plant of the company in that place.
The American Sewer Pipe company
now has 36 factories in their regime,
the farthest western factory being at Brazil, Ind.

The Trenton Pottery company has filed the proposed amendment to its charter, making the preferred stock
non-cumulative and providing for $500,000 of refunding certificates, with which the arrearages in dividends will
be paid.

William Maley, who had been employed as a jiggerman at the Diamond
pottery, but who recently obtained a similar position at the Canonsburg
plant, has left for the latter place with
his family.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery
will resume next Wednesday, and repairs and overhauling of machinery
are going on in the meantime. Engineer Frank Rambo is spending his vacation at Frederickstown.

Frank Earl, a kilnman at Vodyrey's, has left for Wisconsin, where he will remain five weeks or more for the benefit of his health and to visit
friends.

Gamble & Surles will commence
their brick contract this week for the big addition to the Knowles pottery
or rebuilding of the end of the old pottery.

Several buyers from Dayton, O., who have been in the city during the week,
placed some very large business.

Workmen are lowering the floors in
the basement of the biscuit ware room
at the Dresden pottery.

James Feehan, a well known dipper
at the Dresden, is on the sick list.

Street Railway to Youngstown.

The work on the new street railway line from Rochester, Pa., to Youngstown, begins today. J. J. Corner, who superintended a portion of the construction of the Rock Springs railway double track, will have charge of the gang at Rochester. The line will go through Beaver Falls, Homewood, Walton, New Castle, to Youngstown.

Miss Lizzie Clark, of Sixth street, who was severely burned on the Fourth by a toy revolver, is slowly improving, but is suffering much as a result of the shock to her nervous system.

BUT TWO OFFENDERS

One Turned Over to Infirmary Directors and One Ordered to Travel.

But two violators of the law faced
Mayor Davidson this morning. Willis
Smith, over 70 years of age, was found
very drunk on Second street by Officer
McDermott early Saturday evening.
He is helpless and the mayor issued orders that he be placed in charge of
the infirmary directors.

Dan Lyons, of Wellsville, was arrested by Officer Rose for attempting to make an assault on an unknown person. He is a vagrant and was given

Wedded in Chester.

William Thompson and Miss Doty of the East End, East Liverpool, were married last evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. H. M. Carnahan at the M. E. pasonage in Chester.

BADLY LITTERED STREETS

Relics of the Fourth of July Arouse the Ire of the Property Owners.

A spirited dispute was indulged in by the street commissioner and a lower Main street merchant, Thomas Hamilton, this morning. Commissioner Herbert wanted to know the reason for so much rubbish in the street, which was the unremoved debris remaining from the pranks of a lot of Fourth of July celebrators. This was an opening for Mr. Hamilton, who declared that some people could evidently do as they please in this town.

He informed the commissioner that he had swept the street off during the rain and that the city ought to remove the rubbish. The block from Fourteenth to Fifteenth streets is littered with broken barrels, boxes and decaying garbage that was blown around by the powder explosions and has not been cleared. Curbing and paving were torn by the explosions, and as Hamilton had two windows broken by the concussions, suffering with his neighbors, he was in a spirited mood to talk to an official.

Mr. Herbert said that the streets would be cleaned. The top of the railroad round house has scattered boards that were blown high in the air. A number of the roundhouse windows were broken by the repeated concussions made by small cannon.

BURCHARD IS BETTER

Young Man Who Was Shot Is in a Fair Way to Recovery.

The condition of Blair Burchard, who received two bullet wounds in the neck from a pistol discharged by Geo. Snowden, Thursday evening, is favorable to the young man's recovery. While one ball passed entirely through his neck just below the ears no large arteries or veins were severed. More danger may attach to the second wound. That bullet has not been definitely located.

Snowden's hearing is set for today before the mayor. The colored prisoner regrets the affray and condemns his folly for carrying a revolver. His plea is that he acted in self defense. In talking briefly of the fight he says that several men had him cornered, and that he had no chance for making his escape. In terror of his life he used the revolver.

CRUELTY TO HORSES

The Charges on Which William Horton Will Have a Hearing.

A charge against William Horton, of the West End, will be tried before a jury in Justice Haney's court this evening at 7 o'clock. The prosecution is brought by Humane Officer Golden, of East Liverpool. The defendant has asked for a jury and will confront his accusers.

It is alleged that Horton was moving a barn on Center street a few days ago. His team was unable to pull the structure. One of the horses fell down, and residents of that vicinity declare that the horses were cruelly beaten with a shovel.

Several ladies remonstrated with Horton, who did not stop beating the animals until they were unmercifully punished. The women made their statements to Officer Golden. Horton contends that he did not mistreat his team.

Enjoyable Lawn Fete.

A lawn fete was given at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Snowden on Center street under the auspices of the A. M. E. church Saturday evening. The yard was brilliantly illuminated and music was furnished by an East Liverpool orchestra. Refreshments were served, a large crowd attended and the social was a financial success. The proceeds will be applied on the church debt, which, through the efforts of the pastor and members, has been almost entirely liquidated.

Coal Boats Tied Up.

The current in the river became very swift Saturday night, and several tows found it difficult to steer the large fleets of coal. Four steamers tied up for the night between Walker and Wellsville, among them being the Sam Brown, the Charles Cook and the Fred Wilson. Extra strong lines had to be used. At one point the river was almost bridged with coal boats.

M. E. Church Services.

Rev. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder, delivered the morning sermon at the First M. E. church, and in the evening the service was conducted by Rev. George W. Orcutt, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church, East Liverpool. Special services were observed at the Y. P. S. C. E. consecration meeting of the Christian church in the evening.

Too Hot For Services.

No services were held in the United Presbyterian church on account of the excessive heat Sunday evening. A commendable arrangement existed at the First Presbyterian, seats having been placed outside the church.

Mrs. Charles Van Fossen, of Elwood, Ind., is a guest of Mrs. Bruce Davidson, on Broadway, and other relatives.

Rev. W. F. Sloan, of Storm Lake, Ia., is spending a few weeks here. He was formerly pastor of the Oak Ridge church and preached there Sunday.

A Tiresome Story.

"What's the matter with you?" "I've just been asking old Jorklas for his daughter." "And he cut up rough, eh?" "He did. After he had said 'Yes' he insisted upon telling me the story of his life, and it took a full hour!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Man in the Room.

Mrs. Caudle—Wake up, Jeremiah. I do believe there's a man in the room. Caudle—Yes, dear, and he's trying his best to get a few winks of sleep. Good night—Tit-Bits.

NEEDS OF CHESTER

Rev. H. M. Carnahan Thinks Better Enforcement of Law One of Them.

Rev. Herbert M. Carnahan, of the Chester M. E. church, preached a patriotic sermon to a large congregation last night, taking for his theme, "Independence Day." Freedom, he said, was a gift of God, and the more knowledge we have the greater our freedom. A nation is a group of families, and as long as they are law abiding are free and equal.

There must be a central head for every group of families. In monarchical governments the head of royal blood is either absolute or limited. Such governments jarred on the ears of Americans. So came the revolution of 1776.

The Fourth of July was founded to crown the people, and subject the king. Prophecy had been fulfilled, for "He that is least amongst you, let him be the greatest."

The people of the nation are the king, but it does not follow that every citizen under the Stars and Stripes is such. Law abiding people and not transgressors rule. Every generation must maintain the civil freedom of our forefathers. The fight today is not against any individual, but against an element that strives to take the crown from our law abiding people and outrage their moral sense. It was a degrading element, even inculcating anarchy.

The law abiding element of Chester say we keep the law ourselves, and do our duty to God and humanity, and stand for a quiet peaceful Sabbath. We want peace and order and closed mercantile doors. We want to teach our children to respect the Christian Sabbath, the true teaching of independence, liberty and freedom, and that lawlessness and immorality rampant in Chester should cease. It is tyranny upon Chester homes and sons and daughters. Chester has laws with but a few men to enforce them, and needs more officers, and also more public sentiment to back up the work of the officers.

BLOOD POISONING

Developed From a Slight Scratch Inflicted by a Nail in a Basket.

While in the act of picking up a basket in his father's restaurant at Rock Springs park last week, Charles H. the son of Charles M. Smith, scratched the thumb of his right hand on a nail in the basket. Nothing was thought of the scratch at the time, but now blood poisoning has set in, and the boy's condition is considered serious.

The thumb has been cut open twice, but now the poison has gone through his system, and last night he suffered intense pain. His arm is swollen to almost twice its normal size. The family reside in the stone house just west of the car barn.

Enjoyable Concert.

Shea's "Transformation Choir," was presented for the first time at the evening concert at Rock Springs park last evening to one of the largest audiences of the season. There are 14 persons in the choir, but only a few of these could be featured last evening, owing to the smallness of the stage. Two selections were rendered, "Shining Light," and "Calvary." The numbers were rendered in a superb manner and the audience was delighted. Miss Kathryn McFadden's singing is worthy of especial mention. The afternoon concert by Nowling's orchestra was most enjoyable.

Fight on a Shanty Boat.

A big fight occurred in a shanty boat located above the pump house at the Knowles pottery, Saturday night, in which the "Dirty Dozen" and the shanty boat men were hotly engaged. It is stated that the former crowd was given a severe beating not long ago by the latter, and in a spirit of revenge visited the boat. Fists were used with telling effect. Charles Potts says he will swear out warrants today.

Guilty on Three Charges.

Harry Mathers was arrested yesterday by Officer Elliott, and pleaded guilty to charges before Justice Johnston of drunkenness, disorderly conduct and the use of profane language, also threatening to kill the officer, but received no fine on this charge. He was fined $12.15 all told, and Mrs. Mathers appeared and settled the fine which was reduced to $11. Mathers was released.

At Work in the New Town.

William Severs left today for Mahan, W. Va., the new town building below Steubenville, where his son, Arch Severs, has a big grading contract for the big steel mill to be located there. The latter will probably remain all summer engaged in the grading business at that point, as a new town is to be builded.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society, of the Presbyterian church, met at the church Saturday at 2 o'clock, and went to the park for a picnic and supper.

At a meeting of the presidents of the boards of education of the several magisterial districts, held in New Cumberland Miss Jane Stewart was unanimously elected as a member of the board of examiners.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

REV. EDWIN WEARY DOES NOT BELIEVE ITS DOCTRINES.

Declares Mrs. Eddy an Impostor Who Does Not Practice What She Preaches.

St. Stephen's church was well filled last evening when Rev. Edwin Weary, the rector, delivered a special sermon on the subject, "Christian Science." Owing to the head Rev. Mr. Weary shortened his address very much, giving simply an outline of the topic, and promising to be more explicit at another time.

Mrs. Eddy, the famous exponent and leader of the science in the world today, received marked attention from the rector. "She advocates, and all of her followers believe," said he, "that God is mind, and we believe that He is a person. They believe in idealism. She teaches that nothing is matter; that all ailments of the body can be cured by the great science. These are only a few of the points which she dwells upon."

"In the first place she is an impostor. This can be proven in numerous ways. She does not bear out her sentiments by her own life, and a preacher that does not live as he preaches should get down and out, and never appear before the people. Although she teaches that there is a power other than medical power to relieve and make well all afflictions, she does not apply to that great power herself. Having a decayed tooth not long ago she was seen to apply to a dentist for aid. Why did she do so if the power upon which she preaches will suffice? If nothing is matter and all is mind why does she wear thicker clothing in winter than in the summer? If all her arguments are true why is it that she partakes of medicine when sick?"

"All of these questions I give to you that you may think of them and be prepared, when the argument, which I have prepared, but have eliminated on account of the prevailing warmth, shall be presented."

Display of Wealth Unwise.

"There is nothing more unwise," said the friend, "than a needless and ostentatious display of wealth."

"That's right," answered Mr. Gripper Sorghum; "there are enough people trying to get it away from you without issuing any challenges."—Washington Star.

TOWN SCARED

with in Canton had a death from the disease and Fitzpatrick being an inmate, undoubtedly carried the germs from that city.

NO DANCER HERE

Smallpox in Chester Caused a Flurry on This Side the River.

The news of smallpox in Chester caused something of a flurry on this side of the river. Health Officer J. H. Burgess went to the Southside and made a careful investigation. He gave the Chester officials warning that every precaution must be taken, or else their town would be quarantined against. He satisfied himself that all precautions were being taken and that there is no danger to East Liverpool.

It is learned that Fitzpatrick spent some time in this city Saturday, but it is doubtful if the disease had so far developed then as to become infectious. There are said to be six or seven persons in the house under quarantine.

ASKS FOR ALIMONY

Salem Woman Enters Suit Against Her Husband, Charging Desertion.

Lisbon, July 7.—(Special)—Mary L. Knight, of Salem, has entered suit against Charles O. Knight, of the same city, for alimony. They were married in 1900, and Mrs. Knight left her husband on June 24, 1902.

She claims that he has been guilty of extreme cruelty and has accused her of unchastity. He earns $3 per day at the machinists' trade, and owns tools worth $100. She asks the court to allow her suitable alimony.

A Gigantic Goddess of War.

In the Japanese capital there is a gigantic image of a woman made of wood, iron and plaster. The time of its erection and the name of its designer are in dispute, but it is known to have been dedicated to Hachiman, the god of war. In height it measures fifty-four feet, the head alone, which is reached by a winding stairway in the interior of the figure, being capable of holding a company of twenty persons. The goddess holds a sword in her right hand and a huge painted wooden ball in the left. Internally the statue is the finest anatomical model in existence, every bone, joint and ligament being represented on a gigantic scale in proportion to the height and general size of the huge figure itself. The large eyes are magnifying glasses, through which a fine view of the surrounding country may be had.

Uninjured Lions Seldom Charge.

Like every other animal, the lion tries to avoid man until wounded, and it is only in exceptional cases of there being young ones to guard or from astonishment at seeing the hunters so close to them that they charge when being tracked.

They charge with the same coughing roar that a tiger does and come at great speed close to the ground, not bounding in the air, as they are represented in pictures. Their ears are pressed close to the head, giving them the comical appearance of being without ears.—London Times.

The Most Exalted.

"Let me now," said the chairman of the reception committee, "introduce to you the man who occupies the highest station in our community."

"Ab, pleased to meet you, sir," said the distinguished foreigner. "May I ask what your business is?"

"I am the weather observer."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Date on Silver Coins.

Most people have an old silver coin of some kind which they are keeping as a relic either for sentimental reasons or because they think it worth more than its face value. In some instances the date or the inscription has been worn away and it is impossible to read it even with a strong glass.

The following method, originally practiced at the mint to discover the genuine coins when silver was called in, will enable any one to read an obliterated inscription:

Make the poker redhot in the fire and then place the silver coin on it. The inscription will be plainly visible in a greenish hue, which will fade as the coin cools.—London Chronicle.

THE BEST GAME OF THE SEASON

That Played With the Fairbanks on Saturday Past and Exciting.

EAST LIVERPOOL AHEAD

Though Chances Were Even Up to the Beginning of the Seventh Inning. The Lineup for the Locals Was a Very Strong One.

The third game of the series played in the West End park Saturday afternoon by the locals and the Fairbanks, of Allegheny, was without doubt the best witnessed on local grounds this season. For six long innings the immense crowd that had gathered to see what had been stated to be the last game of the season was on the verge of a collapse, the excitement being so intense.

The visitors were playing an excellent game and the locals were not far behind. That famous seventh inning came to the rescue of the home team. At its beginning the score stood 3 to 1 with the chances even. At the end the score stood 5 to 3 with the chances all in favor of the locals. Kommer, pitcher for the visitors, was all in. He had pitched 29 innings and the over-exertion began to show its effects. After two men had hit the dust he became excited and gave the next two men their base on balls.

The crowd then began to howl and for a few minutes pandemonium reigned supreme. Every ball that was touched by the visitors seemed to be greeted on fire. They could not even grapple with them. In consequence four runs were scored; two errors were made; two wild throws were delivered and two men walked.

The next inning was almost a repetition, the only difference being that the locals succeeded in pounding out four hits. The visitors found it impossible to get another lead and lost the game, but not without a hard and brave struggle. Every man on the team played to win. They are up to all the tricks and tried to work them at every opportunity. Had their pitcher not been up against more than other pitchers ever allow, the result might have been different. It is hardly probable, however, as they were contending with the strongest local team that could be placed on the diamond.

The entire team was the cream of all teams in and close around the city. That they played such a game when they never had worked together is remarkable. Maag and Berry, the two from Canton, strengthened the team very much. Maag is certainly the smoothest batter in this section. When he fails to get his base on balls it is only because he would rather get a hit. In the three games he walked eight times—a record unprecedented. Godwin played a pretty game at second. He cut his usual number of errors out and assisted quite materially in winning the game. Three hits at opportune times were more than any one else accomplished.

Wellsburg was proudly represented in the game by Farrell, who played behind the bat. He was a little weak at the bat, but he was there at all other stages.

Maaley has now a boy of his years as a strong rival. Barker, who has been playing with the third and fourth class teams all summer, was given a chance, and he certainly proved a marvel. No man in the country has a prettier delivery. He does it all with his wrist. No body movement is required by him. It being the first game he ever pitched against a first team he deserves great credit.

A NOVEL ENTERPRISE

Water Circus in Preparation Here Which Will Tour the South.

There has been in preparation at the foot of Babb's island, on the Ohio side, an amusement which is to be known as the "Great American Water Circus." It is to be a novel enterprise, the like of which has never been seen. The bottoms of two coal boats were first brought to the city, and since then carpenters, electricians and other mechanics have been busily engaged in building seats, slides, sailing apartments and stables. Then the company has a regular steamboat, the J. C. Reynolds, which is the property of the amusement company. This boat will tow the circus as far south as New Orleans, expecting to reach that point about December.

The company carries including all performers and workmen and steamboatmen, 54 persons, besides trained sheep, dogs, ponies and pigs. There are several acrobats and all will open their season in this city next Thursday. A large tent is spread over the seats, supported by three center poles. W. H. Hatch, who was one of the main witnesses in Peter Sells divorce case at Columbus several years ago, is the general manager and director of the enterprise.

RECHABITES' ELECTION

New Officers Chosen for Favorite Tent No. 175, Saturday Evening.

Favorite tent No. 175, Rechabites, elected officers Saturday night as follows:

Chief Ruler—Isaac Schamp.
Past Chief Ruler—Thomas Hall.
Deputy Ruler—Mr. Voden.
Levite—William Craig.
Inside Guardian—C. C. Menough.

Trustees—Isaac Schamp, Frank Robinson and F. P. Williams, all re-elected.

The tent will install officers and initiate three candidates next Saturday evening.

Batter In the West Indies.

Every pound of butter that goes to the West Indies is colored a brilliant red. The dorkies over there won't have any other color. They like red butter, just as they adore red shirts and red ties or the red label on a tomato tin. Grocers say that if a black and white label should be placed on tomato tin, there would be no sale at all.—London Chronicle.

AGUINALDO IS FREE

SEEMED AFRAID TO VENTURE OUT

Manila, July 7.—As a result of the proclamation of amnesty, July 4, the guard of American soldiers has been withdrawn from the house where Aguinaldo lived in Manila and Lieutenant Johnson, Aguinaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino yesterday to see General Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Filipino revolution. Lieutenant William E. McKinley, of the Ninth cavalry, acted as interpreter.

Aguinaldo was told he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and General Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discourtesy or harshness. Aguinaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told General Chaffee that he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite Viejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. General Chaffee replied that Aguinaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

The former Filipino leader then asked General Chaffee to prevent the courts from requiring him to testify in civil suits. General Chaffee replied that he had no authority to grant this request, and advised Aguinaldo to make a social call upon Acting Civil Governor Wright. This Aguinaldo said he would do, but that he would go at night, as he was timid about appearing on the streets in daylight.

The release of the former Filipino leader has renewed speculation as to possible vengeance upon him by friends of Luna and his other enemies.

CHARGES OF MAJOR GARDENER

Promised to Answer Demand For Evidence Today.

Manila, July 7.—The cross-examination of Major Cornelius Gardener governor of Tayabas province, Luzon by the board which has been investigating the charges of cruelty, etc., brought by the major against American officers and soldiers, has been completed. The board had again finally demanded the production by Major Gardener of testimony as to the alleged hostility of the military authorities in the Philippines to the civil government.

Major Gardener promised to answer this demand today. He testified that he had not intended to reflect upon the fairness of the court and that the recorder had not, to his knowledge, interfered with his witnesses.

THIRTEEN WERE KILLED.

One More Likely to Die, From Gloversville, N. Y., Wreck.

Gloversville, N. Y., July 7.—Motor man William Dodge, of the runaway car on the Mountain Lake railroad, died at Littauer hospital last night, making the thirteenth victim of the wreck of Friday night. It is probable that George Fisher, whose skull was fractured, will die, and Edward Schell is in a very serious state. Coroner Palmer has commenced an investigation.

It has developed that the frame of the truck of the runaway car was broken and may have caused the accident, but the motor man's death will make it hard to determine the exact cause.

STORM IN NEW YORK.

Swept Over Western Section—One Person Drowned.

Buffalo, July 7.—A terrific rain and wind storm swept over Western New York at an early hour yesterday. Rivers and creeks rose rapidly, overflowing their banks and sweeping away houses and barns and live stock. The loss will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Telegraph and telephone wires were down last night and communication with small towns in Wyoming, Niagara and Cattaraugus counties was difficult to establish. This city was not in the path of the storm. At Arcade, Minnie Loper was drowned.

Three of Yachting Party Drowned.

New York, July 7.—The wife of Captain Tiemann N. Horn, of the Ninety-fifth company, sea coast artillery; his daughter, Frances, aged 7; and Miss Alice McMahon, of Nyack, N. Y., were drowned in Sandy Hook bay Sunday. Five others, including the captain, were rescued. The captain's yacht, in which they were sailing, was turned over by a puff of wind, causing the sail to gybe.

HER ESCAPE

Surely if ever a man deserved punishment at the hands of woman that man was Ashby Eldon. He had behaved unforgettably.

She had met him for the first time at Nice in the early part of the winter. She was there with an enervated aunt. He was there on mere pleasure and had given her to understand that he had fled from a bohemian atmosphere of tiresome adulation in London to bathe his soul in pure sunshine. He had talked culture and personalities in perfect proportion. He had been charming, had worn striped linen, a pointed beard and a smile of fascinating fatigue. He had deluged her with expensive flowers. At first these flowers had come with a mere card. A little later the card was often enclosed in a sealed envelope and covered with some suggestive little quotation from the French or German poets.

Still later the flowers had come without a word, bearing their own message, and when he noted a spray or two in her dress he would perhaps steady his eyes on hers for a moment, hold her hand the fraction of a second too long for mere convention or tell her in a thousand wordless ways that she was a charming woman in his eyes and that he knew she knew it. And never a hint or sign of his engagement to that Miss Trevors! It was incomprehensible, unspeakable!

If he had not mentioned by chance that Mrs. Haverton was his aunt, if on her return from Nice she had not taken enormous trouble to cultivate Mrs. Haverton and lead her talk on to Ashby Eldon, she might have dived in her foot's paradise to the day of his wedding announcement.

How she would tear him with her weapons of scorn and disgust! She would make him feel like a cur.

The hottest words seemed insufficient punishment when she thought what suffering he might have caused her. It was the merest chance that she had not lost her heart to him—the merest chance. Why did the face in the glass twitch as she said that? She would say it again and say it out loud. It was the purest piece of luck that she had not fallen in love with Ashby Eldon. He had done his best. He was a brute. Yes, he was. She didn't care. He was.

How hideous red eyelids could make one look! They took all the poetry out of white cheeks. Why had she been the fool to choose her pink silk for tonight? And what would it matter if she wore green balize? Hateful world! It was packed at the Havertons'. Eleven o'clock, and he was not there. She danced a great deal.

Half past 11, and he was not there. She sat out a great deal.

Half past 12, and he was not there. She was getting too tired to smile.

She must go home now.

"Good night, Mrs. Haverton—a delightful evening." Yes, she was feeling a little tired. Good night once more and out on to the staircase.

Merciful powers! There he came—slowly, possessedly—in the old way. Quick! What was she going to say at the very first—oh, what?

A wave seemed to wash over her brain. She took his proffered hand, and her eyes fell for one second. Then she looked up with a brilliant society smile. Her old resolutions lay about her in ruins. A completely different set of emotions had taken possession of her—unconsciously, unquestioningly.

"Ah, you are back in the vortex, Mr. Eldon—the dear old vortex?"

"Yes!" A faint suspicion of awkwardness spoiled his usually perfect manner. "Yes, I am just de retour. How kind of people to give these little soirees at this time of the year, when there is positively no other way of getting warm!"

"But you will give me a few words before you go. Come downstairs and let us drink to the memory of dear old Nice! And—I have news."

"Your engagement, and I was forgetting my congratulations! He took breath. "How unpardonable of me, but really so many of my friends have taken the fatal step just lately I'm getting quite confused. Is your fiancée here?"

"No, unfortunately."

"Ah, my misfortune, I am sure. Well, it leaves me something to look forward to. Good night, Mr. Eldon, and my wishes for your future happiness. There's my chaperon. I must fly."

She waved a frivolous hand. There was a look of surprised disappointment on his charming face. And yet he gave another deep sigh of relief as he turned into the ballroom.

"Wonderful luck! But somehow I thought she'd take it differently," said he to himself.

And she drove home. Only when she got to her own room and remembered just what she had meant to say and just what she had said did she see the humor of it, and thereupon she cried.

Thackeray's Reply.

Thackeray was not a humorist in the sense that Dickens was nor a wit in the sense that Jerrold was, but he now and then said a good thing in a quiet way. He was pestered on one occasion while in America by a young gentleman of an inquiring mind as to what was thought of this person and that person in England. "Mr. Thackeray," he asked, "what do they think of Tupper?" "They don't think of Tupper," was the reply.

PRESIDENT AT CHURCH

WON'T RECEIVE DELEGATIONS.

Hopes Matters, Except of Most Pressing Importance, Will Be Submitted by Mail—Meagre Hotel Accommodations May Keep Many Away.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 7.—In discussing the president's stay at Oyster Bay, Secretary Cortelyou yesterday said that there seemed to be considerable misapprehension as to some features of it. He stated that there would be no elaborate office establishment, and that the only clerical force maintained would consist of two stenographers. Arrangements have about been concluded for its use of two rooms in the bank building for office purposes and it will be there that the president will transact most of his business when he comes into town.

Restful Holiday Planned.

Both the president and his secretary have planned to make their brief holiday as restful as possible and to that end will transact in Oyster Bay only the most immediate public business. Everything else will be transmitted to Washington for attention there either by the regular White House force, or, in cases where other action is required, by the various departments. This is in accordance with the practice which has been followed successfully during previous summers. The president will not receive delegations and hopes to have all matters intended for him, not of the most pressing importance, submitted by correspondence.

The meagre hotel accommodations here will go far toward giving the president that rest and freedom from unnecessary official cares which he has made it plain to everyone he desires. What scant accommodations there are have been already pre-empted, and persons arriving here from this time on during the president's stay will probably find themselves without a place to sleep.

President Went to Church.

The president spent a restful night at Sagamore Hill. Even the howling of the family dog, which was kept up continuously, did not disturb his slumbers. He rose early and attended services at Christ Episcopal church. In his carriage were Miss Carow, his son Archie and Lieutenant Ferguson, of the Rough Riders, who is his guest. While waiting for Mrs. Roosevelt and the rest of the family the president stood outside the church and greeted his friends. To a newspaper man he laughingly remarked that Mrs. Roosevelt and the children were coming along in an express wagon.

DESPERATE CONVICT ESCAPED.

Tracy Forced Family to Give Food, Bound Them and Made Hired Man Row Him Away in Boat.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—Harry Tracy, the Oregon convict, again has eluded his pursuers, after a display of great daring.

According to information received at the sheriff's office Sunday, Tracy slept in a cemetery on the outskirts of Seattle, after his battle Thursday night with Seattle officers. On Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food and slept and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point and compelled a Japanese fisher boy to row him to Madison Point. Tracy watched the house of Rancher Johnson for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding but two, he entered and announced that he intended to kill every one on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added: "But after seeing your pretty little girl, I will kill no one of you if you all mind me. I will be here all day."

Made Them Furnish Breakfast.

The family prepared breakfast for Tracy. Tracy then read Friday evening's papers, and after learning how Mrs. Van Horn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy, said he had been careless in not keeping every one in that house constantly under his eye.

"My carelessness in this respect made it necessary to kill two officers."

he said.

He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food, clothing and blankets made into bundles.

At 8 o'clock he bound and tightly gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man, Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars, and started down the sound.

Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later, and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. McKay secured a boat and sent word to Seattle yesterday morning. Sheriff Cuddehe was summoned from Bothell, and at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, with several men, started down the sound in the Sea Lion, an electric tugboat, looking for the desperado and the farm hand. However, as Tracey had 15 hours start, it was believed he will make good his escape.

Value of a Single Plant.

The value of a single plant is well illustrated by the Concord grape. It may seem an extravagant statement to say the original Concord vine was worth $1,000,000. In one year in a single district the value of the product of Concord grape vineyards amounted to $2,000,000. That one vine was the foundation of an interest that represents more than $100,000,000.

Supposing the original Ben Davis apple had been destroyed before it had been propagated, what would be a reasonable sum to represent its loss? Thousands of people have made large sums growing the Ben Davis which would have made but little had they not had this variety.

There are single berries that, had they been lost, would have held back hundreds of farmers from paying off mortgages on their homes. Take the Kansas raspberry, the Early Harvest blackberry, the Warfield, Gandy, Aroma and other strawberries and estimate the money these plants have put into the pockets of growers.

And then but for the art of grafting in its many forms there never would have been but one Concord grapevine and but one Ben Davis apple tree, and the same with all the popular varieties of fruits, whether growing on trees, shrubs, canes or vines.

Progress in Agriculture.

There is a great deal of noise made, and it is justified by the facts, about our wonderful progress in manufactures. In fact, the civilized world is astounded because our manufacturers are invading countries from which we took our first lessons and surpassing them in the quality of products and in economy of manufacture, even with higher priced labor. In agriculture there has been as much progress, but much less has been said about it. Some years ago corn, wheat, oats, cotton and potatoes constituted about 90 per cent of our farm products. Now, with the exception of a few superlative products, we are producing all the products of all the nations of the earth and are shipping large quantities over every sea. As an example of agricultural progress we can mention the fact that we can by our advanced methods grow rice at less cost than any other country and pay eight times as much for labor. In bread, grains, fruits and live stock of every kind we now lead every other country. So true is this that an embargo on American products would inaugurate a famine over half the earth. And yet we have not reached one-half the capacity of our soil.—Farm and Ranch.

"Father of Arbor Day."

J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture during President Cleveland's second administration, whose death was announced on April 7, has left to the farmer a few innovations which will perpetually remain as monuments to his memory, says an exchange. He was known as the "Father of Arbor day," a day when trees are planted in all portions of the United States not only by agriculturists, but also largely participated in by school children. Secretary Morton also believed that congress when appropriating money for flower and vegetable seeds should spend an equal sum in publishing bulletins which might be useful to the farmer. Out of this idea grew the inauguration of the publication of farmers' bulletins.

Angleworms Are All Right.

Angleworms are in your garden because they find plenty of food there and the soil conditions suited to them.

Karl's Clover Root Tea corrects the Stomach

Boys who go fishing know where to go and get worms with the least work. They pick out cool, moist places where the soil is dark colored and full of rotting vegetable matter. This rotting humus is what the angleworm feeds on, swallowing chunks or masses of the soil, digesting the organic matter and expelling the undigested soil. These worms will do no harm to your garden. They are among the useful friends of the farmer, for they work over the soil and open it to air and water.

Farm Laborers in Kansas.

T. B. Grow, state employment agent, authorizes the statement that Kansas can get through the harvest without extra help. Statements of an exaggerated character have been published to the effect that there was great need of harvest hands in that state, and this as resulted in a flood of inquiries on the subject. Mr. Grow's announcement is confirmatory of the estimates that have been made of a materially reduced yield of wheat from Kansas fields.

Rape For Swine.

The value of rape as a pasture for swine is a matter of controversy among farmers who have tried it. Some say that hogs do not like it and will only eat it when especially hungry for green feed. Professor Shaw urges farmers not to give it up; that hogs will become fonder of it as time rolls round; that it is the same with sheep. Those fresh from the ranges do not like rape at first, but gradually overcome this dislike and afterward are very fond of it.

Let the Man Do the Milking.

While it may be rather hard to say yet it is the fact that one of the advantages in making the farmer himself do the milking and take care of the milk and cream is that in a short time he will supply himself with all the necessary conveniences for doing the work with as little labor as possible. It may be difficult to induce him to do this as long as his wife does the work, but the necessity will become readily apparent if he is obliged to do the work.

Showing the Tyrannous Effect of Habit upon a Wild Animal.

A vague figure appeared out of the clouds, traveling against the wind toward the spire and looking more like a ragged piece of newspaper whirled about the heavens than any living thing. It was a white owl, and after watching him for some time I came to the conclusion that he was trying to get to the vane of the spire. A very idle ambition it seemed, for, although he succeeded again and again in getting to within a few yards of the point aimed at, he was on each occasion struck by a fresh violent gust and driven back to a great distance, often quite out of sight in the gloom. But presently he would reappear, still struggling to reach the vane. A crazy bird!

But I could not help admiring his pluck and greatly wondered what his secret motive in aiming at that windy perch could be. And at last, after so many defeats, he succeeded and grasped the metal crossbar with his crooked talons. The wind with all its fury could not tear him from it, and after a little flapping he was able to pull himself up, and then, bending down, he deliberately wiped his beak on the bar and flew away!

This, then, had been his powerful, mysterious motive—just to wipe his beak, which he could very well have wiped on any branch or barn roof or fence and saved himself that tremendous labor. This was an extreme instance of that tyrannous effect of habit on a wild animal. Doubtless this bird had been accustomed after devouring his first mouse to fly to the vane, where he could rest for a few minutes, taking a general view of the place, and wipe his beak at the same time, and the habit had become so strong that he could not forego his v's, it even on so tempestuous an evening.

FEEHAN'S BODY

FOUND AFLOAT AT WHEELING AND IDENTIFIED.

The body of Thomas Feehan, the kilnman at Laughlin No. 2 who was drowned while bathing in the Ohio river last Tuesday, was recovered at Wheeling Saturday morning by A. W. Cramer, residing at 143 Virginia street, who was rowing across the river in a skiff to his work at Wheeling. When near the steel bridge Cramer saw the body floating down the river, and later towed it to the Wheeling plant, where he and Harry Dean notified the Wheeling authorities. Reports from Wheeling say that the body had the appearance of having been in the water for from eight to 10 days.

Charles Gallagher, of this city, who was in Wheeling Saturday, upon hearing that a "floater" had been found went to the undertaking rooms of C. H. Watkins and identified the body. An inquest was held by 'Squire Allen and a verdict of "found drowned" rendered. Later a message was sent to the dead man's relatives at Trenton notifying them that the body had been recovered. An answer was received to prepare the body for burial, using a metallic casket and forward it to Trenton. These instructions were followed. Additional information received from Trenton is to the effect that Feehan was 32 years old, and that his father is Patrick Feehan, who with six sons and a daughter reside at No. 818 Spruce street. Feehan was well known in pottery circles at Trenton, where he had been employed and was when a resident of Trenton a member of the Brotherhood.

HIT BY A POLE

An Italian laborer whose name is known only as Mike lies at his home near Walker with a badly crushed head, the result of standing on the lower step of a street car while it was crossing the Jethro bridge yesterday. In company with several friends he was in the midst of a heated argument when he suddenly bent backward trying to make his point more explicit.

His action might have resulted fatally, as a telephone came in contact with him, giving him a terrible blow on the side and front of his head. He reeled from the car and when picked up was bleeding profusely. No physician was called and he was removed to his home, where he now suffers.

Accompanied by Manager Walsh and Mike Lynch the baseball team left the city last evening for Johnstown where three games will be played. The team will only be on the road two weeks, returning on Saturday evening, July 19, from Wellsburg. On the following Thursday a game is scheduled to be played in West End park with the Kent, O. team.

Those taken as the team are: D. Emmerling and Farrell, catchers; Mailey, Winters, McShane and Patterson, pitchers; Maag, ss; Berry, 1b; Osborne, 2b; Davis, 3b; John Reckathorn, Reark, Webb and Trainer, the field.

SPORTS WERE CHASED

One Interested in a Cocking Main Ran From Beaver to Vanport.

Sports from this city who visited the cock fights about seven miles out from Beaver Falls Friday had an experience that they will not soon forget. While men who claimed to be Pittsburgh detectives were after two East Liverpool men, who were claimed to be some of the promoters of the fights, they escaped, one of them running all the way from Beaver to Vanport, where he got on the midnight train and came to this city. As it was several arrests were made, but strange to say it is stated that no person from Beaver Falls was arrested, although they were interested in the fight.

One man from Toronto who won $50 on the fights was arrested and paid a fine of $19.00, while various other

A SHOW DOWN

Mr. Phelps Enters the Contest There, Owing to the Endorsement of Organized Labor — What He Says to His Friends.

A showdown will now be necessary in the matter of votes in Columbiana county, as Hon. Wallace H. Phelps, of Alliance, has entered the contest there by paying in the assessment of $200 to Chairman McNutt, of the Columbiana committee, which he did under date of July 3. Hence a primary must be held, the date of which has been fixed as Saturday, July 12, from 12:30 to 6:30 p. m., Central Standard time. In speaking of the matter to a reporter Mr. Phelps said:

"The action taken by organized labor in endorsing my candidacy made this step necessary and it was also requested by a number of friends of Columbiana county lying near to my home town of Alliance. In fact, parts of our town, to all practical intents and purposes, lie across the line, in Columbiana and Mahoning counties, and those two counties have a common interest in the splendid city of Alliance, with Stark.

"I have but a few days in which to canvass both Columbiana and Stark counties. I shall not be able to see all my friends in these counties in that length of time, but I appeal to them everywhere to give me their cordial support, even though I should be unable to see them, assuring one and all that the same will be heartily appreciated."
